Grand Jury Revives Fools Rush In Case

BULLETIN

An authoritative report, although unconfirmed, said shortly after noon today that the Orange county grand jury had instructed District Attorney George Holden to file complaints against two unnamed persons in connection with the "writing, printing or distribution" of the political pamphlet, "Fools Rush In," prior to the last county election. Directly following the report, it was learned the district attorney made a mysterious and hurried trip to Los Angeles.

The county grand jury suddenly revived its investigation of the "Fools Rush In" pamphlet today, while the courthouse hummed with tension of intimations that momentous action was impending.

At least one witness was before the grand jury to testify, officials guarding his identity closely. It was learned, however, that he was a Los Angeles resident.

Unexpected

Today's resumption of the inquiry, coming unannounced, followed a period of quiescence on the part of the inquisitorial body, which finished its routine work and filed its routine report some weeks ago, but was not discharged from duty.

Delay in its discharge was at first explained by the statement that the grand jury was waiting to possibly amend its indictment of former District Attorney W. F. Menton, on charges of misuse of public funds. But amendment was not necessary, as Menton did not challenge the indictment.

Yet the grand jury lingered on. Rumors began to be heard that it was not yet through with the pamphlet case, which it had once dropped for insufficiency of evidence to justify action. Today's sudden reassembling of the grand jurors started the courthouse grapevine buzzing with reports that the pamphlet case was again under inquiry, and that decisive action by the grand jury was imminent.

Legislators Debate Dole

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 6.—(UP)—Senate conflict on the future of cash dole relief shared interest in the legislature today with dog racing, nepotism in the SRA, California's criminal syndicalism act, a proposed mediation board to settle labor disputes, and usury law.

Assemblyman Lee Bashore, R., Glendora, attacked relief from another angle with his scheduled request for a floor vote to withdraw from the rules committee his resolution asking an investigation of nepotism within state and federal relief agencies.

SANTA ANA'S HANG EFFIGY OF HITLER

There were no Nazi salutes in Santa Ana last night as the sinking sun marked the knell of parting day, for Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany and other points in Europe were hanged in effigy to the top of one of the city's highest towers, the Southern Counties Gas company supply tank at East Pine and Cedar streets.

Santa Ana police were first apprised of the hanging early this morning when S. W. Barker, 830 East Chestnut, spied the hanging figure at the tower's top, 103 feet from the ground, and thought a man had committed suicide there. Lieut. B. A. Hershey and Serg. N. C. Nelson rushed to the scene to investigate. They discovered a tall figure, dressed in blue work shirt, grey work trousers, socks and tennis shoes, swinging back and forth in the air. A brown paper sack with an image of Hitler's face inked on it, served as a head for the effigy. A Hitler mustache was distinctly visible.

The "body" of Der Fuehrer was stuffed with old clothes to resemble a human chest. Who hanged Hitler in effigy may forever remain a mystery. Police had no clues to work on. The dictator's "body" was cut down by Ed Hull, welder for the gas company, who climbed to the top of the tower. The "body" was removed to police headquarters.

SALLY COOPERATES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(UP)—Sally Rand's Nude Ranch at the World's Fair will not open until 3 p. m. tomorrow because of Good Friday, it was announced today.

Predict Better Orange Prices

Valencia orange growers were promised "better prices and improved returns" on the 1939 crop by the California Fruit Growers Exchange today.

Advertising Manager Russell E. Eller of the exchange made the prediction on the basis of a considerably smaller crop than last year.

The exchange will spend approximately $600,000 for advertising the crop in newspapers and other media, Eller said. The amount is figured on the basis of 5 cents a box for the 1,200,000 boxes of valencias expected to be harvested this year.

Eller said the exchange is also planning a summer campaign in newspaper Sunday supplements to promote lemon sales.

Mercury "Jumps" 34 Degrees Today

Mercury in the thermometer at the Knox Hardware store here where official temperatures are checked, just about bubbled as it rose from 56 degrees Fahrenheit at 6:45 a. m. today to 90 degrees at 1 p. m., a "jump" of 34 degrees in six and one-quarter hours.

Store employees reported the temperature rose from 56 at 6:45 a. m. to 75 at 7:30 a. m. The top recording this afternoon marked the warmest day of the year.

DRASTIC CHANGES IN COUNTY SRA PROGRAM BELIEVED NEAR

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today won its greatest victory to date in its militant fight for reduction of relief costs when H. Dewey Anderson, state relief administration director, offered to make drastic changes in the Orange county SRA program.

Through the activities of the Santa Ana chamber, State Relief Administrator Anderson offered to substitute a work program for SRA direct relief in Orange county. This program, if put into effect, will replace the present dole system and probably would preclude the establishment of so-called "production-for-use" projects which have previously been advocated by the state administration.

The Santa Ana chamber received a telegram from Chairman C. L. Preisker of the Santa Barbara county board of supervisors, with whom the chamber has been closely cooperating, bringing news of the important shift in relief policies.

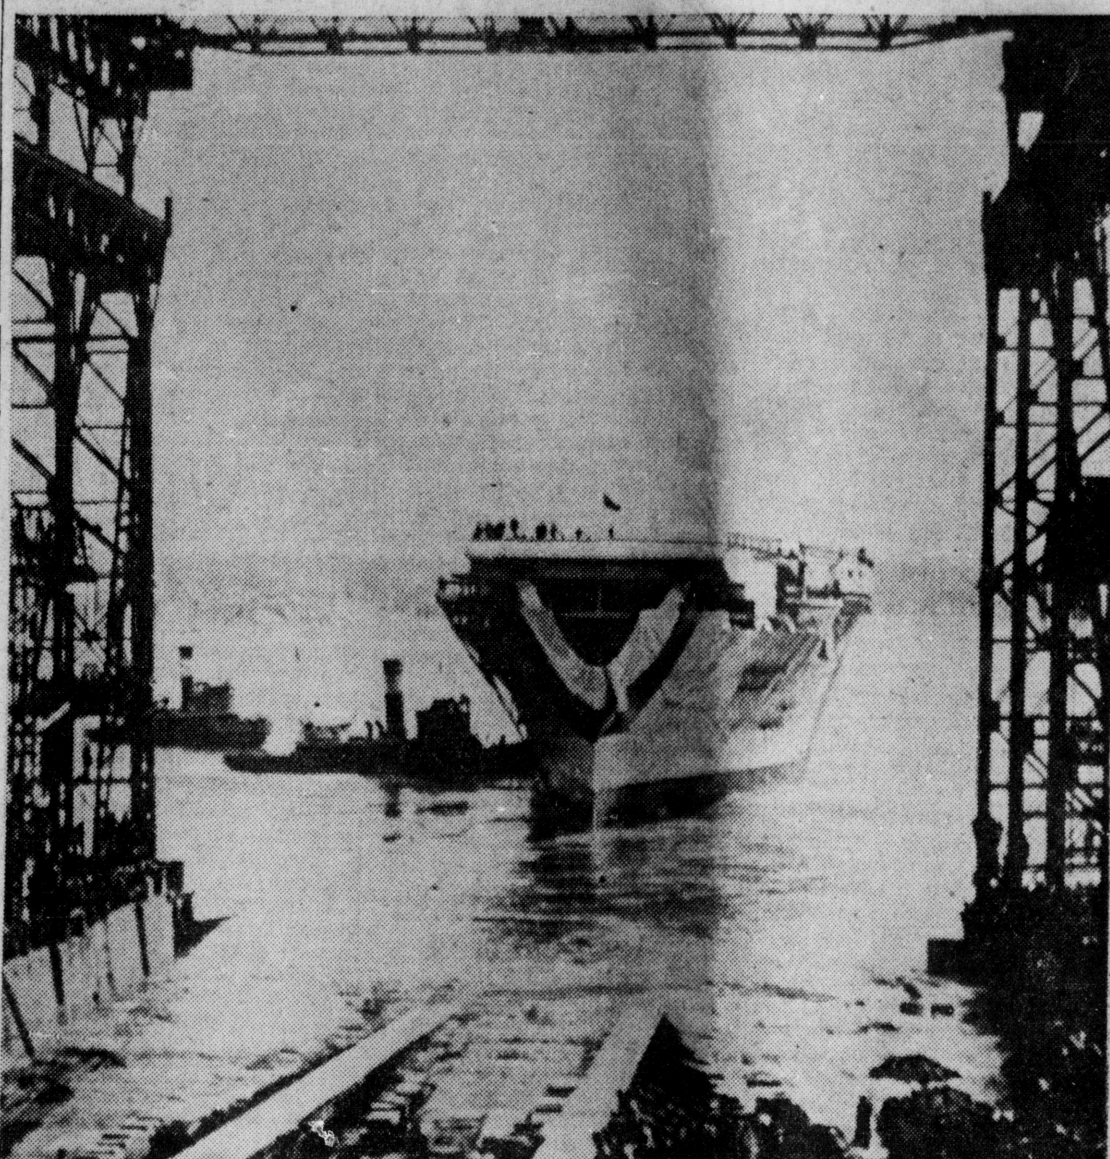

Preisker told the chamber of commerce that Dr. Anderson will be in Santa Ana Thursday morning, April 13, to confer on plans for the SRA work program. Arrangements now are being made for this important conference.

Using the work program in SRA instead of the dole system, the Santa Barbara county board of supervisors was able to cut the SRA load 50 per cent and also made a substantial reduction in their county welfare load. The program will mean a saving of $500,000 this year in Santa Barbara county.

Santa Ana chamber officials believe that the new movement is a prelude to securing the SRA work program for the entire state, and that if this is accomplished it can mean cutting the SRA monthly costs from $4,000,000 to $2,000,000 in this state.

Representatives of the Santa Ana chamber have been working closely with Chairman Preisker of the Santa Barbara county board of supervisors in seeking a solution to problems presented by skyrocketing relief costs. Preisker said Santa Barbara county found the solution in a work program rather than in continuing the dole system.

AMERICA'S ARMED MIGHT IS PARADED

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—The United States exhibited its armed might to its own people and to a war frightened world today—22 years after its entry into a war that was to end all wars.

By proclamation of President Roosevelt, the United States, pushing its greatest peacetime armament program in history, observed army day and the anniversary of the declaration of war against Germany.

The fighting forces of land, sea and air used the occasion to demonstrate their power in parades in more than 25 principal cities.

The war department began radio broadcasting urging ex-service men to join the "Modern Minute Men."

In the nation's capital, high military officials and army, naval and air attaches of foreign governments will review a three hour parade of 20,000 regular troops, crack divisions of the navy and marine corps, national guardsmen, veterans, and latest models of motorized and mechanized fighting units.

At Los Angeles, the army's fastest and most destructive planes will maneuver in a mass demonstration. At Fort Bragg, N. C., new rapid fire and heavy caliber anti-aircraft and coast defense guns will go into action for the first time before the public.

Other parades will be held at Boston, Chicago, Seattle, Portland, Ore., Miami, Pensacola, New Orleans, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Newport, R. I., Omaha, Atlantic City, San Antonio, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Milwaukee, and San Juan, P. R. Demonstrations of modern war weapons also will be given at San Francisco, Louisville, Ky., and Asheville, N. C.

Traffic Claims Three Lives

EUREKA, April 6.—(UP)—Three traffic deaths within 24 hours were recorded in Humboldt county today.

COUNTY'S BILL FOR RELIEF, $1,120,741

Orange county's relief bill ran up to $1,120,741.27 for the first nine months of the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30, Welfare Director Tom Douglas reported to the board of supervisors today.

The number of persons on relief at the present time is 40 less than at the start of the year, last July 1, the report stated, showing the present case load to be 3786. However, the aged pensioners, who make up the most of the load, increased in number from 2845 to 2936 in the nine months. They accounted for $756,099.66, or 69.64 per cent of the total expenditures.

Relief Cost High

Totals for relief benefits and administrative costs for the nine months reached $1,085,764.63, project expense amounted to $25,572.05, the unbudgeted reserve was $6000 and veterans' welfare totaled $3404.59.

Indigent relief costs followed pensions in size, amounting to $125,344.22 or 11.54 per cent of the total. Care of children, $87,647.89, represented 8.07 per cent; aid for the blind, $48,601.95, formed 4.48 per cent of the total.

Administration overhead was $58,070.91, or 6.27 per cent, making the net cost of relief $1,017,693.72, or 93.73 per cent. Outside income amounted to only $23,411.16, Douglas reported.

Pioneer Realtor Called By Death

Lyman A. Clappitt, 77, of North Hollywood, one of the first real estate operators in Orange county, passed away of a heart attack at Yorba yesterday. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Powell mortuary in Burbank, with the Winbiger mortuary of Santa Ana in charge.

Mr. Clappitt was connected with the Clappitt and Norton real estate firm here from 1889 to 1898. In 1923 he moved to Los Angeles. Mr. Clappitt, Ed Campbell, Tom Morris and Tom Slaven at one time were the champion foot racers of the United States. They competed at the World's fair in Chicago.

A resident of California 50 years, Mr. Clappitt is survived by a son, Harry E. Clappitt, of Yorba; a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Proctor, of North Hollywood, and a sister, Mrs. Nan Rankin, of Los Angeles. His wife, Mrs. Fannie A. Clappitt, passed away in Los Angeles last week.

DANISH ROYALTY IS WELCOMED IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Crown Prince Frederik of Denmark and Crown Princess Ingrid arrived at Los Angeles harbor today aboard the Motorship Canada and were greeted by a 21-gun salute from Fort MacArthur.

It was the royal couple's first visit to the United States. Army, navy and civil authorities welcomed their highnesses at the dock and the prince and princess then started on a scheduled round of activities that read like a timetable.

Because the Canada is a merchant vessel and not flying the Danish flag, U. S. war vessels anchored in Los Angeles harbor did not salute the prince and princess.

Couple Greeted Commander Ellis M. Sacharias, of the U. S. naval intelligence bureau; Col. Edward Stockton, commander of Fort MacArthur; Stanley Woodward, of the U. S. state department, and Richard Olson, son of California's governor, were at the dock and extended official welcome.

Approximately 8000 persons crowded around the dock to cheer the royal couple.

Five hundred soldiers from Fort MacArthur formed an escort from the dock to automobiles waiting to bring the Danish party to Los Angeles.

The dock was decorated with Danish and American flags. The Fort MacArthur band played the Danish and the American national anthems as the prince and princess disembarked.

Delayed By Fog

The Canada anchored in the outer harbor early this morning but was delayed in proceeding from quarantine to its dock because of a heavy fog.

A coast guard cutter escorted the Canada from quarantine to the dock.

Accompanied by military and civil officials, the Danish party proceeded at once to Los Angeles by motor. After a brief visit at the Town House, fashionable hotel, the prince and princess will receive the press and city officials of Los Angeles.

The royal suite was decorated lavishly with flowers, gifts to Princess Ingrid from the Vasa Order of America, Swedish organization. The princess is a Swede.

Princess Ingrid wore a dull red dress and a red hat trimmed in black. The crown prince wore a Danish navy commander's uniform.

While a chorus from the local Danish colony sang, their royal highnesses inspected the Fort MacArthur soldiers.

OFFERS REWARD

AUSTIN, Tex., April 6.—(UP)—A reward of $1000 for arrest and conviction of the slayer of Mrs. Weston G. Frome of Berkeley, Calif., and her daughter Nancy, was renewed today by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel. It first was offered a year ago when the women were found slain near Van Horn.

Albanians Warn Italy

ROME, April 6.—(UP)—King Zog of Albania was said authoritatively today to have warned Italy that any strengthening of the 1927 military alliance between the two countries must be accomplished without destroying the independence of Albania.

The new Albanian minister to Rome, Zes Sereggi, was understood to have told Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, that Albania is willing to concede most of Italy's demands but Italy must realize it would be impossible for the Albanian government and perhaps even the king to remain in power if the outward independence of Albania is lost.

Reports Unrest

Informed sources said Sereggi pointed out that the populace of Albania is already showing signs of unrest because of reports of Italian-Albanian negotiations, and it would be impossible to guarantee that they would remain calm in the face of any sweeping changes in the present status of Albania as an independent and sovereign country.

Shortly before the minister made his report, Premier Benito Mussolini made a sudden airplane visit of inspection to Jesi air field, 19 miles west of the Adriatic port of Ancona, while Europe waited for confirmation of reports that he had taken "steps" to protect Italy's interests in Albania.

Ordering a three-motored bombing plane made ready for him, Mussolini took the controls himself and flew from the Littoria airport here to Jesi.

There he inspected the pilots of

FEAR CRISIS AS ITALY SENDS SHIPS TO ALBANIA

LONDON, April 6.—(UP)—Great Britain announced a defensive military alliance with Poland today, and Italy sent warships to Albania as the great powers made their first big moves in a dramatic struggle for the dominant position.

Great Britain, leading the Democratic nations in a drive for a "Stop Hitler" bloc, and Italy, acting for the totalitarian "axis" powers, were racing for diplomatic supremacy.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons:

Conclude Pact

1—That an Italian cruiser and two smaller warships had arrived at Durazzo, Albania.

2—That Great Britain and Poland had agreed to conclude a full fledged defensive military alliance.

"The two countries," he said, "are prepared to enter a permanent and reciprocal agreement to replace the present temporary assurances given Poland."

This statement was made by agreement with the Polish government.

He said that he had received assurances from Col. Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister, that Poland would consider itself obliged to render assistance to Great Britain under the same conditions as those contained in temporary assurances given by Britain.

Protective Move

These assurances were that Britain would go to Poland's aid if Poland were subjected to any aggression against which she felt bound to defend herself.

Chamberlain emphasized that the permanent agreement was not directed against any other country.

"It is designed to assure Great Britain and Poland of mutual assistance in event of any threat, direct or indirect to the independence of either," he said.

Duce Surprises

As the Prime Minister made his statement, Premier Benito Mussolini, flying a three motored bombing plane, paid a sudden visit of inspection to an airport near the

ALBANIANS READY FOR FIGHT AS ITALY ASKS CONCESSIONS

TIRANA, Albania, April 6.—(UP)—Albanian Nationalists pledged themselves to fight for independence today and asserted that they would revolt if the government agreed to an Italian protectorate.

Italian civilians began a mass evacuation of Albania and King Zog, as commander in chief of the army, was reported rushing men and arms to the Adriatic coast in fear of an Italian invasion.

Seek Settlement Zog and members of the cabinet were still negotiating with Italian diplomatic representatives this morning in an effort to find a peaceful formula to satisfy Italy's desire for more extensive influence over the country.

Diplomatic quarters believed Italy might be satisfied with an agreement which would meet its demands but would leave Albania a semblance of independence.

But public opinion was getting angrier. Patriotic organizations, particularly Nationalist and student societies, began developing a national determination to resist.

Ready to Fight Leaders told the United Press privately that they would resist even if King Zog agreed to Italian terms which infringed on the national sovereignty.

One of them, whose name ob-

HITLER HINTS REPRISALS AS POLAND SHUNS NAZI DEMANDS

BERLIN, April 6.—(UP)—Nazi officials disclosed today that Poland had rejected a German proposal for settlement of eastern European controversies, including cession of Danzig to the Reich.

Hinting at diplomatic reprisals to go to London.

Nazi officials denied that the German proposals were in the form of an ultimatum to Poland. They were made through the German ambassador at Warsaw in conversations with Beck.

It was significant that the revelation was officially made immediately after the conclusion by Beck of the alliance with Great Britain, which some Nazi sources believed might interrupt the usual "Easter pause" in Nazi maneuvers.

Adolf Hitler, at Berchtesgaden, was understood to be surrounded

NOTED METHODIST LEADER IS CALLED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—(UP)—Methodists in all parts of the nation today sent condolences to the family of Dr. Dan B. Brummitt, 71, editor of the Christian Advocate, who died yesterday of a heart attack as he was completing plans for a national meeting of the denomination here.

Brummitt had worked long hours on a special edition of the Advocate which heralded the unifying conference of the denomination to be held here April 28. Yesterday at noon the final pages were printed and Brummitt began making arrangements for the housing of delegates.

He was in the lobby of a downtown hotel, preparing to inspect a suite of rooms when he collapsed. He died shortly afterwards.

Brummitt was a member of the board of trustees of Baker University in Baldwin, Kan., where he received his A. M. degree in 1898. Later after studying at Drew Theological Seminary in Madison, N. J., and at New York University, he returned to Baker to be conferred a doctor of divinity.

Eight Days Left To Pay State Tax

There are just eight more days, after today, to pay state income tax without penalty—if you owe any tax. That was the reminder sent out today by Russell Scott, collector with headquarters here now at the city hall.

Scott will be in room 205, second floor of the city hall, each day except Sunday, until noon of April 15, it was reported. He will be in the office from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day except Saturday and except during the lunch hour, 1 to 1:45 p.m. On Saturday the office is closed at noon.

GOES GOLD FISH GULPERS ONE BETTER; SWALLOWS 139 WORMS

CORVALLIS, Ore., April 6.—(UP)—Marion Salisbury, Oregon State College sophomore, inaugurated a new "twist" today to the current "gold fish gulping" rage by swallowing 139 angle worms.

To win a $5 bet, young Salisbury downed two handfuls of fat, well-washed garden variety angle worms in two gulps. He used water as a chaser.

Sponsors of a college rally dance barred him from attending when word of his "accomplishment" got around. Faculty members decried the stunt as undesirable publicity but indicated they planned no disciplinary action.

"Word Is Pure" Salisbury, exhibiting no outward signs of turmoil, gave a statement:

"The angel worm, extracted from clean earth, is pure, uncontaminated animal protein just as edible as any other protein known. Someone blazed the trail for tomatoes, which were once looked on as poison and scorned as fool."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., April 6.—(UP)—Tom Killefer, 22-year-old Stanford student from Hermosa Beach, Cal., collected a $1 wager from a fellow student today. Before a crowd of cheering students he bit off the head of a 12-inch water snake.

Lumber Firm Hit By NLRB Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(UP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered the Red River lumber company of Westwood to give back pay to three workers assertedly refused reemployment after a "purge" of Congress of Industrial Organizations members last July.

The board ordered reinstatement and back pay from November, 1937, for Valentine Cabana; awarded back pay for demotion to J. Franklin Vance, and ordered back pay from last July to Angelo Favero, allegedly refused reemployment after the "purge." Cases of other CIO men were disposed of in an out-of-court settlement last October.

Company spokesmen have indicated intention to appeal reinstatement orders issued by the NLRB. The lumber company's mill, largest in the west, resumed operations last Monday after a two-months shutdown caused by wage and jurisdiction disputes. An AFL union is now negotiating for wage increases for all mill employees.

Franco Launches Purge of Foes; 2342 Arrested

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, April 6.—(UP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's Nationalist police are proceeding rapidly with a purge of political foes, frontier dispatches reported today, but there were indications that a general amnesty would soon be announced for all except those guilty of civil crimes.

The number arrested so far was estimated at 2342, including 115 police officials. Among those arrested were said to be Pedro Guerrero Villapalos, charged with murdering Calvo Sotelo, the member of parliament whose assassination touched off the civil war. Guerrero also was accused of having been a member of the firing squad which executed Antonio Primo De Rivera, son of the late dictator and founder of the Falangists.

Intercounty War Causes Furore

EUREKA, April 6.—(UP)—Trinity county's declaration of an intercounty civil war brought hurriedly called meetings today of Humboldt county groups and sportsmen's organizations.

Twenty-four hours after Trinity county announced plans to boycott Humboldt county goods and ship their own products eastward instead of through the Port of Eureka, the Humboldt county board of trade met in special session.

The question of Humboldt county reprisals came up although Paul Mudgett, board president, expressed hope an amicable settlement of the dispute could be reached. Mudgett, who also is president of the Redwood Empire Association, said all Humboldt county wants is fair treatment for sportsmen during the fishing season.

Jobless Man Enjoys Trip

ALBANY, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—Still jobless but pleased at having accomplished a trip he often had dreamed about, Jacob Schochenmaier rested today at his camp on Fleming Point.

While working at odd jobs in and near Auburn, Schochenmaier built a rowboat which he patched with tin and propelled with homemade oars.

In search of a steady job he went to Redding and from there rowed and drifted down the Sacramento river to San Francisco bay. It took him nine days in all but was a fine trip, he said.

Albany officials told him he could stay on Fleming Point while continuing his search for a job but that he would have to move camp soon.

Money Order Gets Endorsement

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—A woman walked into the post office today and presented a postal money order for cashing. The clerk looked at the money order and found it hadn't been endorsed.

"Please go over to that desk and endorse this," he said.

The woman did, and returned to the clerk's window.

He looked at the back of the money order.

METAL GROUP HELD DANGER TO SOCIETY

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—The Senate civil liberties committee, in a report on its investigation of "violation of free speech and rights of labor," charged today that the National Metal Trades Association "creates danger to orderly government."

The association, an organization of employers in the metal trades industry, maintains headquarters in Chicago.

"Hostile To Principle" Both members of the committee, Chairman Robert M. La Follette, Prog. Wis., and Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, signed the report. It accused the association of adopting an open shop policy "hostile to the principle of collective bargaining" and resulting in "the infringement of civil liberties and the statutory rights of labor to associate freely."

"When large groups of individuals and economic interests band together to achieve a purpose that is in conflict with the national policy duly enacted by the representatives of the people, then the congress must take cognizance of the dangers to orderly government," the report said.

Army Official Scoffs At Spies

FT. HUACHUCA, Ariz., April 6.—(UP)—Col. Lee D. Davis, commander of the only military post guarding the Arizona border, today scoffed at "spy scares" and invited visitors to "take all the pictures you want" of equipment and maneuvers of the post's army day celebration.

"We're not afraid of spy scares anymore," Colonel Davis said.

"I invite you to take all the pictures you want." High-powered infantry weapons, a new type of civilian gas mask, a new army mask, the modern, improved 30-caliber automatic rifle, mountain guns and new mortars were openly demonstrated.

NAB COUNTERFEITERS PRESCOTT, Ariz., April 6.—(UP)—Federal agents today filed charges against Harry and Lillian Johnson, Kansas City, Kan., for possession of counterfeit coins. Both were jailed in lieu of $1500 bond.

They assertedly made bogus dollars and 50-cent pieces from silver extracted from a mine near here.

The leather-splitting machine was invented by Samuel Parker, of Newburyport, Mass., in 1809.

Oakland Youths Hurt In Crash

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—Two Oakland youths who had just started out on a week's vacation were treated here today for minor injuries after their car missed a curve on the Skyline Boulevard near Boulder creek and plunged down a 30-foot embankment.

Cebert Capwell, 18, Oakland, suffered bruises and a cut knee.

Declares Spouse Tortured Him

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Noel Edgar Lewis today filed a cross-complaint to his wife's suit for divorce, alleging Lillian Lewis, the wife, tortured him by burning his feet with a hot poker.

Lewis listed his occupation as "zoologist," but his wife's affidavit said he was a "medicine man" with a snake pit at a beach concession.

Spectacular Fire And Explosion Destroys Truck In Canyon

Motorists in Santa Ana canyon were witnesses to a spectacular fire on the Sulphur Slide detour in Santa Ana canyon at 6:30 o'clock last night, when a truck loaded with lumber was destroyed in a furious blaze. The driver, Hunter E. Turnage, 35, of 3210 Chamourne street, San Diego, escaped injury. Flames shot out in all directions when the gasoline tanks exploded.

Turnage was unable to extinguish the fire and a call was dispatched for the state fire truck in Orange. According to Joe Scherman, state forest ranger, it is believed the fire started from a short in the motor.

The truck was owned by the Dennis Construction company. The investigation for the highway patrol was handled by Officers Lloyd Groover and Vernon Barnhill.

CHURCH ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Electing officers and hearing annual reports, the congregation of the United Presbyterian church held its yearly meeting last evening, following a potluck supper at the church.

Don Hillyard was elected chairman for the ensuing year, with Johanna Eilers as clerk; J. Arthur Anderson, treasurer; T. Gray Johnston, head usher; Don Hillyard, assistant usher; E. J. McFadden and Mary Smart, trustees, and Ida Millen, correspondent.

Financial Report

Don Hillyard presided over the meeting, at which encouraging reports on affairs of the church were received. Benjamin Heemstra, retiring as treasurer after serving six years, reported that the largest amount of money passed through his hands during the last year of any year he served.

The congregation gave him an unanimous vote of appreciation, also for the service of the pastor, Dr. Albert E. Kelly, and Mrs. Kelly.

Scott Torrance was chairman of arrangements for the potluck supper, assisted by Mrs. Cora Torrance, Mrs. David McBurney and Mrs. Jennie Anderson.

Marguerite Cervantes

BELLE OF 80'S TAKEN BY DEATH

The Southland today mourned the death of Mrs. Marguerite Cervantes, a belle of former days in California and a native daughter of the state. Mrs. Cervantes passed away yesterday at the Felton Rest Home in Orange, following a long illness.

She was born in Santa Barbara in June, 1876, and was married in 1892 to Theo. G. Cervantes, first constable of Orange township, one of the best known peace officers in the state who before his death in 1932, was sergeant of detectives in Long Beach.

Ten Children Survive
Mrs. Cervantes leaves 10 children, all well known here. They are, Mrs. George Thompson, Oceanside; Mrs. Orville M. Knight, Bakersfield; Miguel Cervantes, Westminster; Mrs. Robert Benson, San Pedro; Mrs. Glenn Shoemaker, Orange; Thomas Cervantes, Santa Monica; Mrs. Linda Newton, Mrs. L. D. Gist, A. A. Cervantes and Mrs. William Lan Franco of Orange, 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Gillogly chapel, Orange, with interment in Fairhaven. Services are to be confined to the immediate family.

Hubert Van Scoy's Father Called

Hubert Van Scoy's father passed away at Ames, Iowa, Monday, according to a report to sheriff's officers here today. The authorities asked The Register to publish the report in an effort to locate the younger Van Scoy, living somewhere in Southern California, possibly in Orange county.

Ames officers sent a Morse code radiogram message to Cleveland, Ohio and Cleveland authorities who have a Morse code sending station, relayed the message to the Orange county sheriff's office, only police radio code station on the Pacific coast. The younger Van Scoy is asked to contact the Duckworth funeral parlor at Ames, Iowa.

Gas Company Sees Enigma Solution

So far as the Southern Counties Gas company is concerned, the demand made recently by the Appliance Dealers association of Orange county that the gas company refrain from retail sales "will be arranged in a manner satisfactory to all concerned, and in such a manner that consumers of the company will be fully protected," Norman R. McKee, vice-president in charge of sales in the Los Angeles office said today.

The proposal of the Orange county organization is under consideration and an answer to the proposal will be made within a few weeks," McKee said. "Our first consideration must naturally be for the consumer and it is to serve these ends that careful consideration is being given to the proposal."

The brown trout was brought to the United States from Germany.

FATAL MISHAP DRIVER HELD

In a crowded courtroom, Harry Jackson, 21, of Pasadena, charged with negligent homicide, felony drunk driving and hit-run driving, today was held to answer to superior court on all three counts by Justice Howard C. Cameron in Santa Ana justice court while Eugene Cole, 21, of Pasadena, charged with hit-run driving in connection with the same accident, was freed on grounds of insufficient evidence.

The car, driven by Jackson last Saturday night, assertedly killed Edwin Frommer, 17-year-old San Diego boy while Frommer and his friend, Joe Delgado, 19, San Diego, were fixing a tire near Bolsa Chico Gun club, Coast highway. Bail for Jackson was fixed at $10,000.

Tells of Plea
Robert Ransom, 20, Pasadena, who was riding with Jackson, and who yesterday assertedly refused to testify at a coroner's inquest, testified today that he asked Jackson before the accident to let him drive because Jackson was intoxicated but Jackson refused.

Cortez Freeman, 19, student at Los Angeles City college, who was with Frommer and Delgado, testified she was sitting in the Frommer car when the accident occurred, had been turning on the car lights at the approach of all vehicles, including the Jackson car.

It was testified that after Jackson and his three companions, including Marc Pursell, 21, Pasadena, who was fined $25 for intoxication following the accident, left the accident scene, they stopped to repair a tire. Jackson was almost "out," according to Cole, so Cole drove from there on. "We were on our way to report the accident to police when arrested," Cole said. Mrs. Albert Cott, Los Angeles, testified she was stopped by Frommer just before the accident and loaned him a tire pump while she waited in her car parked just in front of the Frommer vehicle. She said she also summoned an ambulance. Deputy District Atty. Martell Thompson represented the prosecution, Atty. Clarence Sprague, Jackson.

VALUE STEGELMAN ESTATE
Inventory and appraisal filed today in superior court by James B. Utt, state appraiser, fixed a value of $9632.13 upon the estate of the late Mrs. Laura Stegelman, of Orange, who died January 27. Appraiser Howard B. Irwin valued the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Kurrel of Orange, whose death took place February 13, at $2586.

WE WEIGH AND MEASURE EVERY SINGLE EGG!

By Julia Lee Wright
Director, Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

No matter how you like your eggs—soft-boiled to your favorite split second, fried with your morning bacon, scrambled soft and creamy—one thing is certain. You want 'em fresh! What's more, you want 'em good eating.

For everyday eating and cooking, I recommend our "Breakfast Gem" eggs. Every one's a fresh egg—not storage. They're what we call Extras—extra fine quality, fresh and fine flavored.

But if and when you want something super-special in quality, you'll find our "Cream of the Crop" eggs are it.

Notice the clean white shells of these Safeway eggs. Notice, too, their uniform size. In a carton of large eggs you'll find no small or medium size ones lurking among the big fellows. Every single egg is weighed and measured at our modern new plant!

LINWOOD TAFT'S PLAY TO BE STAGED IN CHURCH SUNDAY

Following the great themes of Passion Week, the betrayal, the crucifixion and the resurrection, Linwood Taft's play, "He Is The Son of God," will be presented by the Sunday school of the First Christian church on Easter Sunday evening, under the direction of Mrs. John Geiger.

With an excellent cast assembled and special attention given to costuming and lighting effects; also an imposing program of special Easter music arranged by the choir, under Director G. Willard Bassett, the performance is expected to be memorable.

Personality of Jesus
The four-act play portrays Jerusalem during Holy Week, and according to Mrs. Geiger, "is a beautiful and moving religious play, showing the effect of the personality and deeds of Jesus upon an orthodox Jewish woman."

Mrs. Geiger is assisted in the direction by Mrs. Clifford Patrick, who also has charge of costuming. The cast includes Mrs. George Gould, as "Judith, the blind Jewess"; Mrs. Gerald Bash, as "Esau"; Mrs. Edna, as "Sarah, a bond-servant"; Alan Howell, as "Elhanan, son of Judith"; Charles Hill, as "Cleon, his friend"; Lewis Williams as "the rich Israelite."

Varied Musical Program
Leo Irwin will be stage manager, assisted by John Boose. John Geiger has charge of the special scenery and lighting effects. Frank Pierce, popular baritone, formerly director of the choir, and now head of the state farm bureau music organization, will sing "The Holy City" as a feature of the musical program, which also includes the anthems, "The King of Love, My Shepherd Is," "Hail, King of the Jews," and "The Temple Veil Is Rent." Mrs. R. S. Briggs is accompanist.

The program starts at 7:30 p. m. in the newly refinished church auditorium.

SUE TO FORECLOSE
Suit was filed by the county of Orange in superior court today, to foreclose a $55 lien against the Heffern Oil company property at Fullerton, to cover pest-control work done by the county agricultural department on the property. A penalty of $8.55 was included.

TRANSIENT JAILED
Joe Turner, 18, transient, was jailed here last night on a vagrancy charge following his arrest by Deputy Constable Carl Strochein at San Juan Capistrano.

URGES REJECTION OF BILL FOR PARK

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—Rep. Alfred J. Elliott, D., Calif., today urged the house public lands committee to reject the bill providing for establishment of the John Muir-King's Canyon National Park in California.

Elliott told the committee that 85 per cent of the people living in the San Joaquin valley, where the proposed park is located, and 65 per cent of the residents of the entire state were opposed to the bill, sponsored by Rep. Bertrand W. Gearhart, R., Calif.

Cites Public Use
He asserted that one of the major arguments in support of the establishing the proposed national park was to "save our big trees," but that actually the giant sequoias were 25 or 30 miles away from the boundaries of the proposed park.

"Wouldn't the people," asked Rep. Compton I. White, D., Idaho, "get better and more use out of the land if it is administered by the forestry service, as it is now, than if it was administered by the park service?"

"Absolutely," Elliott replied. Elliott said he was in favor of developing the land's potential water use and irrigation facilities, but that he felt such development should be carried on while the land remains in its present status.

Adagio Dancers Entertain Clubs

Three entertainers provided the program for members of the Santa Ana Breakfast club meeting this morning at the Main cafeteria.

First to be presented were Jarold and Betty Phares, professional adagio dancers, from Seal Beach. An outstanding performance on the piano by William Ruoff, pupil of Miss Lenora Tompkins, attracted the applause of the membership. Ruoff's skill has won for him first place in the Los Angeles Elsteds; he has recently played in three Pasadena recitals and is regarded as one of the promising pianists of Southern California.

Hunter Leach presented the entertainers and announced that Henry Beisser will be in charge of the program for next week. President Hale Barker presented certificates of membership to Judge J. G. Mitchell, Guy J. Gilbert, Frank L. Besser, Dr. J. D. Murray, J. R. Connell and Henry I. Beisser.

It is the opinion of most automobile experts that the average life of an automobile is eight years—but with proper care, that age could be extended to 10 years. The most common fault is failure to change the oil often enough.

Annual Easter Egg Hunt Prizes Await Youngsters

More than $100 in prizes await the lucky youngsters of Santa Ana and Orange county who find the prize-winning eggs in the annual Easter-egg hunt being sponsored by Rotary Scout Troop 24 and The Santa Ana Register at the Municipal Bowl Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

This was the calculation of Franklin P. Nickey, Jr., scoutmaster of the troop today as he counted the dollar bills, chocolate eggs, baseball gloves, and various other prizes contributed by more than 60 Santa Ana merchants. The Easter egg hunt is open to all children between the ages of one and 15, Nickey said. There will be divisions by age and boys and girls will be separated into special competitions.

Peace Officers Urged To Enlist Aid Of Children To Curb Crime

Declaring that law observance must be bred into the children of the United States if crime is to be reduced, Judge Thomas White, associate justice of the district court of appeals, addressed approximately 200 members of the Orange County Peace Officers' association and guests at the Elks clubhouse in Anaheim last night.

Stressing the importance of character building clubs, Judge White declared that few inmates of San Quentin ever belonged to character building groups. Moral education, he said, is as important if not more so than intellectual education.

Points To Cost Rise

Declaring that crime is the principal problem confronting the United States, he said that one citizen out of every 84 was the victim of some kind of serious crime last year. The crime cost last year was $15,000,000, approximately 400 per cent more than the cost of education, Judge White said.

In closing his address, Judge White praised the work of the peace officers' association and similar groups for their activities. He was introduced by Judge J. Freeman, of Riverside.

A musical program was presented by three musicians, the Misses Evelyn Bowman and Ruth Perry, violinists, and Miss Dorothy Pratt, pianist. Dan Adams, president of the association, presided, and James S. Bouldin, Anaheim chief of police, was host.

Surgery May Save Her Life

A rare feat of surgery in a San Francisco hospital may save the life of Baby Juanita Mina Carey, Medford, Oregon child born April 1, shown here with Nurse Wilma Halsey. The babe was born with her bladder appended to the outside of the abdomen. Mother of the child, Mrs. Wilma Carey, now in Portland, said that she would consent to an operation if there was any chance of saving the baby's life.

Imaginary Tour Being Planned

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 6.—Mrs. L. Hinshaw will entertain the members of the Huntington Beach Women's club at the April luncheon meeting of the club as they travel on an imaginary tour through France next Tuesday.

The Boys' Glee club of the local high school will sing a group of songs under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Harlow, head of the music department of the school. Hostesses for the day will be Mmes. Willis H. Warner, Arthur M. Anderson, Emil Kettler, S. H. White, A. Q. Frost and B. W. Hardy.

MARKET BUILDING TO COST $15,000

Contract to erect a one-story, brick and concrete market building at 805 North Main street was awarded today to William Rohrbacher, of Santa Ana. The structure will cost approximately $15,000 and is scheduled to be completed by June 15.

The building, to be occupied by a Safeway market, will be erected by Miss Edna Battin, of Colton. The adjoining lot on the south, owned by the Irvine company, will be used for parking purposes.

The market will have a closed front and will be air conditioned. Architect Fay Spangler, who prepared the plans, will supervise the building work.

Swales Resigns Post To Operate Yacht Basin

Leonard G. Swales, well known Santa Ana mariner, announced that he had resigned as port captain of the Newport Harbor Yacht club effective May 1, and had purchased the yacht basin at Coast Boulevard and Bayshore bridge from L. V. Johnson of Long Beach. Swales, who was one of five men who organized the Newport Harbor Yacht club more than 20 years ago, has been port captain for the last seven years and has been a resident of Santa Ana for more than a quarter of a century.

The Bayshore Yacht Anchorage will be the name of the basin under Swales' management and he plans to double the slips in order to take care of from 60 to 65 boats. At the present time approximately 40 boats are anchored. Swales has a bay frontage of 600 feet and declares that he will limit the number of boats he will anchor in order that there will be the minimum of confusion. Improvements will be put in at once and he declares every effort will be made to make the anchorage one of the best in the harbor.

W. C. Mauerhan Hurt In Narrow Escape from Death

William C. Mauerhan, Katella rancher and secretary and director of the Orange County Water district, had a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon when his left leg became caught in the bulldozer being used with a tractor by the water district in Santa Ana river bed.

The tractor had come to a stop on a slight incline and as Mauerhan started to climb on the bulldozer the tractor started moving backwards, throwing Mauerhan into the machinery, his leg being pinned between the bulldozer brace and tread. He was pinned in the machine for half an hour

HEARING ON P. E. SLATED FOR TODAY

The hearing before the state railroad commission to determine whether or not the Pacific Electric railway service between Santa Ana and Los Angeles should be continued was scheduled to be held at the state building in Los Angeles this morning, according to commission officials. Scheduled before workmen could release him.

The accident happened near the Yorba bridge. Mauerhan was taken to the office of Dr. W. H. Brunemeier in Placentia and later removed to his ranch home.

for yesterday morning, then rescheduled for yesterday afternoon, the hearing was delayed because of other business handled by the commission. A delegation from Orange county attended the meeting.

The commission was scheduled to hear a report by Arthur C. Jenkins, special engineer assigned by the commission a year ago to study the condition and needs of the entire Pacific Electric system. Jenkins said he planned to make a report regarding the Santa Ana-Los Angeles line. The delegation which went to the hearing this morning was composed of Santa Anans and residents along the Santa Ana-Los Angeles branch of the Pacific Electric.

It has been estimated that only one man in 20 reaches a height of six feet or over.

Fear Crisis As Italy Threatens

Chamberlain said that the British agreement with Poland was similar to the French-Polish alliance.

Thus three nations were brought into the British "Stop Hitler" bloc intended to prevent aggression on the continent.

But Chamberlain added that the government intended to proceed with consultations already under way with other governments.

It was believed that these other governments included Rumania, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Greece and perhaps Bulgaria.

Then he added that the new agreement with Poland would not prevent either nation from making agreements with other countries for consolidation of peace.

May Negotiate
This was taken to mean that Britain held herself free to seize any opportunity for negotiations with Germany or Italy, the "axis" powers.

As regards Albania, Chamberlain said that Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, had told the Earl of Perth, British ambassador at Rome, that difficulties had arisen during Italian-Albanian negotiations. The negotiations, he said, arose from a proposal by King Zog I of Albania to strengthen the Italian-Albanian treaty.

Count Ciano told Lord Perth, Chamberlain said, that Italy's interests in Albania had been threatened.

Watch Developments
Albania denied to Great Britain, Chamberlain added, that she had accepted any Italian conditions which infringed her sovereignty.

The British government, Chamberlain added, was closely watching Albanian developments.

Rumania was next on Great Britain's "Stop Hitler" list.

Britain, France and Poland were expected to start joint general staff talks.

That Russia remained a silent partner in negotiations, and was a potential ally in event of a general war, was made clear by Chamberlain's assurance in answer to a question in Commons that Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, would maintain close contact with Ivan Maisky, Russian ambassador.

Albania Ready To Fight Invasion

But they ridiculed reports that Albania's acceptance of Italian military occupation, or a formal Italian protectorate, had even been mentioned.

But it was evident that something had gone wrong.

Even before the spokesman's statement, numerous Italian businessmen began chartering airplanes and reserving steamship passages to evacuate their families. During the night the Italian proprietor of the city's leading hotel closed the establishment and left with his staff for the coast.

It was reported persistently that Zog had ordered extensive military precautions along the coast.

Populace Tense
People were tense and nervous. Small detachments of soldiers patrolled the streets.

Then came reports today that King Zog was rushing men and munitions to Valona, the strong point on the coast, and the closest port to Italy, 60 miles across the Adriatic.

Valona is Italy's most important sphere of influence in Albania. It is the oil field center and, being so close to Italy, is vital in any plan to bottle up the Adriatic.

Albania's little army numbers only about 33,500 men, but every able man is liable for service.

Italy occupied the country after the World War and refused to get out. In June 1920, the Albanians rose against them and drove them into Valona. Then the Italians left.

Complimented On Birthday

WESTMINSTER, April 6.—Complimenting Chester Heil of Tustin who was observing a birthday anniversary, Miss Dorothy Mayberry was hostess at her home at an evening party. The young people were entertained with card games and when refreshments were served a lovely anniversary cake was presented together with many gifts to the honoree. Ice cream and candies were served with the cake.

Those included in the party were the honor guest, Chester Heil, Miss Dorothy Heil, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. P. Heil of Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Moore, Mr.

the Royal Air Force base and bombing and pursuit planes were lined up awaiting him.

Afterward he visited the town of Jesi and, after driving through the streets in an open car, to the enthusiastic cheers of the people, he flew back to Rome and to his office at the Venice palace.

It was noted that the air field is northeast of Rome, and not in the direction of Albania. Ancona is 90 miles west of the Yugoslav coast.

War Chiefs Confer

Albanian chiefs here, commenting on an announcement at London that an Italian cruiser and two smaller warships had arrived at Durazzo, Albania, said that they attached no specific importance to the report. They said that Italian naval units anchored at Durazzo as a routine matter and that it would be almost unusual if none was in the vicinity.

As Mussolini made his surprise flight, war chiefs of the Italian and German high commands entered the second day of a conference in the frontier area.

Reports of secret troop movements continued as Gen. Alberto Pariana, Italian under secretary of war and chief of army staff, and Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command of the German armed forces, continued their conference at Innsbruck, Austria, 20 miles from the Brenner pass, the Italian-German frontier.

JUGOSLAV ARMY HEADS CONFERENCE

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 6.—(UP)—Reports spread today that all Yugoslav army commanders had been ordered to Belgrade for consultation regarding Italy's demands on Albania.

It was said that divisional commanders also might be summoned to join in a general discussion as part of which army chiefs would give their opinion of the situation which might arise if Italy occupied Albania.

Threatens Action
Italy notified the government, it was announced, that it intended to take measures "to protect its interests in Albania."

The Italian attitude toward Albania was conveyed to the Yugoslav government by Carlo Galli, the Fascist ambassador to Turkey, who is in Belgrade on a special mission.

He informed the government that if Albania does not satisfactorily meet Italian demands "in a reasonable time," Italy will undertake energetic measures to insure her interests in Albania.

As soon as the notification was received, it was learned, Premier Dragisa Svetkovich and Gen. Milutin Nedich, war minister, were summoned to the royal palace for a conference with Prince Paul, head of the regency which governs for King Peter.

Cabinet Meets
An emergency cabinet meeting was called immediately afterward.

The official interpretation of the notification was that Italy intended to establish a protectorate over the little mountain kingdom.

It was added, however, that there was no official information regarding protectorate plans and that Italy had kept the Yugoslav government informed of its negotiations with Albania.

The belief was expressed that Italy might make military demonstrations such as troop concentrations to back up demands for economic and financial concessions.

ah said the law now strengthens the position of such countries as Japan at the expense of China.

2. Rep. Louis Ludlow, D., Ind., renewed his drive for a constitutional amendment requiring a national referendum before America could enter a foreign war. He said he has obtained more than 20 names on a petition to force his resolution out of the House judiciary committee. A similar resolution is pending in the Senate.

Hull Angered
3. Baruch urged the United States not to fight other nation's battles and said we do not yet need any common front with Great Britain and France. However, he suggested that the United States not press its war debt claims against the European democracies in the present crisis.

Hull was angered by a statement by Nye, who accused the state department of "window dressing" in making it appear that the Japanese puppet state of Manchukuo is discriminating against American trade. Nye said the state department has disregarded or overlooked the fact that American exports to Manchukuo jumped to $17,000,000 last year.

Hull said the increase was abnormal and consisted primarily of war supplies and munitions which Japan was accumulating in Manchuria. He reiterated that American business and businessmen are being discriminated against by the Manchukuoan regime.

Name President Of University

HERMOSILLO, Sonora, Mex., April 6.—(UP)—Jose Vasconcelos, eminent Spanish American educator, was appointed today as president of the new University of Sonora, established by the state legislature of Gov. Roman Yocupicio.

Vasconcelos, who had been rumored a candidate for the presidency of Mexico, was named by the university's board of trustees. Governor Yocupicio declared the new school the "crowning achievement of his administration which ends in September. More than $60,000 was subscribed by business and professional men in Sonora for the university.

Hitler Hints Reprisals

by his highest political advisers and to be awaiting a further report from his closest military adviser, Col. Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, supreme commander of German armed forces, who is conferring with Italian military chiefs at Innsbruck.

"The dice have fallen," one official said in regard to the new Polish-British defense treaty. Poland should not forget that the Polish-German anti-war treaty rests on mutual cooperation."

With Adolf Hitler understood to have received a personal message from Italian Premier Benito Mussolini regarding plans to counteract encirclement of Rome-Berlin partnership, official circles indicated that the Nazis next moves might include:

May Scrap Pact
1.—Denunciation of the British-German naval pact limiting the Reich to 35 per cent of British naval power.

2.—Denunciation of the Polish-German non-aggression treaty which runs until 1944.

3.—Formal adherence of Nationalist Spain to the totalitarian anti-Communist alliance.

4.—Possible transformation of the anti-Communist pact into a formal military alliance.

"It is dangerous to threaten a Fuehrer state if you are not a Fuehrer state yourself," one Nazi official said in reference to the Italian-German moves to counteract fears of encirclement.

Reprisals Loom
The discussion of reprisals against both Britain and Poland centered on diplomatic moves for the present but it was not forgotten that the general staff chiefs of both the Reich and Italy were conferring at Innsbruck. In this connection Nazis pointed out that there had been frequent indications that the anti-Communist alliance might be turned into a strong military pact in the near future.

German officials obviously were surprised as well as angered by Poland's action in completing the treaty with Britain. As late as last night, many officials had predicted that Poland would agree only to vague phraseology in the pact with Britain to avoid any suggestion of aiding in the encirclement of Germany. The final outcome, however, was a blow to Nazis.

"Mere Gesture"
In regard to the British-German naval treaty, it was pointed out in neutral diplomatic circles that Nazi denunciation of the pact would be only a gesture at the moment because Hitler's navy is now but 21 per cent of the British strength, which is rapidly increasing under Britain's big building program.

Only in the submarine category, on which the Nazis first concentrated in rebuilding their navy, would the German strength present a menace to British sea power.

Legislators War On Relief Dole

Labor forces anxiously watched senate handling of a bill by George Biggar, R., Covelo, to create a mediations commission to settle labor disputes. Biggar's bill was set for a special order of business immediately following a vote on the SRA resolution.

Fight Looms
Stiff opposition was anticipated for a bill legalizing pari-mutuel betting on dog racing, scheduled for hearing tonight before the senate governmental efficiency committee.

A bill to repeal the 20-year-old criminal syndicalism law was sent to the assembly floor by the judiciary committee without recommendation.

The committee vote was 8 to 6. Paul Richie, D., San Diego, who sponsored the repeal bill, did not seek a "do pass" recommendation, explaining he believed the question was one to be settled on the floor of the assembly.

Representatives of labor unions and liberal groups contended the law was the "result of wartime hysteria" and violates constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press.

Law Outdated
They declared the only purpose of the act was to prevent labor organization, and pointed to repeal of similar laws by the legislatures of Oregon and Washington in 1937.

Opposition was presented chiefly by members of farmer organizations, the American Legion and civic groups. They argued that the law does not stand in the way of peaceful labor organization.

Voting to report the bill were Bennett, Collins, Dills, Massion, O'Day, Richie, Rosenthal and Tenney. Against were Cronin, Houser, Johnson, Lyon, Salsman and Waters.

Present besides the three honorees and the three hosts were Dorothy Turner and Eugene Gill. Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served during the social evening.

A Bunco party for Bufo Foster was given in the Ray Fox home.

Capt. W. C. "Bill" Fox Honored At Surprise Party

Completely surprising Capt. William C. "Bill" Fox of the Santa Ana fire department last night, members of the fire department, their wives and girl friends, city councilmen and their wives and Superior Court Judge Franklin G. West honored him with a banquet marking the completion of 20 years' service for the department. Eighty-five persons were in attendance.

Captain Fox, who was presented with gold ring which bears his rating, a miniature badge and diamond, was directed by Assistant Chief John Garthe, general chairman for the affair, to go on duty last night at No. 4 fire station, 625 Cypress avenue, to take the place of Capt. Dunny Wilson. Captain Fox was advised that "Wilson was ill."

Ring Is Presented
Carrying his lunch, Captain Fox walked into the station at 6:30 to be greeted by the assembly. Captain Fox, who completed 20 years' service April 1, was presented the ring by Councilman William Penn, fire commissioner. Mayor Fred C. Rowland, master-of-ceremonies, was introduced by Fire Chief John Luxembourg. All of the councilmen except Councilman Joe P. Smith, who could not attend, made brief talks, as did Chief Luxembourg. Judge West, featured guest speaker, presented an amusing talk about firemen, their duties and personal lives.

A ham dinner was served by the firemen, the cooking being in charge of Engineer Dave Smith, Capt. Henry Reed and Dunny Wilson and Auto Fireman Coley Hargett. Fireman Paul Reynolds was in charge of decorations; Fire Marshal Frank Corey and Hoseman Billy Kintz, in charge of arranging for tableware, and Capt. Pete Hansen, serving. The reception committee was composed of Chief Luxembourg and Assistant Chief Elmer Gates. Chief Luxembourg and Alarm Operator Sid Kimball were similarly honored with 20-year-service rings last year.

At $6.25 a Ton, He Now Owns 20 Tons of Bridge

T. F. Morgan, with a bid of $6.25 per ton, today was the owner of approximately 20 tons of scrap metal, left over from construction of the new Santa Fe bridge in Santa Ana canyon.

In searching for a market for the resale of the scrap, he could look east, but not to the far east. The county supervisors, in calling for bids on the scrap some time ago, stipulated that it could not be shipped to Japan, where it might become involved in another scrap.

The county, having paid for the Santa Fe bridge, was entitled to sell the surplus scrap material.

Mrs. Plumer Dies In Costa Mesa

Mrs. Emily Plumer, a widow, died at the home of Miss Alice C. Plumer, a relative, at 536 Santa Ana avenue, Costa Mesa, today after an illness lasting several weeks.

Born in Albany, New York, Mrs. Plumer had been a resident of California for the past 18 years, 10 of which were spent in Costa Mesa. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Irma Horne, Redding, Calif., and a nephew, Arthur Horne, North Platte, Neb.

Funeral announcement will be made later from Winbiger mortuary.

Coroner's deputies said the victims were W. D. Fuller, 40, and Charles Mainwaring, 43, both of Visalia.

The men were engaged in cutting a new approach road to General Grant National park when an estimated 500 cubic yards of earth and rock, loosened by recent rains, poured over them from a slide of the cut.

Fellow workers dug for almost three hours before extricating the bodies of Fuller and Mainwaring from the debris.

Fuller, a widower, is survived by a daughter, Mabel Frances Fuller, 17, of Porterville. Mainwaring is survived by the widow and three children.

The men were employed by the Hempstreet & Ball Construction company of Marysville.

Police News

Paul Crompton, 51-year-old transient of San Diego, charged with vagrancy after police were informed he was disturbing Santa Anans by trying to tell their fortunes and while claiming to be a psychologist, was given a 10-day suspended county jail term yesterday in city court. He was ordered to get out of town at once. Albert Robles, Los Angeles, was fined $6 for speeding. Abel Armendariz, Anaheim, $8 for the same offense. Fred Flores, Santa Ana, was fined $5 for boulevard stop violation.

A 10-year-old Santa Ana boy who assertedly used an air rifle in shooting at human targets, other children who passed his home, caused a police investigation yesterday. The boy's sister advised Assistant Chief Harry Fink that their mother would take care of the situation in proper manner.

A minor accident at 12:30 a. m. today resulted in damage to cars in the 300-block, South Main, according to police reports. A car driven by Alvie Foreman, Orange, traveling north on Main, hit the rear of a car parked at the curb by Melvin Hill. The report said the parked car is registered to Albert Hill, 1618 Spurgeon.

A car stolen from R. R. Richardson, Route 3, Santa Ana, while it was parked in the 200-block of West Third, Tuesday night or early yesterday, was recovered last night by sheriff's officers who found it abandoned at 17th street and Verano road. It was returned to the owner.

DRIVE FOR COAST NAVY YARDS WANES

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—Reps. A. L. Ford, D., Calif., and Richard J. Welch, R., Calif., told the House merchant marine committee today they would not press their proposals for West Coast government navy yards if Pacific coast private shipbuilders seek government work.

Both said they had no desire to sponsor government competition with private industry. If west coast shipbuilders evidence a desire to construct government vessels, they would be agreeable to abandonment of their bills, they said.

Testimony Heard
The committee heard testimony in connection with Welch's bill to authorize construction of a government shipyard at San Francisco, and Ford's similar proposal for a government yard at Los Angeles.

Ralph Emerson, representing shipbuilding workers of the west coast, and Walker S. Fisher, of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, testified that organized labor wants the government to enlarge its shipbuilding facilities and favors both proposals.

THE EVOLUTION

NEWSPAPER OF REVOLUTIONARY DAYS OWNED BY S. A. WOMAN

Reminiscent of the famous Boston tea party of American Revolutionary days, an ancient and worn copy of the North American Almanack and Massachusetts Register, published Monday, March 12, 1770, had been resurrected today from among the souvenirs at the home of Mrs. George P. Graham, 1014-A North Parton, Santa Ana.

"We saw in The Register reports of other old newspapers being in possession of Orange county residents and thought this one would be of interest," Mrs. Graham said.

Ban On Foreign Teas!
The four-page copy, certain to be authentic, according to Mrs. Graham, tells of an action by the Roxbury, Mass., body of Freeholders, governing group, in which the Freeholders "voted that we will not make use of any foreign teas in our federal families until the revenue acts are repealed." Later, Mrs. Graham found the paper

Mrs. Clifford, it is believed, obtained the paper from her parents, Mrs. Graham also revealed a copy of the New York Herald of Saturday, April 15, 1865, telling of the assassination of Lincoln.

Girl Scouts Are Honor Guests

MIDWAY CITY, April 6.—Miss Frances Heil gave the Easter theme to refreshments served her seventh grade Girl Scout patrol following a regular meeting held at her home, at which time the girls took the outdoor field test, that of tying knots. A pretty Easter egg centered the plate upon which the cake and punch were served by the hostess.

The girls participating in the test and the social hour included Marjorie Baggett, Jean Fraser, Muriel Fury, Pattie Pyl Meairs, Dorothy Miller, Betty Jean Tobey, Beth Wise.

CONTRASTS FORCE WITH JESUS' PLEAS

The recent eulogies of force, power politics and war by Mussolini were contrasted in a most forceful manner with the statements and teachings of Jesus by Walter Ferris who spoke at the Wednesday meeting of the Smedley chapter of Toastmasters.

Ross Boyd told of the efficiency of the United States Secret Service and W. N. Cummings suggested the employment of a professional critic for the club. J. Omar Williams condemned the plan of advertising by nationwide contests and declared that many of them are dishonestly conducted and that the plan has degenerated into a racket.

Others On Program

President Warren O. Mendenhall gave a dramatic presentation of the character Ugolfin from Pierre Van Passen's "Days of Our Years."

On the program was to have been an address by Robert McPhee whose sudden death and funeral occurred this week. The speech he had prepared on the subject, "The Value of a Smile" was read by Dr. E. Perry Davis. Tad Cook acted as toastmaster for the evening and R. C. Smedley as general critic. Guests of the club were Carl McCandless and Herman Quick.

The Brownie pack sponsored a food sale last Saturday to raise money to add to the fund for building a Girl Scout house. The

To Find a Good

CITY MARSHAL

Look in the Office of U. S. Marshal

The best cure for the ills of Santa Ana today would be a good strong dose of federal law enforcement methods.

Running the rackets out of Santa Ana is a job that could be profitably turned over to United States Department of Justice. It is the kind of job that the federal officer handles with neatness and dispatch, playing no favorites.

However, it is impossible, obviously, to bring the United States Department of Justice into Santa Ana.

But We Can Get Department of Justice Service

There is available in the U. S. Department of Justice a man trained in its methods, experienced in its work, devoted to its traditions of rigid and impartial enforcement of law. He is just the man for the job.

This man, long a resident of Santa Ana, now is a candidate for Chief of Police here. He not only is able—he is willing and anxious to clean up Santa Ana. In fact, he is the candidate who made the rackets an issue here. He is the one candidate strong enough to defeat the present regime. The citizens and taxpayers of Santa Ana who are demanding a change take this opportunity to ask you to join them in electing this man Chief of Police. They ask you to vote for . . .

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

(Another of a series of baseball stories from major league training camps.—Sports editor's note.)

Vernon Gomez tells how, after an early pitching spurt with the Yankees, Ed Barrow advised him to put on 20 pounds and make them forget Amos Rusie.

"I put on the 20 pounds," says
Lefty, "and they nearly forgot Gomez."

The great southpaw's ambition is to ride a motorcycle from the distant Yankee Stadium bullpen to the pitcher's box.

Gomez was speaking of pitching casualties in the annual All-Star game. . . . Van Lingle
Mungo, Hal Schumacher, Dizzy
Dean, Johnny Allen and Johnny Vander Meer.

Gomez traces the trouble to pitchers working out of turn and excessive bearing down due to lack of knowledge of hitters and a desire to make a showing during their three innings that will be remembered.

"I started the second All-Star game in New York despite the fact that I had a sore arm," relates the curving Castilian.

"I didn't want anyone to suspect that I was afraid to tackle Carl Hubbell."

Mungo hurt his back in an All-Star engagement.

ALLEN, VANDER MEER LATEST TO SUFFER

Schumacher had won seven straight when he appeared in the All-Star show in Cleveland in 1935 with one day's rest. The St. Lawrence slicker struck out three or four in a row, but the resultant pain didn't disappear until he has submitted to an

A liner off Earl Averill's bat broke Dean's toe in Washington in 1936. Something snapped in the cotton picker's throwing apparatus while he resorted to an

KARAKOWS TRY FOR SECOND A. B. C. WIN

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Only two teams have won an American Bowling Congress five-man title more than once, the Birk Brothers and the Commodore Barrys, of Chicago. Today the Karakow Furnitures, of Detroit, who captured the crown two years ago at New York, attempted to become the third.

The Birk Brothers, current titleholders, set the all-time high last year in Chicago in rolling a 3234 total. In 1916 the Birks captured their first title with a 3061 mark.

The Detroit entry bowled with 63 other squads mostly from Ohio, Jersey and Michigan.

Only two major changes were chalked up among the leaders in all four divisions during yesterday's firing. Scoring games of 243-207-246, Chris Whitaker, Alliance, Ohio, soared into fifth place in the singles competition with a 696. Hodge Auto Sales, Ferndale, Mich., counted 2985 to take fifth in the team event on the late squad, topping the 64 teams listed.

MAJOR LEAGUE BOWLERS OPEN TITLE SERIES

Climax to a five-month season,
Santa Ana's major league bowlers clash tonight in their Shaughnessy series for the city championship.

Teams involved are those that finished one-two-three-four during the regular season. In the first round, the leading Main Cafeteria team faces California Patio Pottery, the third place crew.
The other match pairs up Gordon's Buicks, second and Estate Gas Range, fourth. Both series begin at 8 o'clock.

At two surviving quintets hook up in the finals, probably tonight although the championship setto might be delayed until next week.
The Main Cafeteria and the Gordon Buicks are slight favorites to come through the semifinals. They broke even, 8-8, over the regular season.

Orange county's keggers are in for another treat Saturday night.
All those who participated in last week's big tournament are eligible for a singles sweepstakes at handicap. Manager C. H. Johnson has guaranteed $25 for first money. There will be four purses.

SCHNABELS IN 'TEAM MATCH'

It will be the Schnabel brothers against the world at the Orange County Athletic club next Monday.

The German wrestlers will be boosted into their first main main events here. Promoter Harry Lewis today signed Fritz and Hans for a team-match against Nick Lutze and Casey Colombo.

The Schnabels, by causing an impromptu near-riot at the show last week, which was occasioned by two of them going to the rescue of a third Schnabel, Otto, who was fighting off the Green Hornet and getting the worst of the tussle were, by their audacity the inspiration of the first team-match Promoter Lewis has presented.

Bolo Garcia, sensational Filipino slugger, tackles Jack Rader in the semi-final. Joe Parelli will meet Mitsui Hamanaka, fast Japanese.
The card also presents one of Orange county's own in Young Stecher who will open the show against Billy Grubbs.

STARS ABOUT READY FOR CAMP CONTEST

Buckling down to the serious business of pre-league games, Manager "Bono" Koral split his squad of Stars into "A" and
"B" teams last night and worked his various pitchers four innings each. The personnel:

A's—Jim Coates, Hodgson and Morse, pitchers; B. Koral, c.
Schwartz, 1b.; J. Koral, 2b.; C.
Coates, 3b.; Wimbush, ss.; Smith,
Short and Hanlin, outfielders.

B's—Moyer, Hanson and Hef-linger, pitchers; Pea, c.; Stafford, 1b.; Corneil, 2b.; Morse, 3b.; Moreno, ss.; Jefferson, Russell and Ritner, outfielders.

The Stars have scheduled an informal "scrimmage" with the B.
J. MacMullen City League at the Bowl Friday night. Koral says this workout will be considered in determining what rookies will be carried by the National leaguers. "Bono" says he probably will work four pitchers, starting with "Lefty" Hanson.

Koral is praising Jefferson, former City league fielder. Think Jeff is ready for fast company.
Harold Burch, Whittier pitcher who joins Huntington Beach this year, was here with George Hanlin, now Santa Ana outfielder. . . . Bob Mott is laid up with a cold. . . . Koral is looking for practice games. . .
Quite a gang turned out to pipe
the Stars.

KRIEGER DROPS AND DEFEATS MATTHEWS

SEATTLE — (UP) — Scoring two knockdowns, World Middleweight Champion Solly Krieger punched out a 10-round decision over Allen Matthews, St. Louis Negro, last night in a non-title bout.
Allen was canvassed in the seventh and ninth rounds for counts of four and nine, respectively. A series of body and head punches did the trick for Krieger, who won his crown here last summer by decisioning Al Hostak of Seattle.

WEST WINDS HERE AND THERE IN SPORT

SPORTS WHIRLIGIG
Flash: Barracuda are bitin' off Newport harbor. They say it was just a pushover yesterday. . . .
Flash: They're getting hot on the new bowling alleys again. Something due to break any day now.
Flash: Al Nichelini is down from Weed high school. He's a candidate for the vacated coaching post at Tustin. You know Al. He's the former St. Mary's and pro ace. . . .

What happened to Jumpin' Joe Cornelius at Anaheim? They gave the veteran pitcher the air after he had turned in a nice managerial job for the Va-lencias. . . . Harry Gaspar is gradually recovering from a long illness that had him on his back in a hospital seven weeks. The man but he's improving and still has a wisecrack at his command.

Robert (Red) Blakemore of Santa Ana, who entered the University of California at Christmas, is playing No. 1 singles and doubles for the Berkeley frosh in tennis. He's the son of Mr.
and Mrs. C. P. Blakemore of 1015 North Parton. . . . Big Jack McClure, ex-Saint pitcher, has won four out of six for the St. Mary's frosh. One of his victims was the Calfresh, a game which McClure won by socking a timely triple that drove home two runs. . . .

Rube Samuelson, clever sports
ed. of the Pasadena Post, had his appendix attached after putting his page to bed the other a.m. That's one thing he couldn't blame on the printers. . . . Bob Skiver of Riverside, sprint champ of the Citrus Belt league, is only a junior but this is his last season of track and football. The new C.I.F. age limit of 19 catches up with him this summer. . . .

Orange's Cubs have signed Mer-Hapes, last year's Irvine shortstop. Hapes is still at the University of Mississippi, though and won't be home until June.
Those Orange Lionettes took an 8-0 shellacking in their first game of the National girls' league at Fiedler field but they'll do better. They just had a little stagefright and Lois Terry had one of her wild streaks. . . .
Colton has a swell broad-jumping prospect named Gordon Sim. A 15-year-old sophomore, the kid has been doing 22 feet and more all season. He's also a pretty fair sprinter. . . . Monte Klepper, big Saint tackle of '38 who played good ball for the Oregon U. frosh, had an operation on his "football knee" and will not go back to Eugene until '40. . . .

Playing igorotte, "Sonny" Holmes holed a double-eagle on the 477-yard 18th at the Santa Ana Country club the other day. His 240-yard brassie rolled in for a two on a five-par.
Dead and buried included L. D.
Coffing, "Chuck" Denio, J. K. Mc-Donald, Jack Robertson and Roy Renwick. . . . The Clarence (Nan) Coots just increased the papalotion. It was a girl. . . . of course. . .
The Angels dropped Louis Nave Novikoff into a game at Sacramento last night and the erstwhile softballer cuffed one over the left field fence for a homer.
He also got another basehit off Tony Freitas. There are six good outfielders on the L. A. roster and all of 'em can't last, so your guess is as good as anybody's. . . . Scout Ernie Johnson is off on another of his mysterious gumshoe trips into the sticks. This time the University of Arizona is his destination. He's out to watch the Arizona and Nebraska college nines.

Urban Plavan lost his new jockey almost as soon as he got him. Lloyd Knapp was set down for the rest of the Tanforan season for rough-riding aboard Tornillo, one of the Santa Ana horseman's steeds, last Tuesday.
Knapp had just got through bringing Urge Me home at juicy odds and was up on Tornillo in the next race. Tornillo finished third in the race.

U. S. AMATEURS FIGHT FOR 139 TOURNAMENT SPOTS

NEW YORK — (UP) — Sectional qualifying rounds for the 1939 United States Open golf championship will be played over 32 courses May 22, the U. S. Golf association announced today.

This is one more qualifying site than last year, and equals the 32 of 1937 when a record field of 1402 entered for the championship played at Detroit. This year's tournament is scheduled June 8-10 at the Philadelphia Country club.
Entry blanks must be in the U. S.
G. A. office here by 5 p. m. May 9.

Qualifying trials consist of the usual 36 holes of medal play.
Places for each district will be allotted on a percentage basis of the total sectional entry. The leading 30 players of 1938, when Ralph Guldahl scored his second straight triumph at Denver, and the home professional at Philadelphia are exempt from qualifying.

The field for the championship proper is set at 170, so if all the exempted players enter, there will be 139 places available for the boys who have to qualify—and these include Sammy Snead, the leading money winner of 1938, who failed to finish in the top 30 at Denver.

Because the championship is to be played in the East, qualifying rounds were revived at Troy, N.
Y., and Richmond, Va. Because of unusual interest in Texas this year, that state was allotted two sites—at Houston and Ft. Worth.

Spokane will be the only qualifying point in the Pacific Northwest, a reduction of one from last year. Rounds in Wisconsin were eliminated, players of that state being shifted to Chicago. The following changes were made: from Springfield to Winchester, Mass.;
from Mamaroneck to Westbury, N. Y.; from Oklahoma City to Tulsa, Okla.; and from Morgantown to Charlotte, N. C.

Qualifying points chosen were:
Birmingham, Phoenix, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver, Washington, Jacksonville, Atlanta, Chicago, New Orleans, Winchester, Mass., Detroit, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha, Buffalo, New York City, Troy, N. Y., Charlotte, N. C., Cincinnati, Cleveland, Tulsa, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Memphis, Ft. Worth, Houston, Salt Lake City, Richmond, Spokane, and Huntington, W. Va.

Pollard, First Seabiscuit Jockey, To Wed

UKIAH — (UP) — John Michael (Red) Pollard, the jockey who booted Seabiscuit up from the plater ranks to the top of the turf, today announced he would marry Agnes Marie Conlon of Boston next Monday.

The wedding will be held at 10
a. m. at St. Anthony's church in Willits. The bride-to-be, accompanied by her mother and sister, will arrive in San Francisco Friday night and go to Willits Saturday morning.

Pollard will be attended by his brother, Billie Pollard of Vancouver. Charles S. Howard, owner of the huge stable which employs the jockey, will be a guest.

Pollard took his first mount on Seabiscuit in 1936 when the horse was a castoff, broken-down three-year-old. Together they campaigned through the fall of 1936 and on to the handicap championship of 1937. A year ago at Santa Anita Pollard fell while riding Fair Knight and broke his leg.
He has been out of silks since.

Burned Up At Referee's Decision

Fans at a recent football game in Mexico City were reported to have expressed heated resentment against the referee by setting fire to the grandstand. The blaze, pictured above, destroyed half the structure, with $60,000 damage.

Pigs, Cows Treated Like Humans In Ga.

By HENRY McLEMORE

SOMEWHERE IN GEORGIA, I am a goose. At least I reckon
I am because as soon as the weather begins to get nice up north I always arrange myself in a neat wedge formation and start that way with the other geese.

I don't like to place myself above the flock, which always flies non-stop to where it's going. But being so much of a goose that I like to take gander at all way points, I am going to stop in Ashville, N. C., for a few days.

That is, if I ever get there. The chances of my arriving in one part are only 50-50, because I am driving a car, and driving a car in the south is only a shade safer than jumping in a cannibal's chafing dish and handing him the recipe for the sauce you like to beasted with.

Because in the south—at least, in these parts of it—the cow, the pig, the chicken, and the goat are considered property holders and entitled to just as much asphalt as the motorist. To them—meaning the cow, the pig, the chicken, and the goat—the highway is the starlight roof at the Waldorf, the loveliest place to waltz and truck, the ideal spot to court and woo, the ideal rendezvous for switching flies, ruffling feathers, and locking horns in neighborly combat.

There is no telling when livestock is going to dispute the rights of the highway with you. They dispute not with logic, but with bulk. When a cow thinks she is in the right she plants her four

GEHRIG ABOUT THROUGH BUT INFIELD TIGHT

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK — The Yankees, with or without Lou Gehrig, will continue down the glory road to their fourth straight American league pennant this season.

But before they make it, the Yankees will have more pressure put on them than at any time since they swept into power three years ago.

In 1936 they won by 19 1/2 games, and in 1937 by 13 games.
Last season their winning margin was 9 1/2 games. This time the margin is likely to shrivel to the National league proportions of a few games or so.

The team rising to challenge the power of the Yankees is the Boston Red Sox. If calamity should overtake the Yankees this season and strike down one of their key men, the Red Sox might sneak into the winner's circle.

But the Red Sox, building with youth, still seem a year away.
By 1940, when Ted Williams, Jim Tabor, Woody Rich, Bobby Doerr and Jim Bagby have had another year of seasoning, the Red Sox may blow the Yankees off their throne.

But any hope of their doing it

KIRKSEY'S SELECTIONS

Here's how George Kirksey, United Press baseball writer, picks the American league race:

1. New York—Far from a clinch but still the class.
2. Boston—Red Sox are closing in but still shy of pitching.
3. Detroit—On way up but need outfield punch to get higher.
4. Cleveland—Too much temperament and not enough teamwork.
5. Washington—"Bucky" Harris is smiling and may have a surprise.
6. Chicago—White Sox still still haunted by the evil hand.
7. St. Louis—Sad lack of pitching offsets good attack.
8. Philadelphia—Connie Mack is still a nice old man.

In 1939 is based on a line of reasoning which questions the Yanks' ability to continue to defy the law of averages and the injury jinx.

In examining the Yanks' outlook, their pitching and defense again are the class of the field.
No team can show three pitchers like Ruffing, Gomez and Pearson. The loss of "Spud" Chan-der for half a season with a broken leg is more than compensated by the apparent comeback of Wes Ferrell after an arm op-my front bumper and hook look Hildebrand and the addition of Oral Light from the Browns.
The Yanks' second line of pitchers—Hadley, Sundra and Rookie Marvin Bruer also is superior to anything any other club can offer.

Contrary to popular belief the Yanks are not a great hitting team. They weren't last year and they won't be this year. They have an abnormal amount of extra base power and a knack of too tough, too big for my car.

Altar Society Plans Party

ORANGE, April 6.—A dessert bridge to be held on April 11 was planned by the Altar society of the Holy Family Catholic church Tuesday afternoon in the parish hall.

The affair will begin at 1 o'clock in charge of a committee made up of Miss Anna Oehlke, Mrs. Alta Nicholson, Mrs. Emilia Bronk and Mrs. E. D. Bartlett.

Plans were also discussed for an evening card party sometime in May. The committee for this event is Mrs. A. W. Mollica, Mrs. T. J. Collins, Mrs. John Cain, Mrs. J. E. Pleasants and Miss Emilia Birkenmeier. Both parties will be public.

The meeting Tuesday was presided over by Mrs. A. W. Mollica, vice-president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. E. D. Bartlett.

Church decorating committees appointed for April were Miss Clarice Keefe and Mrs. Alta Nicholson, and for May, Mrs. J. B. Lackey and Mrs. John Fox. A guest was Miss Emma McCurdy of Los Angeles, formerly of Orange.

PLAN EASTER BREAKFAST

ORANGE, April 6.—The Benedictine class of the First Methodist church will hold its annual Easter breakfast at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bomboy, 1010 East Almond avenue, it was announced today.

The breakfast will be served soon after the close of the Easter sunrise service.

ORANGE DE MOLAYS INSTALL OFFICERS

ORANGE, April 6.—More than 200 parents and friends witnessed the institution of Orange chapter, DeMolay, and the installation of its officers last night in the Orange Masonic Temple.

Charles Emory Wright, active member of the grand council of the order of DeMolay and his team from the Los Angeles district first instituted the chapter, and his aid, Henry Ledeboer of Hollywood, installed the new officers.

A welcome was extended by Ray Uecker, high priest of the Orange Royal Arch Masons, sponsors of the local chapter. He introduced J. T. McInnis, advisor of the chapter, who was master of ceremonies.

Mr. Wright, in instituting the chapter spoke briefly, saying that the order of DeMolay, while not a religious organization, yet is intertwined with the worship of God. The chapter is now operating under dispensation, and will receive its permanent charter March 1, 1940. Miss Helen Gillogly sang, "Giannina Mia" accompanied by Miss Lois Allen.

The presentation of an old Bible to the chapter by Harvey H. Myers, local attorney was next in order. The Bible was the gift of Ida May Lensch of San Gabriel, and is more than 100 years old. It contains many steel engravings. The Bible will remain the property of the chapter so long as it continues as an organization, but the legal title in with the Orange Masonic building board. J. T. McInnis accepted the gift on behalf of the chapter.

A group of Spanish medleys was played by A. C. Kirk and Alphonso Seez, after which the installation of officers took place.

At the close of the ceremony, Don Krueger sang, "Song of the Open Road," accompanied by Miss Allen. In closing, a gift was presented to Mrs. John Moore, mother of Howard Moore, on behalf of the chapter, by Anzac Jacob. She had made the altar cloth for the group and beautifully decorated the chapter room with daffodils and pussy willows.

The advisory council which was also introduced is made up of Ernest W. Gommel, chairman, Sherman Gillogly, Dan Gruwell, George N. Weimer, Richard Evans, C. B. Redmon and J. T. McInnis.

Speaking Contest Staged by Lions

ORANGE, April 6.—Tom Clark won first place in the speaking contest staged by the Orange Lions club Wednesday noon at their regular luncheon meeting in the American Legion hall.

The winner, who spoke on the subject, "The Service Club in National Life," will next compete in the county council contest, and the winner of that contest will speak in the district contest. All speakers have the same topic.

James E. Donegan won second place and Roy Edwards third, in the local contest. All members voted in determining winners. D. W. Tubbs, a visitor from the Santa Ana club spoke informally on the quick freeze process for keeping vegetables, especially peas, like fresh vegetables over periods of time. He said that peas may be kept in excellent condition for six months by this process, and that it may affect to some extent California vegetable growing.

President Martell Thompson read a letter from the Lions club of Orlando, Fla., which stated that the club will give an absolutely free correspondence course in Braille to any blind person who desires it. The offer is made possible by a public spirited citizen of Orlando, who arranged for the service. The letter was turned over to Dr. J. E. Riley, who will ascertain if anyone in Orange or vicinity desires to take advantage of the free offer.

The institution of a Fullerton chapter of Lions was announced for the evening of April 18, to which the Orange club members and ladies are invited. A dinner will precede the meeting.

Easter Services Are Arranged

ORANGE, April 6.—Special Holy Week services will be held at the St. John's Lutheran church. The institution of the Lord's Supper will be observed with the celebration of Holy Communion in both the 9 a. m. German services and the 7:30 p. m. English services on Maundy Thursday.

On Good Friday services will be held at 9 a. m. in the German language and at 7:30 p. m. in the English.

There will be three services on Easter Sunday: 5:30 a. m. English, 9 a. m. German, 10:30 a. m. English. Immediately after the sunrise services the Walther League will serve breakfast at the Walker Memorial Hall to members of the congregation and friends.

On Easter Monday there will be German services at 9 a. m.

Appropriate selections for the occasion will be rendered by the various choirs at all services, under the direction of Theo. Hopmann.

SILVERADO

Mrs. Florence Harbottle, teacher at the Silverado school, entertained the children, last Friday afternoon with Easter egg hunt, at the school house. Mrs. Rose Kerr, Mrs. Eve Freeman, and Mrs. Sadie Chaffey, made cookies in the shape of bunnies, chickens, and eggs. Forty-five children attended.

Mrs. Leone Lane, of North Hollywood, Mrs. Marion Berkeley, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Snyder, of Gerard, spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Freeman, at their home in the Hough tract.

Mrs. Earl Young and small daughter, Jeanne Young, are occupants of the Burns cabin, in the Hough tract.

Plan To Enter Puppy In Show

ORANGE, April 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. A. Maibach are planning to enter a coming new show champion in the Riviera Kennel club show to be staged at La Monica ballroom at Santa Monica, April 15 and 16. The dog is the six-month-old puppy, Sunnee Brilliantine, bred by the C. Nel Chow Kennels in Orange and recently adjudged best dog in the fourth annual puppy show staged by the Chow Fancier's Association of Southern California at the Royal Palms hotel in Los Angeles.

The puppy making its debut at the time carried away four gold trophies, was adjudged best dog in the show in addition to best dog in three other classes in which he competed. The puppy established an unsurpassed record for the Maibachs in that it was the fourth time that a C-Nel puppy has gone best dog in a puppy show.

In each of the cases it was a different puppy, selected by different judges. The first was Wulee Brilliantine, father of the current puppy champion; next it was Tonkee Brilliantine, daughter of Wulee; then it was Wu Fu of Chongde, a Maine female brought here by the Maibachs for exhibition purposes. The three other puppies were bred at the Maibach kennels.

Sunnee defeated all entries in the six to eight months class and went best in the six to 12 months class, and best puppy in the bred by exhibitor class. He competed with 40 puppies from various kennels and those owned by private exhibitors in Southern California.

Easter Morning Service Planned

ORANGE, April 6.—The Easter morning worship service of the First Methodist church will feature the church choir under the direction of Margaret Rowlands Harper, with Eleanor Buckles at the organ console.

Forty singers will lift their voices in joyful praise and celebration of Christ's resurrection. A choir procession, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," the prayer response, "I Am The Resurrection," will open the musical program.

An anthem, "As It Began to Dawn," by Vincent, will be sung, with Harold Gorton as soloist. A male quartet made up of Rex Parks, Dean Krebs, Carl Warner and John D. Campbell will sing "O Joy of His Awakening," by Gabriel. Miss Charmaine Carlson will sing Knapp's beautiful "Open The Gates of the Temple."

The final chorus number will be the jubilant and much loved "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's "Messiah."

The Easter play, "The Boy Who Discovered Easter," will be given at the 7 o'clock evening service under the direction of Vernon Helmick.

VILLA PARK

The condition of Mrs. Dian Gardner who underwent a major operation at St. Joseph hospital, is considered as satisfactory.

Gilbert Bell, student at Occidental College is spending the Easter vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bell.

YOUNG MAN HELD IN INQUIRY ON MORALS

William Irwin Muller, 23, resident of Newport Beach and Roscoe, Calif., was held in county jail today on a charge of committing a felony morals offense against a six-year-old Newport Beach boy whom he invited to visit him in an upstairs room of the Muller place at Newport Beach yesterday.

Muller was arrested by Newport Beach police yesterday on complaint of the boy's parents after the boy told his mother of the alleged offense. Muller assertedly confessed immediately. He is under order to appear for preliminary hearing next Wednesday at 9 a. m.

INFECTIOUS CATTLE DISEASES CONTROLLED IN ORANGE COUNTY

Infectious diseases of cattle in Orange county are rapidly controlled, it was learned today at the Department of Agriculture, according to a message to the Register from Washington, D. C.

Exhibition Of Water Colors

LAGUNA BEACH, April 6.—Currently showing at the Art Gallery is the exhibition of water colors by the Aquarelle Painters, including over 40 examples by 25 well-known artists. Helen Smith's "Fisherman's Wharf"; Ruth Christiansen's "The Old Tree"; two examples by Barse Miller, entitled "Hay Wain" and "Yellow House", continue to attract much attention. The jury of award and selection, covering the Aquarelle showing, includes Emile Kosa, jr., Arthur Sprengle, Jesse Watson, William McDermitt and Christian von Schneidau, all of whom have examples included in the exhibition which will close with April 16.

APPENDIX REMOVED

MIDWAY CITY, April 6.—Billie Miller, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller of Van Buren street, is a patient at Community hospital, Long Beach. The appendix was removed and Billie is said to have stood the operation well.

Tuberculosis of cattle has been almost wiped out. The Bureau of Animal Industry reports that Orange county is certified as practically free from cattle tuberculosis, and free shipments of cattle and milk will be allowed unless future tests reveal a sharp increase in the disease.

Report Few Cattle Infected

The fact that cattle tuberculosis is almost negligible in California is illustrated by tests of 133,201 cattle made during February. Only 2427 of these cattle were infected.

Of 8293 California cattle tested for Bang's disease, since July 1, 1934, when the battle against this sickness started, 524, or about six per cent, were found to be sick.

Asks for 11 Million

Retests of Orange county cattle will be made so that the presence of tuberculosis can be re-determined. Announcement of the results of these tests will be made March 1, 1941.

The department of agriculture has asked for $11,000,000 for expenditure during the year beginning July 1, 1939, on Bang's disease work. During that year, the department hopes to have exact data on the status of this sickness in Orange county.

Where Flood Waters Swept Autoists To Death

While one of their number leans over the side of the boat to recover a body, rescue workers fasten a line to an automobile which plunged into Clear Creek bayou near Jackson, Miss., when flood waters swept away a bridge. The crowd that gathered at the site is shown at the brink of the gap, back-ground. At least six automobiles and a truck dropped into the muddy waters. Eight persons were believed drowned.

METROPOLITAN WATER STARTED ON ANOTHER LAP OF JOURNEY

Sweeping across vast desert stretches in the nearly completed Metropolitan aqueduct, Colorado river water today is scheduled to reach a point 110 miles closer to the coastal plain of Southern California, according to word received yesterday by F. E. Weymouth, general manager of the Metropolitan Water district.

J. M. Gaylord, chief electrical engineer of the water district, reported that testing of the Iron Mountain pumping plant on the Metropolitan aqueduct was started yesterday, and that the aqueduct water had been started on another lap of its 392-mile journey from the Colorado river to Los Angeles and the 12 other Southern California cities that comprise the Metropolitan Water District.

Third Plant Completed

The Iron Mountain plant, located in the desert approximately 220 miles east of Los Angeles, is the third of the five huge pumping plants which will lift Metropolitan aqueduct water a total height of 1617 feet over mountain ranges that lie between the Colorado river and the coastal plain of Southern California.

Aqueduct water is lifted 144 feet by the Iron Mountain plant, and at the top of this third stage the water has been lifted a total height of 738 feet since it left the Colorado river back of Parker dam.

40 Miles of Tunnels

From the top of the Iron Mountain pump lift, Metropolitan Aqueduct water today is flowing westward through 40 miles of tunnels, conduits, and canals to the Eagle Mountain pumping plant, which is 110 miles west of the Colorado river.

"Dodge City" At Broadway Today

"Dodge City" a story of the early west, comes to the Broadway screen today in conjunction with "Spirit of Culver", dramatic story concerning the life of military school cadets.

"Dodge City" co-stars Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland. Done in technicolor, the picture deals with the period around 1872 when the old-timers used to state that "West of Chicago there is no law and west of Dodge City there is no God." Manager George King of the Broadway states that "Dodge City" is rated as one of the best westerns of the present cycle and is a combination of romance, melodrama, comedy, action, excitement and adventure. Others of note in the cast are Ann Sheridan, Frank McHugh, Bruce Cabot, Alan Hale, Guinn Williams, Cora Witherspoon, Thurston Hall, Monte Blue and Gloria Holden. Jackie Cooper and Freddie Bartholomew share honors in "Spirit of Culver". Tim Holt, son of the veteran Jack Holt; Henry Hull and Andy Devine are also prominently cast. Kathryn "Sugar" Kane is the only girl cast in the picture. Color cartoon, "Day at the Zoo," and newsreel, complete the bill.

Masons Attend Dinner Party

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—More than 125 members of Garden Grove Masonic lodge and Eastern Star chapter attended a family night dinner and program in the Orange Masonic temple Monday evening. Mrs. Emma Henry, worthy matron of Garden Grove chapter of Eastern Star, headed the committee arranging for the dinner. Tables were decorated with sweet peas and ranunculus.

Wayne Holt was chairman of the entertainment committee, which provided the program consisting of piano selections by Miss Onetia Ames, readings by Leiland Harper and an informal minstrel show presented by members of the lodge.

Merchants Hold Sales Contest

PLACENTIA, April 6.—Progress of the sales contest in which local merchants are carrying on was discussed at the regular meeting of the Merchants Association Monday evening at the Ann Marie Tea Room. It was decided that the participating merchants themselves may be awarded sales slips with any fifty-cent purchases from other merchants and are eligible to win prizes through purchases in one another's stores.

A threatened protest from non-members of the association, who were said to have favored a different method of underwriting the contest, failed to come off.

Cantata Will Be Heard Sunday

BREA, April 6.—"Christ Triumphant," a cantata by Roy Nolte, will climax the Easter week at the Christian church Sunday evening when it will be given during the regular service.

Special parts will be taken by Mrs. Leonard DeGroffe, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. Myrtle Warner, Marie Bates, Frances Warner, Eunice Wilson and White Cromwell. Mrs. George Rhiel of Fullerton will assist the choir and sing a special solo. Mrs. Frank Schweitzer will direct and Mrs. Robert Bates is the accompanist.

During the morning service the Rev. Frank Stipp, the pastor, will speak on the Easter theme, "Eternal Life Here and Now." Special music will be furnished by the choir, who will sing an Easter anthem, and Rose and Frances Warner, who will sing a special duet. A baptismal service is also planned.

During Holy week the church is participating in a community union service held last night at Nazarene church and today the sacrificial luncheon of the missionary society was held. Miss Neva Nicholson from India was the guest speaker.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acid waste in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be over-worked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of poisonous waste. When functional kidney disorder permits poisonous matter to remain in the blood, you won't feel well. This may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. If you have trouble with frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning, there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

4TH AT BUSH SANTA ANA

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Britain's sudden decision to turn and stand for Polish independence is supposed here (quite authoritatively) to have been based on an inside tip Premier Chamberlain received indicating Hitler was preparing a bold blow threatening the very life of the British empire. The blow was not anticipated in Poland of course as the Poles are remote from the empire jugular vein. It was probably a planned Japanese stroke against the British at Singapore or the Far East, or a scheme of Mussolini to take the control he wants in the Suez canal. The exact nature of it is not definitely known here, but it indeed it was known to Chamberlain.

The Russians apparently received the same tip. At least they acted accordingly. The Reds are weak in defense, but not so abjectly feeble as to be uninterested in maintaining Poland and Rumania as barriers against the Nazis, if they understood this to be the British purpose. Their unwillingness to join the British game was announced first through their official press (there is no other in Moscow) with the ominous explanation that the Reds do not trust British foreign policy.

This current European situation is, therefore, regarded by the calmest unprejudiced eyes here as being political—and not military. The issue simply is who is going to run whom on the continent. The showdown is nearer but not necessarily at hand.

Two eventualities are considered probable. Either Hitler will not cross the Rubicon, drawn in pencil by Chamberlain, in Poland and Rumania, and will call off his dogs and settle down to mind his own business, or he will now attempt to establish his supremacy as the undisputed master of European political affairs. The choice is his, and authorities here suspect he will choose the first course. He might take Danzig, for instance, but not the Polish corridor, for he could get away with the first, but not the latter. If inside German reports are to be trusted Hitler fears war more than Britain and France and will limit his loot to what he can get away with. (Incidentally no one seems to consider Mussolini very seriously, except as a tool of Hitler.)

All of which means, authorities here do not expect war. Mr. Hull was not shooting in the air with his circuitous statement that Germany's trade policies were responsible for the U. S. refusing the reich admission to the reciprocal trade partnership.

Hull's buckshot will be found in the hide of the German charge d'affaires here, Hans Thomsen, not in that of German economics Minister Funk, to whom his blast purportedly was addressed. Known inside facts of the situation are these:

Thomsen recently gave International News service a solicited interview on German economics in which he asserted the reich's willingness to enter a reciprocal trade agreement if the United States would "come half way."

Thomsen said Germany was prepared to buy 500,000 bushels of wheat, 500,000 bales of cotton, 30,000 tons of dried plums and 110,000,000 pounds of lard. There was a kickback from the farm belt upon publication of the inference the state department had blocked surplus farm sales to "stop Hitler."

Hull, naturally, could not take official cognizance of a statement published in the form of an interview. Yet the congressional reaction to the story demanded some kind of swift counter-action. Hence, the shot-gun charge at Funk, which served the double purpose of answering Thomsen and putting him on warning against further interviews of that nature.

What aroused Hull's Tennessee mountain spirit more than his hard-bitten statement would disclose to an unadvised reader, was Mr. Thomsen's implication that Germany was prepared to spend stupendous millions of dollars (not barter) in this country for farm products. This, they say around the state department, is like the man who wants to bet you a million dollars while his bank account contains about $14.25 on hand.

Downtown diplomats were likewise afraid of the effect of Thomsen's statement in congress, where the farm bloc cares less about Hitler than about finding an outlet for surplus cotton.

NOTE—Apparently Mr. Hull has not yet noted that another branch of his government, the FSCC is selling wheat to foreign buyers in the United States who are shipping it to Germany and Japan regardless of his foreign policy.

House appropriations committee is trying to track down some inside leakage. It seems downtown departments have been getting advance tips on how much the com-

Code Messages From Local Police Radio Go To All Parts Of U. S.

Those directing the Orange county police radio system, station KGHX, at the sheriff's office here not only handle police radio messages between offices in Orange and neighboring counties but now send or receive an average of eight or 10 police calls daily to or from points throughout the United States by code, W. E. "Bud" Whiteman, chief technician for the county police radio system, stated today.

The two police radio systems are entirely distinct, the voice being used in transmitting of messages over the county system, the International Morse code, in sending or receiving nationwide police messages. Started in January, the police code station here is the only one on the west coast and cannot be used for transmission of any messages except those having to do with police work.

The merits of the code system here, from a nation-wide aspect, are unlimited since Santa Ana cast as a relay station for police messages delivered or received from all over the nation, Whiteman said. For example, should a police officer in Orlando, Fla., know that a criminal wanted there is in San Francisco, the Santa Ana code station would be the keynote for the criminal's immediate apprehension.

How It Works
The Orlando officer would contact the Florida code station at Tampa; Tampa would radio Santa Ana, and Santa Ana would immediately contact San Francisco officers by police teletype to deliver the message. Or, should Indianapolis wish to contact police of Gallup, N. M., to ask or give information, Indianapolis would contact Santa Ana and a code message would be sent to Clovis, N. M., to be relayed from there to Gallup, etc.

RANCHERS TO TALK ON MWD IN COUNTY

Talks on Metropolitan Water as it pertains to Orange county will be presented when the Placentia Farm center meets at the Ann Marie tearoom next Monday at 6:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Charles Fallert, president.

Speakers will be Col. S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, MWD secretary; E. P. Hapgood, city engineer of Anaheim; Walter Humphreys, of Fullerton, and a representative from the main office in Los Angeles.

Community singing will be led by Archie Raitt. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

Committee has cut their appropriations long before the news has been released for general publication. In several instances, the departments involved have laid down a telephone barrage upon committee members in an effort to change the committee's action and the committee members do not like it.

The shakeup and rerolling of that score of navy admirals was just the usual spring routine. There are about 75 admirals and not enough big jobs to go around, so the annual reshake is regular.

"Stop Hitler!" Is Their Cry

While a half million spectators jammed the sidewalks of New York, 20,000 members of patriotic, cultural, labor and anti-Fascist organizations paraded through the center of the city in a "Stop Hitler" demonstration evoked by events in Europe. Above, a labor contingent marches with anti-Hitler banners.

PRESENT 'MIKADO' AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM APRIL 18

Opening a series of three Federal operas slated for Santa Ana, "The Mikado," satirical Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, will be given a single presentation at the Santa Ana High school auditorium Tuesday, April 18, sponsored by the Orange County American Legion Drum and Bugle corps.

Mayor Fred C. Rowland today expressed himself as being gratified at the civic spirited Legion co-operation, adding, "I am sure that the music loving citizenry of Santa Ana will generously support this outstanding group of Federal production."

Dr. Reiser to Conduct
Dr. Alois Reiser, noted light opera conductor, will direct the class of 75 Federal comedians, headed by Jack Henderson, veteran New York interpreter of the role of Ko-Ko, lord high executioner, with diminutive Rena Case as Yum Yum and Albert George as her wandering minstrel suitor, Nanki-Poo.

"Pinafore," second in the series, will be given on May 4, with the romantic Oscar Straus operetta, "The Chocolate Soldier," completing the series on June 2.

Boot and Saddle Trail Is Ended

"Boots and Saddles" no longer need be the theme song of the Santa Ana police department, officers were informed today, for, although no detailed explanation was made, Long Beach police advised local authorities to cancel their investigation of the theft of boots and a jockey saddle from Darrell McCowan and Ted Malcar, horse race jockeys. The boots and saddle have been found, according to report received here.

According to a report of Police Chief J. H. McClelland of Long Beach March 26 to Police Chief Floyd W. Howard, the equipment was stolen from a parked car in Long Beach and might have been sold here.

GROWERS REACH AGREEMENT ON LOOSE FRUIT CONTROL PROGRAM

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Following a meeting of orange shippers here, concurrence in the loose fruit control program of close to 95 per cent of navel orange volume, was announced by Paul Jennings, East Highland, chairman of the growers' committee which has been working on this project.

Jennings explained that the objective was to confine interstate shipments and sales of oranges to the standard packed box of wrapped fruit, in order to improve marketing conditions for both growers and the distributing trade.

Market Improved
Shipment of loose and place packed fruit outside California, Arizona and Nevada was discontinued by most shippers on March 27 and the committee believes that this action has been responsible in part for the improvement in the market which has occurred during the past week, Jennings said.

"It is hoped and expected that the benefits of the program will increase, both to producers and the trade, as it becomes better understood in California and throughout the market in nearby states," he said.

Local Officers To Attend Dinner

Officers Richard M. Bradley, Herman Stahl, of the Santa Ana police department, and Jay Decker, official sheriff's office photographer, will be among those attending the dinner meeting of the Southern California Association of Fingerprint officers to be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Stage One cafe, 8635 Wilshire boulevard, Beverly Hills, it was announced today.

Carl Hartmeyer, secretary of the association and official photographer for the Beverly Hills police department, who will be host, reported that a filet mignon steak dinner with all the trimmings "or anything else you want, within reason," would be served. "The best entertainment to be found in Beverly Hills will be presented at the meeting," Hartmeyer said.

Rally Chairman

Introduction of candidates at a political rally at the Santa Ana high school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow will be in the hands of Herbert L. Hill, above, vice-president of the Santa Ana junior chamber of commerce, sponsors of the meeting.

Judge Turrentine On Recovery Road

Reports from Ventura today stated that Judge L. L. Turrentine, of San Diego, well known in local legal circles as the jurist who presided over five years of litigation over whippstock drilling at Huntington Beach, is recovering from an emergency operation for a knee injury. Judge Turrentine was temporarily holding court in Ventura when the operation became necessary. The attending surgeon stated that there is nothing serious about his condition unless complications set in.

RALLY SET FOR VOTE BIDDERS

Herbert L. Hill, vice president of the Santa Ana junior chamber of commerce, will be master of ceremonies at the political rally to be staged at the Santa Ana high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night under the auspices of the junior booster group.

This was the announcement today by Don Fletcher, chairman of the committee in charge of the program, who stated that invitations have been issued to every candidate for office in the municipal elections here Monday. No refusals of the invitations to date indicate that all candidates will be present at the rally, Fletcher said.

Institution in Making
The rally, which the junior chamber hopes to make an institution at every election in the city, is being sponsored by the organization so the public may meet the persons they will elect to office on Monday.

Each candidate will be given three minutes to briefly outline his platform for candidacy. Since a number of the candidates are unopposed in the election the time to be taken by the 35 candidates will be less than two hours, Fletcher said. "The junior chamber sincerely hopes that the voters of the city will take advantage of the opportunity to meet and hear the candidates before casting their ballots at election time," Fletcher said.

PACKING PLANT OPENS

The Talbert Meat Packing plant, located at Talbert, has been completely rebuilt and is now open for business, according to John Haber, new owner of the plant. The plant will be operated for wholesale and retail sale of meats under the supervision of county and state health inspectors, Haber said.

Important April Events Are Calendered for Country Club

All the exciting qualities of the post-Easter season will go into plans now being engineered for Country club members by the April social committee of which Mrs. John Ball is chairman. The group is planning a continuation of the Sunday night suppers, which are steadily growing in popularity and have become a fixed feature in the week's plans of the members.

There will be the usual bridge tea, the evening bridge party and as special feature, the month brings also the annual meeting with its election of directors, its reports of club conditions, and a special program to include a dinner party and games. This event is scheduled for Monday evening, April 17, with dinner at 6:30 o'clock. New members especially are urged to be present and take their places with members of long standing. Three new directors will be elected.

Friday, April 14 has been set for the evening bridge party with play to begin at 8 o'clock. Award of prizes will be made during the refreshment hour concluding the hospitality. On Friday afternoon, April 28, feminine members of the club will gather with their guests for the bridge tea. Although this party will begin at 2 o'clock, it will be preceded as usual by a luncheon for those who make advance reservations for their parties.

Mrs. Ball's committee is composed of Mesdames Clarence Hoiles, Harvey Maxwell, Walter V. Anderson, Manley Nelson, George Parker, Stanley Reinhaus, Morace Stevens, Hugh Lowe, Wayne Harrison, Lester Carder, Laurence E. Poole, R. O. Winkler and F. E. Farnsworth. Different members of this group will serve as hostesses at the various party events.

C. P. C. Club Meets

Entertaining C.P.C. club members in her own home for the first time, Helen Neal was hostess Tuesday night at a pleasant affair in her new home at 2039 Evergreen street.

Winning galloping prize in whoopee was Lena Sherwood, while Hazel Walker and a guest, Roberta Yount were rewarded for their low and high scores. Another guest was Dorothy Glass, sharing the evening with seven members.

Easter napkins and pink sweet peas carried out a pastel decorative motif. Serving of dessert brought the affair to a close. Next meeting will be held May 2, when Frances Wilson will entertain in her mother's home at 518 West Sixth street.

Guardian Council

Job's Daughters Guardian Council members and their husbands or wives assembled last night for a monthly dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lacy, 1117 South Parton street. Sweet peas and other appointments were in Easter colors.

Bridge was in play following covered dish dinner. Winning prizes were Mrs. M. W. Ball and Frank Sawyer, who scored high; Mrs. J. C. Rogers and Guy Christian low. Next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, May 3 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Eckles, 1225 South Birch street.

Happy Celebration Given Ninety-Sixth Anniversary

There is one thing in particular of which Santa Ana may well be proud, and that is the number of remarkable women of the city who have reached and passed the ninety-sixth milestone on their journey through life. One of the most remarkable of these, Mrs. Emma L. French, 215 East Ninth street, yesterday attained her 96th birthday anniversary, an occasion which was given gala observance by her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns and Mrs. F. C. Arnim (Gladys Burns).

Injured several years ago in a serious accident, Mrs. French has received such exquisite care from her family, her physicians and nurses, that she is a remarkably well-preserved woman for her advanced age. Even after the excitement of yesterday's birthday party, she was feeling in her usual health today, according to her daughter, Mrs. Burns.

Only relatives, a few family friends of many years' standing, and the close neighbors were received during the afternoon hours, but interest of scores of other friends was expressed in the cards, flowers and gifts showered on Mrs. French all day long. She received her friends wearing the pretty corsage that was fashioned for her by Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger, from the loveliest flowers or the Winbiger home gardens.

The honoree enjoyed her birthday cake no less than did her guests. It was a big confection on whose snowy icing, little pink and white candles formed the numerals 96. With it were served ices and other dainties by Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Arnim with the kindly assistance of Mrs. French's nurses.

Busy Life

One of the most interested of the many friends of this pioneer Santa Ana, was Mrs. R. J. Blee, 311 Orange avenue, who has been her contemporary in all the history and development of this city. Mrs. Blee celebrated her 90th anniversary on March 16. In the days of their young womanhood, the two friends worked together for the civic betterment of Santa Ana, and both played prominent part in the city's development.

Mrs. French, who was born in Boston, Mass., on April 5, 1843, during the presidency of John Tyler, came to Santa Ana more than 60 years ago. She has watched the city's growth from its historic "mustard patch" days. After the death of her husband she took command of his extensive business affairs, and has been recognized as one of the city's most astute and capable businesswomen, modern in all her ideas, and always in the forefront of community activities.

Miss Helen Marshall Entertains Classmates

When Miss Helen Marshall, daughter of the J. L. Marshalls, East Santa Clara avenue, arrived home from her studies at Mills college, Oakland, a few days ago, she was accompanied by four of her senior classmates. They are Miss Freda Morrill of Cincinnati, Ohio, Miss Margaret May Saunders of Spokane, Wash., Miss Betty Chase of Denver, Colo., and Miss Margaret Cary of Kearney, Neb.

Each day has brought trips or parties of special interest to the coeds, who were in San Diego yesterday. En route, they spent some time with classmates vacationing in La Jolla. Tonight, they will go to Pasadena to visit some of their school friends. Miss Marshall and her guests except to go to Catalina Island on Friday and to the Huntington Art gallery in San Marino on Saturday.

The young people were to be guests at a Tustin Union High School P-T-A. benefit party to be held this afternoon in the Marshall home. Miss Marshall was to sing, and Miss Chase and Miss Saunders were to play piano selections. Miss Marshall, who is majoring in music, will sing solos at Easter services Sunday at First Presbyterian church.

Annual Election Held By Baptist Churchwomen

Of all the important "Bridges" of this year's work and study on that theme of First Baptist Women's society, that which the churchwomen crossed yesterday, was of special interest, for it led them towards their next year's work since it was election of officers.

Mrs. Russell Crouse presided over the business session when the report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Warren Brakeman, chairman. Associated with her on the committee were Mrs. W. H. Atkinson and Mrs. Clyde Cave. Mrs. Harry Evan Owens, wife of the pastor, was named as honorary president, and Mrs. Jessie White as president. Each of the seven vice-presidents will have a special chairmanship. They are Mrs. William Denniss, missionary; Mrs. P. H. Norton, community service; Miss Grace Roberts, industrial; Miss James Leslie Pearson, social; E. W. G. G.; George Lippincott, C.W.G.; with Mrs. Clyde Cave, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward Oppen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert E. Coulter, treasurer and Mrs. William Lockett, historian.

Installation of officers will occur in June, and after a summer of preparation, the new staff will assume duties in early autumn. Since it was White Cross day morning hours were given over to a display of the articles completed in the past months during the society's industrial periods, and which will be shipped overseas in June. Luncheon at noon to the accompaniment of many flowers, were served by Mrs. Frank W. Looze and her committee. In the bridge design was that special covered bridge for the "over and above" gifts of members, who yesterday reached their assigned quota with the charitable donation thus made possible.

Miss Grace Roberts was in charge of the afternoon program with its inspiring devotional period led by Mrs. Felix Aubuchon on "The Invisible Bridge of Opportunity." Mrs. Aubuchon's own mastery of the Braille system in the past two years, showed how she herself had crossed this bridge. Russell Crouse sang an appropriate solo with Miss Mame Havens at the piano, and Mrs. John A. Tessmann gave the main talk of the afternoon.

With the Washington conference on the Cause and Cure of War as her theme, she gave special attention to the resolutions passed, and to her contacts with distinguished people in attendance. She included among these, the native representative from China, and his declaration that American churches should feel responsibility for and continue the work which they have inaugurated in the Orient.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS

Mrs. J. L. Steffensen and sons, James Leslie and Donald David, former Santa Anans now living at 209 Marigold street, Corona del Mar, returned yesterday from a two-day visit in Claremont with relatives.

Mrs. M. W. Ball and daughter, Miss Marjorie Ball, 1317 Cypress avenue and Miss Marjorie Wall, daughter of the E. W. Walls, 1238 South Birch street plan to leave Saturday morning for San Francisco. There they will be joined by Mrs. Ball's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fuhrer of Salem, Ore., and the group will attend the Fair. The Oregon residents will accompany Mrs. Ball home for a visit late next week.

Mrs. Charles Rumell, Mrs. Harold Maylen, Mrs. Paul Andersen and Mrs. John J. Vernon were luncheon guests of Mrs. Carter Cannon yesterday at Glenn Ivy hotel in Corona. Mrs. Cannon, Mrs. Marcella Emerson and Mrs. Alida Redell entertained 50 guests on this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry LeBard and children, Harlo and Darlene, 1225 South Parton street, had an enjoyable vacation outing yesterday when they motored to Barstow and into Death Valley. They visited the old "Ghost City" near Barstow, and in the Valley, saw the borax mines among other points of interest.

Charles W. Potts has sufficiently recovered from a recent operation at St. Joseph hospital, to return to his home, 213 1/2 South Birch street. He has been ill for the past several months, undergoing two operations, but is now well established on a return to health.

gram on the theme, "Democracy Lights the Way."

Two hundred women of the five counties of the district, interested for this all-day meeting, the last before the annual convention to be held in Orange on May 26, when Mrs. E. E. Smith will be installed in the presidency.

Enjoyable Reading Fare To Be Outlined for Ebell Society

That monthly program feature so keenly enjoyed by Ebell society members, the review of books and current events by Mrs. Jack Valley, may be anticipated for Monday afternoon in the clubhouse auditorium. For after the necessary but short business session conducted by Mrs. W. S. Thomson, the program will offer Mrs. Valley's selection from the April lists of the publishers.

As the general theme of her talk, the reviewer has chosen a quotation from Winston Churchill, "The stations are closing down, the lights are going out . . . I do not know how long such liberties will be allowed, but there is still time for those to whom freedom and parliamentary government mean something to consult together."

On her list of books followed by play reviews, will be "Betrayal in Central Europe" by G. E. R. Gedy; "Survey After Munich," Graham Hutton; "The New Western Front," (Stuart Chase), all dealing with international subjects; a look at the Orient with "He Opened the Door of Japan" by Carl Crow, and "My Days of Strength" by Anne Walter Fearn. In the line of adventure will be "I Ran Away to Sea at Forty" by Mary S. Fahnestock, and "Seven Seas on a Shoestring" by Dwight Long.

James Boyd's "Bitter Creek," "The Land is Bright" (Archie Bins); "Fiesta in Manhattan" (Charles Kaufman); "Hell Hollywood" (Jack Preston); "Doctor Adams" (Irvine Fineman); and "Danger Signal" (Phyllis Botten) will be followed by "Wickford Point" by John P. Marquand, and "The Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page.

Hostess Has Double Incentive for Shower

Mrs. J. E. Dwyer of Southgate, who is spending this week in Santa Ana, entertained Tuesday night with a layette shower honoring her sister, Mrs. W. A. Camp of Southgate and their sister-in-law, Mrs. C. H. White, jr. (Helen Upshall) of this city. Mrs. Camp will be remembered as the former Miss Lawrence White of Santa Ana.

The home of Mrs. White, 2123 West Eighth street, where Mrs. Dwyer is visiting, was scene of the hospitality. Pastel-tinted sweet peas, violets and pink rosebuds formed a springtime setting for the party. Tall stork figures placed here and there added to the significance of the occasion, as did games of appropriate theme. Prizes were won by Mesdames L. Lawrence, J. F. Farwell, E. Burgess, C. Roberts, B. F. Dunham, and L. Roberts.

Layette shower gifts in charming array were showered upon Mrs. White and Mrs. Camp. Refreshments were served on individual trays appointed with pink bottle nuptials and napkins folded to represent kimonas.

The 14 guests included Mrs. C. H. White, mother of Mrs. Dwyer and her three daughters, Peggy, Joan and Sharon are here for Easter vacation. Mrs. Camp is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White on West Sixth street.

En Route To Conclave

Pictured on their trip back to Lawrence, Kans. to attend the biennial of the Intercollegiate association of Women Students, are Miss Ione Hooven (left), Alpha Delta Pi, and Miss Mary Lou Braun, Alpha Chi Omega. The two popular coeds will represent the Women's Self Government association of U.S.C. at the conclave, and were snapped at dinner aboard the Union Pacific Challenger, en route to Lawrence. Miss Hooven is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hooven, 1325 North Garnsey street. Miss Braun's home is in Glendale.

Country Club Young Folk Anticipate Gala Egg Hunt

Paying his annual visit early Sunday morning, the Easter bunny will leave quantities of eggs out at Santa Ana Country club, so that all children of Country club members may take part in the annual egg hunt to be held Sunday afternoon on the grounds. Festivities will begin at 4 o'clock.

In charge of arrangements for the affair are Mrs. E. D. Holmes, jr., Mrs. William Jeffrey and Mrs. Riley Huber, the three board of directors' wives who have small children. They will be assisted by a large staff of workers, Mesdames George Walker, Henry Williams, Fred Merker, R. A. Miller, George Baker, Stanley Reinhaus, Kenneth Herbert, Ben Osterman, William Stauffer, Clarence Hoiles, Wayne Harrison and John Ball.

So that competition will be fair in every way, prize awards will be made in three age groups, it was pointed out. Each child participating will be given a pretty basket in which to put the colorful eggs which he finds.

Reservations are not required, and it is expected that a large group of boys and girls, from tiny tots to young people of junior high school age, will take part in the event. Many of the children and their parents are planning to remain at the clubhouse for Sunday night supper, which will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock.

Mayflower Club Members Attend Two Affairs

Several members of Mayflower club took part in a surprise party yesterday afternoon in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. C. W. Copeland. The honoree's home at Fourth and Flower streets was scene of the affair. At the close of an informal afternoon of cards, a pretty birthday cake provided by Mrs. William Maryme, was served with coffee. Flowers and birthday cards were showered upon Mrs. Copeland.

The preceding day brought a regular meeting of Mayflower club in the home of Mrs. Robert E. Smith, 802 East Sixth street, with Mrs. Harvey Springer as co-hostess. Sweet peas and calla lilies brightened the rooms where 13 members assembled for bridge play and sewing. Refreshments were served.

Next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 2 at noon at Santiago park clubhouse, where covered-dish luncheon will be served.

Former Santa Anan has Students in Conclave Finale Concert

Of the scores of Santa Anans interested in the three-day meeting of California-Western School Music Educators conference which closed yesterday in Long Beach, the J. W. McCormacs were among those who had special incentive to attend last night's climaxing concert. Their son, Halstead McCormac, head of the music department at Lone Pine school, had instructed six of the pupils who appeared in the finale program.

Also, the Santa Anans were personally acquainted with these six young musicians, since they had divided their Southland stay between the homes of Mr. and Mrs. McCormac, 112 Church street, and of Mrs. Halstead McCormac's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lutes, 312 South Garnsey street. Mr. and Mrs. Lutes also attended the concert, which was presented by picked student-musicians from the states participating in the conclave.

It was pointed out that it was a marked honor for six students to be selected from Lone Pine school, which has an enrollment of just 110. In the group were Willma Willis, violin; Ray Jones, bass violin; Dean Knight, alto saxophone; Leonard Wilfang, chorus bass; Clyde Burkhardt, chorus tenor; and Gloria Castro, alto saxophone. With Mr. and Mrs. Halstead McCormac, they were among visiting students and teachers feted at a concert given last Saturday by Otto Klempner and the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra.

The students left today for Lone Pine, but Mr. and Mrs. McCormac are remaining here until Sunday.

Committee Appointments Made at Auxiliary Event

Committees for spring events were appointed Tuesday evening at a meeting of Calumit Auxiliary U. S. W. V. in Knights of Columbus hall. The president, Mrs. Ruth Hess conducted the meeting, introducing as visitors, Mrs. Florence Winders, president of Los Angeles Auxiliary No. 26 and Laura Keyes of Long Beach Auxiliary.

Named on the social committee for May, June and July were Mary Cooper, Grace Deck and Elizabeth Moberly. In charge of arrangements for covered-dish dinner which camp and auxiliary will hold April 25 at 6:30 p. m. in the hall will be Mesdames Effie Hawley, Bertha Helmer, Anna Gail, Catherine Haskell, Phoebe Hyatt and Mary Cooper.

Mrs. Lila Kincaid, member of the society now living in Ocean-side, was welcomed. She is president of V.F.W. auxiliary in her new home city. It was voted to send flowers to a member of Calumit Auxiliary, Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson, who was injured in an automobile accident in Illinois this week.

jimmie fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—Settin' Around (Paramount): I had an eerie experience here today. Wandering through the half-lit store rooms of the property department, I found myself in a remote corner filled with ancient weapons and armor—relics of Cecil B. De Mille's great early-day classic, "The Ten Commandments." I stopped there to muse awhile, remembering those old, colorful days and the great stars who were reigning then. And suddenly—in the gloom of that property room—I saw Theodore Roberts!

For a long moment, while chills chased one another up and down my spine, I felt that I was confronted by a ghost. Then common sense reassured itself. I was staring at a life-sized, framed photograph of Hollywood's "Grand Old Man," dressed in the costume he wore as "Moses" in "The Ten Commandments"—a photograph so life-like that it seemed to be struggling for speech. Call me silly if you wish, but I couldn't entirely shake my first impression until I stepped into the bright sunshine outside the building.

Would it be so strange, after all, if these older studios which have been temples of make-believe for more than 20 years, were haunted by the ghosts of stars who have passed on? By the wraiths of Rudy Valentino and Wally Reid, and Barbara La Marr? By Theodore Roberts and Lon Chaney and Alma Ruebens? Their work was their greatest passion in life—and here, in dusty prop rooms are visible relics of their careers. Would it be so strange if sometimes, in the still of night, they came back, to re-play the scenes that thrilled us all?

CHATTER ABOUT PAR-AMOUNT IDOLS: Bill "Hop-along Cassidy" Boyd, noblest coward of them all, still can't roll a cigarette. Look alike: Paulette Goddard and Peggy Fears. The best British accent in the "Beau Geste" company is that of young David Holt, a native-born American. Brian Donlevy is bidding for All-American casualty rating—he was shot through the hand for "Jesse James," stabbed in the back during "Beau Geste," and now he's worrying about a bad cold. "Island of Lost Men," you'll be glad to know, is NOT another picture of life in Alcatraz. There ought to be a gag in the fact that Theodore Sparkuhl is one of Paramount's ace cameramen—you figure that out. It would take more imagination than I can boast to call Chief Thundercloud, who plays the title role in "Geronimo," a Vanishing American.

A tragedy on the "Geronimo" set. Ralph Morgan, playing a general of cavalry, galloped before the cameras this morning, leaped from his horse, and bent quickly to examine a wounded soldier. Too quickly—for, with one magnificent r-r-r-r, the seat of his skin-tight pantaloons split from stem to stern. A hasty telephone call to wardrobe, and back came word that there wasn't a duplicate pair of uniform pants to be had. Wardrobe would make another pair... of course they would rush the order... no, probably they would not be ready before evening... While Ralph blushed, wriggled and tried to face in all directions, the director revised the script. All of Mr. Morgan's scenes could be shot with him facing the cameras. "Draw a line across the foreground," Ralph ordered. "Anyone who crosses it is just a Peeping Tom!"

The script of "The Cat and the Canary" called for a very special cat. It must be black and lean and glossy—it must arch its back and hiss on the least provocation, and, having arched, it must hold the pose. In short, puss, for this picture, not only had to look the part but be an accomplished actor as well. A cat like that proved hard to find and more than 200 were appraised and tested without one proving satisfactory. But, this being Hollywood, irony finally solved the situation. The ideal cat was found—on the Paramount lot. It was one of the alley cats kept to keep mice out of the store rooms. This morning on the set they staged a solemn christening. In the future, she will be known as "Scarlet O'Hara"—because she was so hard to cast.

At lunch Bob Burns was displaying a telegram received by the studio after the preview of "I'm From Missouri" in Kansas City. It was from E. D. Frazier, who sold the prize mule, "Sampson," to Paramount for the picture, and it reads: "Just returned from premiere. Sampson gave a wonderful performance. Everybody here proud of that mule. Sampson makes picture a real American story. Looks like he will be a big star. Sampson sure steals scenes, doesn't he? Bob Burns was good, too."

On the "Island of Lost Men" set, Anna May Wong was playing a scene with her arms full of orchids. "Proof that I've really made progress," she said to me, indicating the ultra-expensive flowers. When I made my first stage appearance, at Central High school here in Los Angeles, I carried a bouquet of sweet peas!" Copyright, 1939, McNaughton Syn., Inc.

Accordian Band Party Blue Note Accordian band members held another of their gala parties Monday night at 420 West Fourth street, where they usually meet for rehearsal. Ten tables of games were in play during the evening.

Prizes in these various contests were won by Vina Mae Harmer, Ethel Mae Hazen and Dorothy Link, for the girls; Virgil Watkins, Clifford Gallo and Jimmie Dale, for the boys. Ice cream, cake and fruit punch were served in a setting of Easter appointments.

IF YOU FEEL SUNK

Read this and cheer up

Are you so blue that life is no longer worth living? Do you cry easily? Do you feel low, mean, depressed—just absolutely SUNK? Then here's good news for you in case you need a good general system tonic—just take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and tone up your system, so that it can more easily throw off the "blues" and give more energy to enjoy life.

MILLIONS of women have depended upon this Compound and have passed the word along to friends and neighbors, and to their children.

Why not take Pinkham's Compound and go "smiling thru"?

Harmony Bridge Club

Harmony Bridge club's luncheon Tuesday noon at the Rossmore was a pleasant affair arranged by the two hostesses, Mrs. Jessie Rez and Mrs. Nellie Sylvester. They invited the group to Masonic temple for the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. Maude Swarthout conducted a short business meeting in advance of card play at four tables. Prizes were won by Mrs. Emma Rose and Mrs. Rez in auction; Mrs. Florence Wright and Mrs. Estelle McFarren, contract. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 18 at 12:30 p. m. at the Rossmore cafe.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Community Players have been reminded that the customary program in The Barn on the month's first Thursday night, will be omitted for April and there will be no meeting tonight. This was decided because of Lent and pre-Easter activities; the school vacation and demands of the coming One-Act Play tournament on April 13, 14 and 15.

Today's recipe came to me titled, "Wind Cake" so poor a name for such a feather-light bit of pastry. I am re-naming it—

Air-Flow Sponge Cake
5 eggs — yolks in one bowl, whites in another
5 tablespoons cold water
1½ cups fine sugar
1½ cups sifted pastry flour, sifted several times again with ½ teaspoon, each, baking powder and salt
¾ teaspoon cream of tartar added to beaten egg whites.
1 teaspoon extract, any flavor but almond.

—Contributed.
Divide eggs as directed. Beat yolks light, add water and beat; add sugar by spoonfuls, beating until the sugar dissolves. Sift flour before measuring and four or five times thereafter. Add in small amounts to the egg yolk mixture, keeping the batter very smooth. Now, go back to the bowl of egg whites; whip to the stiff, foamy stage, scatter cream of tartar over whites and continue beating until little peaks will stand up when the beater is pulled out (a state this side of what is known as "dry"). Add extract to batter, using ¼ teaspoonful if you decide on almond—and fold in the beaten egg whites. Spoon batter into a water rinsed tube cake pan and bake 1 hour at 320 degrees. Invert pan to loosen cake. Frost with an orange butter icing (uncooked).

I suggest this cake with strawberries and cream for the Easter breakfast.

If your party is for six, three spring chickens selling for a dollar will be ample. Halve the chickens, dust with flour and brown in butter. Transfer to a shallow baking pan, season with a big spoonful of minced chives or parsley and pour 1 cup top milk into pan. Bake in a very slow oven, basting chicken as it browns. Add more cream to make gravy. 1½ hours of baking time will be required). English Country Sausage uses ordinary bulk pork sausage, flavored highly and mixed until pliable with a little rice boiled to paste. Chill sausage, form into cakes, crumb them and bake in slow oven after browning over a hot fire.

MRS. WEISEL WILL HEAD EBELL CLUB

ANAHEIM, April 6.—That Mrs. Frederick Weisel will proceed from the first vice-presidency of Anaheim Ebell club to the presidency held the past year by Mrs. H. B. Pearson was assured yesterday by a report of the nominating committee headed by Mrs. A. P. M. Brown. Nominations were officially closed awaiting formal election at the May meeting when no additions were made from the floor. Named to the executive board with Mrs. Weisel are Mrs. D. J. Youngs, first vice president; Mrs. Lotus H. Loudon, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Rossberg, recording secretary; Mrs. M. Wethered, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eldon Stark, treasurer; Mrs. H. E. Benjamin, curator; Mrs. J. H. Baker, auditor; Mrs. Albert Raymond, parliamentarian, and trustees for the coming year, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Sid McGraw and Mrs. R. N. Ashley. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. John Wilson, and Mrs. Ben Kaulbars will continue as trustees.

Upon motion from the floor, Mrs. Pearson in her capacity as president was voted authority to name delegates and alternates to all remaining conventions and conclaves during the club year, and announced as candidates to the annual Orange County Federation convention to be held April 27 at the Santa Ana Ebell clubhouse, Mrs. Fred Weisel, Mrs. R. Alden, Mrs. John Anthony, Miss E. Kate Rea, Mrs. H. G. Carlin, Mrs. George Chambers, Mrs. L. A. Benner, Mrs. Richard Ryan, Mrs. James Kelsey, and Mrs. William Falkenstein. Their alternates are Mrs. O. E. Hansen, Mrs. J. P. Brastad, Mrs. George Barfoot, Mrs. Charles Franz, Mrs. E. G. Havard, Mrs. George Holden, Mrs. Louis Hoskins, Mrs. John Kellenberger, Mrs. Eldon Deering and Mrs. Herman Oelrich.

The business session, most important of the year, followed the club's customarily pleasant luncheon, attended by approximately 100 members. Mrs. Albert Launer of Fullerton, vice president at large of the California State Federation of Women's clubs, was guest speaker during the luncheon hour. With skillful brevity she sketched the history of the national federation's growth, and urged Anaheim Ebell members to make a good showing at the national convention to be held May 4, 5 and 6 in San Francisco. She reminded them of the part that clubwomen through their federations have played in constructive legislation throughout the state and country, and stressed the importance of their continuing to be vitally interested in home and foreign affairs.

Magnifying the latter point, Mrs. Malbone Graham was featured speaker of the day. Attention was centered on the extensive ramifications of the foreign policy of the United States, what it is, how it is evolved, who makes it, and what it will be.

The stimulating session was closed by Mrs. Pearson with a thank you to Mrs. Robert Royalty and Mrs. Newman Sanford who headed the luncheon committee of the day. The lovely luncheon decorations arranged by Mrs. James Sutherland also were praised, and an enjoyable interlude was the presentation of two humorous readings by Kay Wilson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Wilson. Mrs. M. A. Gauer read a portion of the Easter story and Mrs. George Holden led the flag salute. Focal point on the stage during the afternoon was a tall cross fashioned of lovely white blossoms and daffodils by Mrs. R. J. Dugdale. Its initial showing was made particularly striking by an appropriate Easter song sung by Mrs. Walter Ross to the accompaniment of Mrs. Charles Pearson.

Dinsmore Talks At Legion Meet

PLACENTIA, April 6.—The regular meeting of the local American Legion post at Legion hall, Monday night, heard a short talk by Dinny Dinsmore, of Riverside, 21st district commander. He told about the forthcoming district meeting at Corona, and invited the local post to attend. Most of the meeting was given over to discussion of plans for sending a local boy to Sacramento in June to the "Boys State." It was pointed out that while other posts in the county did this last year, the local post merely discussed it. This time the men intend to follow the usual custom of choosing an outstanding boy, junior or senior at Valencia High school, to attend the proceedings at which boys from all over the state set up a "state government" of their own each June. Toby Aldredge is chairman of the committee appointed to take charge of plans.

Sparkes Funeral Held Tuesday

COSTA MESA, April 6.—Funeral services for Robert J. Sparkes, 77, were held Tuesday afternoon at Anaheim, while his son, Albert Sparkes of Costa Mesa, is recuperating from injuries received while attempting to reach his father's bedside before his death. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Martha Ann Sparkes, two daughters, Mrs. Grace Hunt of Anaheim and Mrs. Blanche McClellan of Costa Mesa, a son, Albert Sparkes, of Costa Mesa, a brother, S. G. Sparkes of Ball road, Anaheim, 11 grand children and five great-grandchildren.

Disaster Group Given Approval

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—A new ordinance passed Monday night by the Newport Beach city council gives Newport Beach an organization for use in any city-wide emergency, with the plan sponsored here by the Newport Beach American Legion post of which Morgan Leonard is commander.

Committees for the disaster council as it was termed, with the first named in each case as chairman include mayor of the city, Harry H. Williamson; vice chairman, Lloyd Claire, and E. B. Whitson; transportation, R. R. Hodgkinson, Roland Thompson and Robert Gardner; communication, Dorothy A. Smith, chief operator at the telephone office, E. E. Fitzpatrick and Willis Fields; personnel, Morgan Leonard, Bob Boyd; law and order, R. R. Hodgkinson, Frank Naylor; fire, Frank W. Crocker and Jan Briscoe; water and supply, R. L. Patterson, John McMillan; streets, John Siegel, Bill Covert; medical, health and sanitation, Dr. Gordon M. Grundy, Dr. Conrad Richter and Dr. Ralph Hoard, American Red Cross, Thomas E. Bouchee, E. I. Moore; necessities of life, James S. Brown, Charles Way, Oliver Campbell, Gus Tamplis; shelter, A. M. Nelson, Felix Modjeski; rescue, Frank W. Crocker and Jan Briscoe; rehabilitation, Irvin George Gordon and Mrs. R. R. Randel; and finance, C. F. Watts and J. E. Sadler.

First reading of an ordinance which would regulate the licensing of approximately 30 types of business within the city was heard. City Engineer R. L. Patterson was asked to make a survey of the harbor area of the regulations and standard specifications for piers. Balboa Island residents were informed that the city would furnish water for flowers to be planted in the island parkways if money is raised for the seed and work conducted under the direction of the park superintendent.

Completes Third Year As Pastor

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 6.—Last Sunday marked the third year that Captain Albert N. Park, jr., has served as pastor of the Capistrano Community church, Captain Park, a retired navy chaplain, took the pastoring of the church after a year of supply pastors had filled the pulpit, following the retirement of Dr. Hugh McNinch, pastor emeritus.

The annual church report from all organizations of the church, show progress in both attendance and the financial standing during the past year, and a membership of 156 at the present date.

A Junior Christian Endeavor was organized this year and both the Junior and Intermediate societies received the highest awards in the county for attendance. The Sunday school now has an average of 100 in attendance, with the expansion of Sunday school rooms, as a possibility in the near future.

J. S. Malcom, president of the Men's Brotherhood, reports an average monthly attendance of 75, with some of the best speakers in Southern California featured on the programs. The Ladies' Aid are in charge of the Brotherhood dinners and the Missionary society have met the goal set for their organization during the year.

The treasurer reported a balance on hand after all bills were paid for the year, and a good portion of the pledges for the new year already received.

T. W. Billips was re-elected as treasurer of the church for the ensuing year. The board of trustees elected were C. Russell Cook, J. S. Malcom, Paul H. Demaree, Pohn Bishop, T. W. Billips, J. Roy Smith, A. W. Spear, Harlow Halladay and Robert I. Williams. Guy Williams and David T. Prenter were re-elected for a term of three years as elders of the church.

Carl H. Hankey, speaking for the elders, complimented Captain Park for the splendid service he has rendered the church and its many organizations.

Plan Reunion At Irvine Park

LIBERTY PARK, April 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemm are planning their annual Easter family reunion for Irvine park, the plan to meet there for the day Sunday, where a dinner party will be included in the day's activities.

Those included in the reunion will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemm of this place, the parents; their son, Lester Lemm and wife of Lynwood; son, Max Lemm, wife and daughter of Huntington Beach; son-in-laws and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pierce of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones of Huntington Beach; daughter, Mrs. Ellen Orondorf of Los Angeles and Bessie Britels, Lakefield, Minn., visitor who is at present located in Long Beach.

CHURCHES TO HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES

WINTERSBURG, April 6.—Special services, appropriate to Easter Sunday, are being presented Sunday at Wintersburg church.

At Wintersburg Methodist Episcopal church a cantata entitled "The Easter Story," is being presented under the direction of Ed. Evans of Long Beach by more than 20 voices. This will be at 7:30 o'clock and will include the following features: "Hosanna," baritone solo and choir; "Thy Will Be Done," mezzo soprano solo and choir; "The Cross Was Heavy," bass solo and choir; "Blessed Jesus," woman's trio; "Be Not Afraid, He Is Risen," choir and soprano solo; "Joy Dawned Again," choir and alto solo; "Glory in the Garden," soprano-alto duet and choir; "Saved By Grace," quartet and choir; "Alleluia," choir.

The morning worship at 10:30 o'clock, will include the Easter sermon by the pastor, Rev. George Quayle, who will speak on the subject, "A Resurrection of Faith." There will be a child baptism and reception of members. Special Easter music will include a choir number "Sing, Men and Angels, Sing" and "Open the Gates of the Temple."

On Friday evening there will be a commemoration of the Lord's Supper and the fourth quarterly conference. This meeting is the annual meeting, at which all members of the church have a voice and vote and it is expected that a good representation of the church membership will be present.

The worship service will begin at 7 o'clock p.m. and the business meeting follows. Dr. James E. Dunning, district superintendent, will preside throughout the evening.

Special features dealing with the Easter season for the Wintersburg Japanese Presbyterian church begin tonight (Thursday) when the communion service will be held at 8 o'clock.

Sunday morning a group, including some 15 from the church are to attend the Sunrise services at the Hollywood Bowl. The local Easter service will be held at 2 p.m. at the church and a baptismal service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. Kowta, who is combining a service for adults and children at this time. The sermon topic will be "Rising With Jesus." Special music will be presented by some of the young women and children of the church.

The evening church service will be omitted.

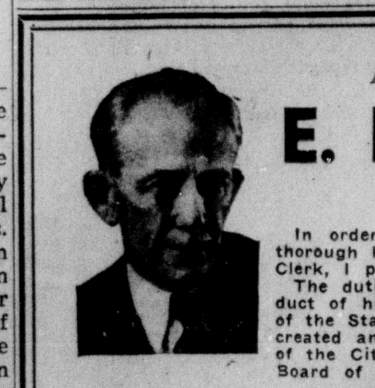

Lido Isle Mecca For Vacationists

LIDO ISLE, April 6.—Lido Isle has attracted a large quota of in-laners to their beach homes for the Easter vacation. Tennis courts, indoor badminton courts at the clubhouse, and numerous other attractions of the island have occupied a large share of their time.

Here from Beverly Hills are Mr. and Mrs. Wesley L. Nutton jr. and family, vacationists from Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Weinberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick S. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White and family. From San Marino are the Yates Owsleys and Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laury of Huntington Park are at the Isle as are Fred McLain, comptroller of Occidental College, with Mrs. McLain and family. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilson and family are here from Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Maurice from Monrovia. From Pasadena are Dr. and Mrs. Le Roy B. Sherry, Mrs. Henry P. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Gooms of Claremont Colleges, visitor here the past weekend, will probably be here again next week for the school's vacation which follows the Easter holiday.

Miss Patricia Palmer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roger S. Palmer of 215 via Ravanna, plans to entertain a group of Pomona College classmates next week at the family Lido Isle home.

A STATEMENT BY E. L. VEGELY CITY CLERK

In order that the voters may have a thorough knowledge of the duties of the City Clerk, I present the following FACTS: The duties of the City Clerk and the conduct of his office are governed by the laws of the State of California and the ordinances created and adopted by the Legislative Body of the City, the City Council, known as the Board of Trustees.

The City Clerk is sworn to carry out faithfully and efficiently the desires and actions of the City Council and the duties of the office should in no way be construed as, or confused with, the PERSONAL desires of the City Clerk.

During my past service as City Clerk I have carried out these duties faithfully and to the best of my ability.

The office of the City Clerk has charge of vital records of the City and my thorough knowledge and proper handling of these records has been proven by numerous endorsements given in Grand Jury and Certified Auditor's reports.

I have no other business interests, or financial interest, to detract from my service to you, and, as in the past, I will continue to devote my entire time and effort in serving the people of the City of Santa Ana in an efficient, courteous and economical transaction of their business.

It is your civic duty to cast your ballot in this election and I will appreciate your continued support.

Junior Traffic Patrol Active

FULLERTON, April 6.—Members of the junior traffic safety patrol at the Fullerton Wilshire avenue school, recently organized and soon to go into operation under sponsorship of the Fullerton 20-30 club, were guests at a special program and dinner at the Chrysler automobile plant in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Forty members of the traffic patrol with a group of adults providing the transportation and escort left for the plant at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday under the direction of Chester Wolfe. The party met at Wolfe's garage at Chapman avenue and Spadra road in Fullerton and left from there in the form of a caravan.

The program of the day included a motion picture on safety, a trip through the automobile plant and a dinner at noon.

Eastern Star In Meeting At Brea

BREA, April 6.—More than 35 were present at the meeting of the Brea Eastern Star held Monday evening to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the founding of the local chapter. Mrs. Eva Jarvis, present matron, presided.

Mrs. Lina Russell and Charles Miller, mother and father of the chapter, were escorted to East and were the honored guests for the evening.

Mrs. Ella Miller was also an honored guest as she has the unique record of having not missed a meeting in all of the 10 years of the existence of the chapter.

As another feature during the business meeting, Elmer Guy, was installed as associate patron of the lodge.

Mrs. Elmer Sandman, conductress, gave a tribute to the pioneers and traced the history of the chapter.

Relief Corps Initiates

WESTMINSTER, April 6.—One new member, Mrs. M. Truscott, was initiated at Tuesday evening's meeting of the William A. Smalley Woman's Relief corps, making a membership of 35 for the corps.

The installing of Mrs. Lenora Raydenbow had to be postponed owing to the inability of the installing officer to be present. This will take place at the next corps meeting which will be in two weeks.

Annual Spring Dinner Date Set

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—April 25 was the date set for the annual spring dinner party for members of the Three 'n Twenty club and their husbands when the group met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wayne Holt on East Chapman avenue. The party will be held at the Emmett Smith home with each member contributing to the dinner menu. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Wilbur Harper.

Short reviews of popular fiction and non-fiction books were given by Mrs. Albert Schneider. She also named a number of interesting books for children. The Misses Jean Holt and Barbara Schroff played a marimba duet from the new world symphony by Dvorak entitled, "Largo." The historian's report for the year was given by Mrs. W. W. Perkins jr.

Early in the afternoon the hostesses served a dessert course on trays bearing Easter favors. Present were Mesdames Irvine German, Wilbur Harper, Clifton Bryan, C. G. Crosby, Wesley Lamb, R. C. Rosset, F. A. Monroe, W. W. Perkins jr., Andrew Smiley, Robert Smith, Joe True, M. R. Sprinkle, Emmett Smith, C. G. Hall, L. W. Schauer, Albert Schneider and Wayne Holt.

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—Hal Polley, 20-30 district governor, Don Wiese and Howard Jeffries of the Fullerton 20-30 club, "Skip" Wolfe of Orange, member of the national board of directors, Charles Scanlon of Alhambra, a former Southern California district governor, were among the guests at the dinner meeting of the Newport Harbor 20-30 club Monday evening at Wilson's cafe at Balboa. A discussion on means of bettering 20-30 clubs was held by guests and members of the local group.

Beginning a series of craft talks by members, Dick Torrence will give a talk on the postal service at the meeting next week. Torrence, junior past president, also conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Ed Spicer. A number of local members planned to attend the dance scheduled for Saturday evening at the Santa Ana country club under the sponsorship of the Fullerton group and a sorority.

from 6 to 8 o'clock Saturday morning at the Balboa Rendezvous. Doors are to be open at 5 o'clock. The affair will be one of the Globe Musical Clock programs and broadcast over the air. Music will be provided by the Ev and Red Wallace Rendezvous orchestra. A jitterbug contest will possibly be included on the program according to Manager Fred Eastman.

REVEAL MARRIAGE AT DINNER PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—When Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers entertained a group of relatives with a dinner party at their home on Wright street Monday evening they announced the quiet wedding of their daughter, Miss Jewell E. Rogers, and Gordon C. Hammond, son of Mrs. Raymond Hammond, of Westminster.

The rites occurred Sunday, April 2, at Yuba, Ariz., with the Rev. Joseph Brown, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. The bride wore a smart sport ensemble with black accessories and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. There were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond plan to make their home in Garden Grove. Both young people are graduated from Garden Grove Union High school and the bride later attended Fullerton Junior college. She has been employed in the Garden Grove Pharmacy and the bridegroom is employed by the Beach Packing company at Oceanside.

At Monday night's dinner the table was centered with a low bowl of sweet peas in pastel shades. The climax of the dinner was the serving of a large white bride's cake which had been baked and decorated in pink and white rosebuds by the bride's mother.

Present on this happy occasion besides the honored couple and hosts were Mr. and Mrs. David Stark, daughters, Lorene, Lenora and Janice; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ferriell and daughters, Fern and Madeline; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sugars and sons, Edward and Ronnie; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rogers and children, Ernest, Bill and June; Carl Rogers, Claude Stark, Lester Thomas, of Garden Grove; the Misses Wilma and Florence Rogers, Miss Doris Thomas, of Anaheim.

Easter Week Services Held

LAGUNA BEACH, April 6.—Solemn Easter week services, to culminate on Sunday, are being held at St. Mary's Episcopal church, under the direction of the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, rector. Holy communion is given each morning at 8 o'clock, today's service being a corporate communion for women, to be followed by the Woman's auxiliary. On Good Friday, the three-hour Passion Service, commencing at noon, will close at 3 p. m. On Easter Saturday, holy baptism will be conferred on a class of adults and children at 4:30 p. m. Special Easter Sunday services, celebrating Christ's triumphant resurrection, will be held at St. Mary's, with full musical accompaniment.

Seeks Permit To Build Floats

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—J. A. Beek of Balboa Island has applied to the war department for permit to construct three mooring floats and approach piers in Newport bay opposite property of the city of Newport Beach. Mrs. Allen Phoenix, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Webb of Balboa, has gone to England for a stay of three months where she will visit her aunt, Mrs. W. B. England.

Climaxing the track season, the Sunset league meet will be held the afternoon of April 7 at Davidson field at Newport Harbor union high school.

Miss Marguerite Macculloch, daughter of Mrs. Matilda Macculloch of Balboa Peninsula, who went to England last August for a visit with relatives is en route home, it was learned.

Santa Ana junior college Orpheo Troupe will appear April 12 at Newport Harbor union high school, according to Chairman Hilton Asher.

Coast Philatelic Club To Meet

BALBOA, April 6.—Miss Alaska Davis of Long Beach will speak on "Children on Postage Stamps" at the meeting of the Coast Philatelic club scheduled for Thursday of next week at Wilson's cafe. A paper, "Nuts That Don't Come in Shells," will be given by President George E. Higgins of San Clemente.

The club has offered its cooperation in handling the annual cachet issued by the Tournament of Lights. Approximately 60 members are expected to attend the meeting.

WALNUT BOARD VOTE IS NEAR

All factors of the California walnut industry have been requested to nominate members for both the federal and state walnut control boards, according to information received here today. Nominations close April 15.

California members are to be nominated by the independent packers, California Walnut Growers' association and by independent growers. Independent growers who market through a packer other than the California Walnut Growers' association may make nominations on ballot forms already mailed them.

Write For Ballots
Independent growers whose names are not on record may obtain ballots by writing to the Walnut Control board, 213 Wholesale Terminal building, Los Angeles.

The board is the agency of nine members which co-operate with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in administering the federal walnut marketing agreement in this state, Oregon and Washington. California has seven members on the board and the other states one each.

The California state marketing agreement for walnuts is administered by a similar board which co-operates with the State Department of Agriculture.

Lucky Fisherman Unlucky On Prize

R. A. Young, of the state board of equalization office of Santa Ana, was both lucky and unlucky in his fishing trip aboard the live bait boat Sunshine operating from the Newport Beach pier Wednesday. Young had the jackpot won handily, but he unwittingly cleaned his fish before the fish were weighed for the prize. The fish, a barracuda, weighed in the neighborhood of 12 pounds before it was cleaned. However, Young had the most fish for one person, 24 in number, averaging 6 to 9 pounds.

Twenty-one passengers aboard the Sunshine had more than 450 barracuda, and D. W. King, operator of the King Fishing Fleet, declared: "In my experience in operating live bait boats, I have never seen a larger run of fish, and I believe this will be one of the best years in all time for sportfishing."

Holds Services

Mrs. Dorothy Runyon McIntosh, above, former pastor of the Foursquare Gospel church in Anaheim, will be the speaker at special Good Friday services to be held at the local Foursquare church at Fairview and Sycamore streets at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Candle light will add a wealth of color to the setting of the church.

Foursquare Plans Special Services

Special Good Friday services will be conducted at the Santa Ana Foursquare Gospel church, Fairview and Sycamore streets, at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow, it was announced today by Rev. W. C. Parham.

The services will be conducted by Evangelist and Mrs. Wayne McIntosh, both of whom sing, play musical instruments and preach. Mrs. McIntosh, the former Dorothy Runyon, recently was pastor of the Foursquare Gospel church in Anaheim, will be the speaker for the services. Her subject will be "The Seven Last Cries from the Cross."

As a special feature of the service a quartet will close the meeting with an illustrated song, "The Wayside Cross." Members of the quartet are: Miss Mildred Eckwall, Mrs. Ruth Macalary, Mrs. Irene Newland and Ray Hill. The public is invited to attend the services.

SENATE OKEHS U. C. AREA BILL

The California senate yesterday passed the bill of Orange county's senator, Harry Westover, to provide that junior college districts composed of more than one high school district would be divided into five wards for the purpose of electing directors.

However, it was indicated that opponents of the measure had not given up the fight against it, as Senator Chris N. Jespersen, of Atascadero, gave notice of reconsideration.

Westover's bill was designed to apply to the proposed union junior college district in southern Orange county, assuring high school districts outside of Santa Ana representation on the board of directors.

NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—Approximately 20 members were in attendance the past weekend for the meeting of the Newport Heights circle of the Woman's Aid of Christ Church by the Sea with Mrs. Edward Hart of 340 Costa Mesa street as hostess. Plans were made to continue the series of Chinese check parties following Easter vacation. Mrs. George Horner of Redlands avenue will be hostess for the April 13 meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Williams of San Marino, enroute home following a brief vacation stay at Ensenada spent the weekend in Corona del Mar as the guests of their relatives, Mrs. Florence Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Williams.

Mrs. Harold Davis (Marjorie Foskett) of Hollywood is spending the Easter holiday as the guest of her family at their Corona del Mar home on Fernleaf avenue.

Balboa Island 4-H club members who had scheduled a party Saturday at the new home of their leader, Mrs. Fred Ashman of 313 East 18th street, Costa Mesa, postponed the affair indefinitely because of Easter vacation activities.

Mrs. Gail Arbogast of the Trwin apartments left Sunday morning for Tulare where she will spend a few days as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Mullin and young daughter.

LET'S GO BUY-BUY WITH BETTY ANN

RANKIN'S, Fourth and Sycamore streets. We had fun browsing around today among the assortment of novelties on Rankin's dollar table. Grand things for bridge prizes and gifts. There are pictures, ducks, bowls, reading racks, vases, stationery, figurines and other things.
—B-A—

SCOLLER'S, 312 North Sycamore street. Sophistication is combined with that "little girl" look in the chic new dresses that have just arrived at Scoller's. They are called shirt waist dresses but they give the Gibson Girl effect. Short swing crepe skirts and sheer tops. Very clever.
—B-A—

THE REMNANT SHOP, 515 North Main street. Phone 5949-W. A pretty bright flower adds attractiveness to any dress. The Remnant Shop does have some of the most uniquely designed ones. Lots of different colors, too. Also at this shop you can find just the buttons, buckles or clips you have been looking for, cause they do have such a variety.
—B-A—

EL MAYAB TAMALES, Mrs. Omar Carillo, 1315 South Birch street. Phone 4392-J. Are you planning a little get-together for your crowd this week? We suggest a Spanish feast. Really, the tamales made by Mrs. Carillo are delicious. You will become a regular customer for them, once you have tried them.
—B-A—

ELECTRIC SHOE REPAIR SHOP, 316 West Fourth street. There is a difference in shoe repairing. We give preference to the Electric Shoe Shop because they do such an extra grand job on whatever shoes you take to them to fix. We want to tell you too, that we have received shoes looking as good as new after a visit to the Electric.
—B-A—

SCOTTIE'S, 2209 North Main street. A sundae especially originated in honor of our junior college students—we present Nutty Joe College. It is made with three kinds of nut ice cream with caramel and chocolate sauce topped with nuts. Price 15c. We'll see you at Scottie's this week end.

ATLAS CLEANERS, Third and Sycamore streets. When you put on your Easter bonnet to enter the Easter parade you'll want it to look fresh and new. For that we recommend the Atlas. You can have your hat cleaned for 50c. They do a quality job, too. Other prices are—suits cleaned, pressed and repaired, 50c—plain dresses, cleaned and pressed, 50c and 65c—ladies' three-quarter coats, cleaned and pressed, 50c. You will like outstanding results and courteous service you receive at the Atlas.

RUTHERFORD'S, 515 East First street. It is certainly handy to dash out to Rutherford's when we have a purchase to make. We can always find a parking place. Get your spring foundation garment now. Rutherford's handles the well known Gossard garments which include girdles, corsets, corselettes and Miss Simplicities. A Gossard corsetiere is in charge of all fittings. Spring hats priced at $1.95, $2.95 and up.

SWANSON'S DRIVE INN, 1807 North Main street. Swanson's wishes to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone of you who helped them celebrate their second anniversary Saturday night. For those of you who were unable to attend, in our opinion, you missed a rare treat. Everybody entered into the party mood and a delightful time was had by all. However, about every day is a special day at Swanson's on account of their grand chicken dinners. Come out and try it.
—B-A—

STAN McPHERRIN, Men's Wear, 515 North Main street. It is smart to buy your clothes at Stan's. Men purchasing their clothes at this shop will be the well dressed men at Easter. Do drop in and see the array of new spring shirts, slacks, jackets, socks, jewelry and accessories that Stan's has to show you.
—B-A—

BOUQUET SHOP, 409 North Broadway. Easter is the time for flowers. The Bouquet Shop has some of the most beautiful flowers to select from we have ever seen. There are lily plants, that are especially nice to send as gifts. Cut flowers include roses, tulips, daffodils and others. Don't forget this shop for attractive corsages either.
—B-A—

VALESKA RAMSON, 901 South Main street. For your children's Easter outfit—this shop has the cutest little suits of gabardine for that boy of yours. They have either long or short pants with little suspenders and matching jacket. Sizes 1 to 6. Price 69c. Adorable dresses for your little girl are priced at 69c also.
—B-A—

MCINTOSH'S MEATS, Second and Broadway. Located in the Empire Market. Easter dinner time is here again. We suggest, if you haven't already thought of it, a big juicy ham. Mmm, it makes our mouth water. The hams sold at McIntosh's are especially good. This market sells nationally known brands of ham, too.
—B-A—

NEWBERRY'S, 215 East Fourth street. Have you visited this new air-cooled store? If you haven't, you have a treat in store for you. Everything is so conveniently arranged in this establishment that you can easily find what you are looking for. Merchandise is moderately priced. Millinery and dress department. Fountain service.

WHITE CAB COMPANY, 431 West Fourth street. Phone 6565. Just think, only 10c a mile and 5c every 1/4 mile thereafter. That's all it costs to ride in a White Cab. The part we like best about it is that individual service is featured. There is no doubling up and there is 24-hour service with prices that never change. Cab, mister? Just Phone 6565.
—B-A—

WIESSEMAN'S, 420 North Main street. For those of you who love the entrancing patterns used in homemaking when America was very young, our advice to you is that you had better see the Replicas of Early American Hob-Nail Glass by Duncan at this store. Relish dishes 35c and 45c. Creams and sugars 85c, and many other pieces.
—B-A—

CARMEL CORN SHOP, 211 East Fourth street. Proprietor Jack Fisher. Mmmm, delicious. We mean, the carmel corn sold at this attractive little shop. In fact, it is so good, we have some every day. Sold wholesale or retail. In retail the corn comes in cellophane bags and is price at 5c and 10c. Believe you me, both bags are extra big.
—B-A—

ALBERT'S BARBER SHOP, 314 1/2 West Fourth street. Don't be misled in price. You receive in service just what you pay for. We personally know that Albert's gives the very best in haircutting. If you really want your hair to look nice for Easter go to Albert's. The clientele is 50 per cent women. No appointment necessary.
—B-A—

ORANGE COUNTY GARDENS AND HOMES

Through The Garden Gate

With MARAH ADAMS

Garden shows to the right of us, garden shows to the left of us, spring garden shows in the near past, the present and the near future! Perhaps no spring has brought so many flower shows in its wake in this vicinity and it is safe to say that flowerers and plants in Orange county gardens are being coaxed to do their best for appearances at these events by certain specified dates.

Included in flowers which will be presented at the Orange Flower show are some very lovely cinerarias growing at the Roy Willis home on East Chapman avenue, Orange. These have been grown in a wooden box on the north side of the home and are the most richly foliaged plants imaginable. The Orange Woman's club flower show will be held at the clubhouse on April 13 and 14 all day on the latter date and afternoon and evening on the former.

Of immediate interest, too, are the Huntington Beach show in Memorial hall, April 20 and 21, and the Julia Lathrop school second annual flower show on April 20 in the school auditorium. Anaheim Ebbl will stage a flower show in the clubhouse on April 11.

Those interested in flower arrangements could not fail to have been intrigued with those placed at the Southern California Spring Flower show at Pasadena. The clever use of loquat leaves in one arrangement, yellow blossoms of succulents, lemons, bits of the smoke tree and bilbergia blooms in others, were very much out of the ordinary and gave a number potential exhibitors at coming shows ideas for intriguing arrangements of their own.

Those planning to enter flower arrangements in coming flower shows may remember that a bit of plastic clay will hold the frog to be used, firmly in its container if applied when both frog and container are perfectly dry.

Said good-bye to a number of old friends this morning. They were the old trees that have nodded good-morning to me each day I passed them for the past 10 years. The trees that have been growing in the yard of the old Noah Palmer place at the corner of Broadway and Pine streets for the past half century. They are being cut down to make way for progress—a new apartment house to be erected on which construction work is being started.

It was a relief to know that the Bougainvillea vine which covers the palm tree at the southeast corner of the lot is to be left standing. Each year the old palm tree is draped in a gorgeous magenta mantle of blossoms, which is viewed by many persons from far and near.

This morning a great date palm had been felled, and the live oak near it was gone. Across the street in the front yard of the S. M. Dungan home, 221 South Broadway, are two great black walnut trees which were planted by the late Noah Palmer, pioneer resident here, and which are approximately of the same age as the trees on the Palmer home place.

At this season of the year the lily is considered very much indeed. Especially the Easter lily (Lilium longiflorum). The lily was brought to America from the Bermudas by a Philadelphia woman in 1875 and the plants were bought by W. K. Harris of that city, who introduced to America.

Flowers are always a welcome gift, aren't they? But when they are arranged in a unique container, then they are even more attractive to the receiver. An exquisite china shell filled with tulips was the bridge prize won by Mrs. George Walker the other day at a party given by Mrs. Herbert Stroschein and Miss Mary Safely. Wrapped in cellophane, the flowers presented such a lovely appearance that it was difficult to believe they were real. If any of you are fortunate enough to have tulips in your own wee gardens, here is your chance to arrange something unusually nice in the way of prizes or gifts.

NEW MARIGOLD IS DEVELOPED

Plant hybridists have finally succeeded in effecting a cross between the African and the French marigolds.

To the uninitiated this may seem a very easy matter, but it has presented a problem to hybridists over the years. Strange to say, the African marigold is not a native of Africa, it is really a Mexican and South American species. The French marigold is likewise a native of Mexico and South America.

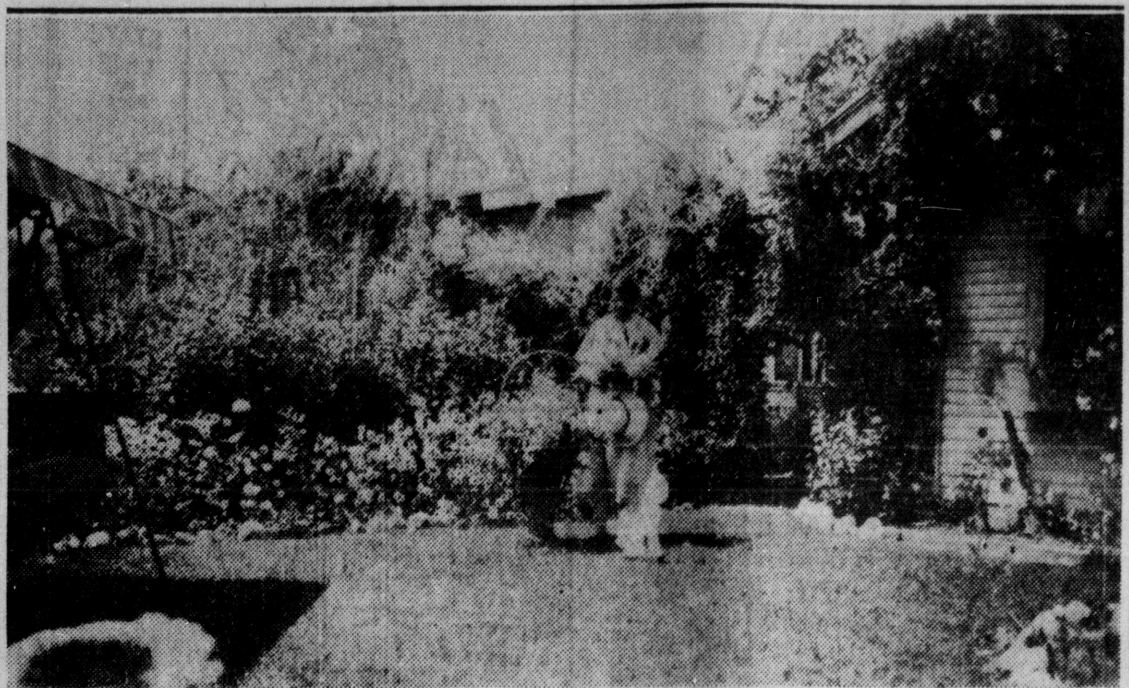

The new marigold, for the present, has been called "Red and Gold Hybrid." After the plantlets have developed their true leaves, a noticeable difference in coloring of stems and foliage will be apparent. By saving the reddish plants and discarding the light green plants, one will secure very handsome and interesting flowers with various proportions of red and gold markings.

Marigolds thrive in any ordinary garden soil in sunny locations. In fact, the French varieties do better in rather poor soil, as rich earth encourages rank growth and subordinates the gay blossoms.

Change Dates For H. B. Flower Show

Dates for the Huntington Beach Spring Flower show have been changed, it is announced by the president, Mrs. Stella R. White, from April 27 and 28 to April 29 and 30. The show is to be staged in Memorial hall and is expected to be one of the outstanding events of the year for members of the garden club sponsoring it. The club is unique in that it has both men and women members and holds sessions in the evening. The change in date was made because public schools week will be observed during the week originally selected for the show.

Beautiful Wisteria Vine In Bloom

One of Santa Ana's many beautiful wisteria vines will be found at the home of Mrs. L. William Hynes, 937 West Camille street and now is in full bloom. In fact it is two vines that are to be found clambering over fence and along the eaves of the home. One is of pioneer stock and came from the old McBride home at the corner of 10th and Main street, the house having been torn down some years ago to make room for a service station. Included in wisterias to be seen in this vicinity is one on the north side of East Myrtle street; one trained to grow over an umbrella shaped support in Birch park and a vine which covers the entire yard at the L. W. Thompson home, 272 North Cambridge street, Orange.

New Asters Repel Enemies

Resistant Aster Early Light Blue Won a Silver Medal in 1939 All-America Trials.

NAME FAST GROWING VINES FOR HOMES

Sow the seeds of these annual vines to relieve the unsightliness of bare walls and fences, to screen unpleasant vistas and buildings, to supply temporary beauty as arbor covers while slower growing perennial vines are taking root.

They may be used to cover porches and trunks of trees, to act as ground covers on slopes and banks and to supply coloring over trees in dense shade, in which annual climbing and trailing vines are utilitarian plants.

The Black-eyed Susan (Thunbergia Alata) is a very desirable annual trailer for a sunny spot. It will spread about four feet and produce innumerable single blooms in the warm buff and orange shades, with black centers.

In summer one always delights in having birds in the garden, so why not grow the Canary Bird vine (Tropaeolum Canariense), a member of the same family as the

If you like asters, but have trouble growing them, there is good news for you. Resistant strains, whose exceptional vigor enables them to fight off all troubles being constantly improved, will resist aster, Early Giant Light Blue, won a silver medal in the All America trials for 1939, indicating that in addition to vigor, the new resistant strains have attained exceptional beauty as well.

The China aster is one of the show flowers among the annuals. Though not related to the chrysanthemums it has many points of resemblance—both are natives of China, both have been developed into an amazing variety of forms and colors from an original small single flower, and both are at their best in the fall.

Asters have been grown in this country since revolutionary days and 20 years ago it was the most popular annual, but in recent years many amateurs have become discouraged because of the diseases which attacked them.

Of these, two are most prevalent, the wilt and the yellows. The first is usually present in the soil, and the second is insect borne. Resistant strains are grown on wilt infected soil; seeds from plants which thrive in this environment have been saved and grown for generations in similar surroundings until a race which refuses to wilt has been produced.

While not specifically immune to yellows, the resistant strains are so vigorous that many plants will survive the latter disease, provided all which show infection are destroyed as soon as detected. Asters need an early start; they cannot be set out before danger of frost is past, but their season to maturity is so long they need to be started early. This makes them ideal subjects for the indoor box or cold frame.

The silver medal winner, Early Giant Light Blue, is of the Crego or ostrich feather type. Its petals are curled and interlaced in a most attractive manner. With good culture it will produce flowers five inches in diameter, on three foot stems.

Wilt resistant asters may be obtained in all types, and colors and should be used wherever difficulties in growing this lovely flower have been encountered, whatever the trouble may be.

(dens) climbs almost scandalously, reaching a length of thirty feet in a season. In reality it is a perennial, but is commonly treated as an annual and is rarely attracted by insects or diseases. It fastens itself to any rough surface or wire netting by its tendrils. Attractive bells are a pure clear color in bud turning to a light violet or rosy purple when fully opened. The flowers are followed by large, plum-shaped fruits. The foliage is refined and dainty in character. Being a native of Mexico, it thrives in warm sunny situations on the south side of walls, porches or banks.

COACHELLA CLUB TO HOLD FLOWER SHOW

INDIO—The Coachella valley flower show and art exhibit, which is an annual event staged at the woman's club of Coachella valley, is scheduled to be held one day only this year, on Friday, April 14.

An effort is being made to reach all artists for entries by the art exhibit chairman, Mrs. George H. Schisler.

Promptness Urged Valley gardeners who are expected to take part in the flower show must have entries placed for judging by 10 a. m. and to bring containers.

Classes for entries will include 16 for roses; 10 for bulbs, including iris, tulips, ranunculus, freesias, gladiolus, water lilies and others; seven for perennials, including delphinium, carnations, nasturtiums, including sweet peas, larkspur, snapdragon, petunias, pansies, zinnias and others; two for flowering shrubs, vines or trees and ferns or potted plants; and three special classifications for desert flowers, cactus and succulents, are listed.

In addition, arrangements of the flowers, including two classes for entries by boys and girls of the grammar school and high school, are listed in 10 groups.

ORANGE PLANS SEVENTH SHOW

April 13 and 14 are the dates selected by the Orange Woman's club for the seventh annual spring flower show to be held at the Orange Woman's clubhouse. The show will open at 2 p. m. April 13 and will close at 10 p. m. and will open again on April 14 at 10 a. m. to continue until 10 p. m.

The flower show will be in charge of the Garden section of the club of which Mrs. Vernon Shippee is president. A food sale will be sponsored by the three economic sections of the organization, tea room by the two toastmaster sections, and a candy sale by Junior Matrons section.

Special features will be still life studies, picture box arrangements and varied flower arrangements. Flowers must be in place by 10:30 a. m. April 13 in order to be judged.

TIPS GIVEN ON CARE OF BULBS

A few tips on the care of bulbs after flowering should be in order at this time. Spring bulbs such as Daffodils, Tulips, Narcissus, Hyacinths, etc., will soon be bloomed out and garden space which these flowers have occupied will be required for summer flowering plants.

A most important thing to remember is that after the flower is spent, the bulb is making its flower bud for the next season, so it is important that the foliage be encouraged to stay green as long as possible. With bulbous subjects that make separate flower-stems and leaves, such as Narcissus, the picking of the flowers has only a slight effect on the building up of a flower bud for the next season. But with bulbs that bear flowers and leaves on the same stem, such as Tulips, any cutting of the foliage is detrimental to the next season's flower in proportion to the percentage of foliage removed. Whatever the type, the flowers, as they wither, should be cut off near the top of the stem; this prevents the flower from going to seed, which draws heavily upon the stored-up vitality of the bulb.

Do not cut off the tops of bulbous plants until they have completely died back. Some gardeners, in their haste to use ground space for summer plantings, resort to this practice without realizing the damage they are doing to their bulbs.

After the foliage has completely matured the bulb is dormant. If the planting is a recent one and the bulbs have not become crowded by increasing, they may remain in the same spot for several years. But when they have multiplied considerably (which will be shown by much additional foliage and fewer flowers) they should be taken up and separated and then either immediately replanted (which is best) or stored over the summer months, then replanted in the early fall. A change of location when replanting is always beneficial.

Orange County Gardening

By Mrs. H. Cardoza Sloan, Corona Del Mar
Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

Well, I suppose many of you visited the Pasadena flower show last week. The day we went (Friday) the sultry summer atmosphere, coming after weeks of cool, cloudy weather, was hard on plants and humans alike; both were perceptibly wilted. However, as always at a flower show, everyone was in good humor and eagerly enjoying all the beauty. There is a special charm about spring flowers, and not even tired feet, a perspiring brow or a palpitating heart can keep one from being happy when surrounded with azaleas, cinerarias, primroses, narcissus, pansies, schizanthus and other alluring blossoms. I shall not attempt to give any detailed description of the show, but just jot down a few things which especially appealed to me.

Soft yellow of the plumy little blooms of acacia latifolia attracted me as always. This is a most desirable acacia, grows only about 25 feet tall, and by judicious pruning can be kept low and bushy. It is a native of Australia, and will thrive in ocean winds, which makes it especially good along the coast. Something so sweet and spring-like about these yellow acacia blossoms, remind one of the soft, fluffy yellow of a baby chick in spring sunshine.

Among the ericas was one new to me, Erica chamissonis, according to the label. The little bell flowers were considerably larger than our winter favorite, Erica melanthera, and a little more open. They were a lavender pink, and very pretty.

A bowl of blue flower heads of Scilla Peruviana drew considerable favorable attention. In another exhibit there were white and pinkish blossoms of the same scilla. The blue was much the prettiest, a deep, rich sapphire. Differing from Scilla hispanica (or campanulata) which we mentioned last week, the flowers are borne in a broad, compact head, slightly conical in shape. I have read that this scilla never flowers two years in succession, taking a year's vacation after the effect of producing its splendid bloom. Anyway, next year I am going to try some bulbs of Scilla peruviana, and shall hope this item as to its non-flowering the second year will prove untrue in California, where so many signs fail.

Among the tulips was a bowl of Clusiana, that charming species tulip known as the "Lady Tulip." And a very lady-like appearance this flower has, refined in shape, a crimson streak on the outside of the white petals, a dark blue base within. It has a sort of mid-Victorian look, and is very pretty. By the way, the red and white striped effect gives this tulip another common name, "candy-stick tulip."

Tritonia "Prince of Orange," a large flower of brilliant orange was a glowing bit of color; the flower exceptionally large. Certainly a fine spring-blooming bulb for one liking gorgeous color.

I noticed blooms of iris Susiana, known as the "Mourning Iris," in two or three exhibits. Susiana is one of a species known as the onococlyus irises. These have large flowers, the segments broadly ovate. The upper being larger than the lower, giving it a quite different look from the German or bearded iris. The colors are somber (whence its name "mourning iris"), being an interlacing of very thin veins of blue or brown on a white or cream background.

Description of Iris Susiana gives the "outer segments 3 inches long, brownish purple veined and spotted with black-brown, with a brown beard; inner segments brownish white spotted with violet brown and black." I recall one of the flowers at the show as being decidedly bluer than the others, possibly a variety. This species is native to Asia Minor and Persia.

That lovely spring flower, the narcissus, was represented in great variety. One fine display from an Oregon bulb grower showed a large number of named varieties, all so charming it would be difficult to choose half a dozen special "must-haves." I noticed "La Vestale," a giant trumpet type of ivory-white with a cream trumpet, which I have seen before only in catalogue pictures. Also "Lovenest," which is called one of the pink daffodils, but it was a long way from pink. "John Evelyn" with a ruffled cup was attractive.

In my own garden this spring I have a great many of that grand golden-yellow daffodil, "King Alfred," some lovely white, "Mrs. E. H. Kregel," and a charming smoky double, "Cheerfulness." Hardly a day goes by that someone does not raise the question—what is the difference between narcissus, daffodil, and jonquil?

The classification of the narcissus, especially since the introduction of so many hybrids, has become much confused. For ordinary garden amateurs like ourselves perhaps it is enough to say that they are all narcissus. That those with the long trumpets are the true daffodils, the smaller cupped being called narcissus, and the only true "jonquil" is narcissus jonquilla, that little grassy foliaged plant, with small, yellow, sweet-scented flowers, which is often used as a border. This particular narcissus and its hybrids are the only ones to which the botanists give the name of "jonquil." But, as you know, in common garden use, daffodil, narcissus, and jonquil are tossed about interchangeably.

I noticed at the show (and I have in my own garden) some fine plants of spirea. These are herbaceous, that is they die to the ground every year, like peonies and delphinium. Botanically they are classed as "astilbe," instead of with the shrubby spireas, which include the meadowsweet and steed-bush I knew well in New England as well as our garden "Bridal Wreath" and the other shrub spireas which are so beautiful in Eastern gardens in spring.

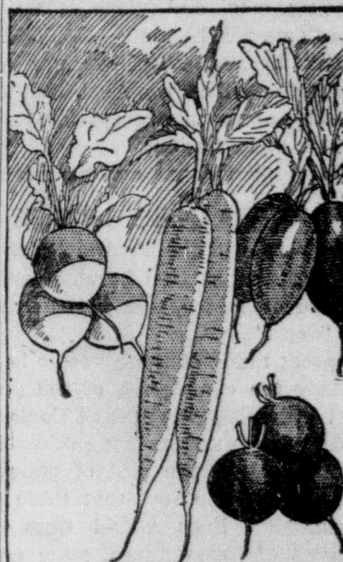

This herbaceous spirea, or astilbe, is much grown in Eastern flower borders. Perhaps it is too much a lover of cold winter to be at its best here. Perhaps, on the other hand, it would adapt itself to our growing conditions. The plant grows two or three feet tall, its bright green, pinnatifid leaves making a bushy foliage; the flowers are in feathery, spiky panicles, white or pink. It likes a rich, moist soil, with some peat or leaf mold, and requires a good deal of water for best development. In the garden it blooms along in June and its feathery flowering gives a delicate and airy grace to the flower borders.

Getting back to flower shows—the spring shows are in full swing now. Plan to visit some of them, you will enjoy the flowers displayed, you may see something new, and are sure to get inspiration for your own gardening.

NO PLOT COMPLETE WITHOUT RADISHES

It would be rare indeed to imagine anybody starting a vegetable garden without planting a row of radishes. Everybody likes them. But how much snappier they are when fresh pulled in the home garden.

Anybody in the world can grow radishes. Even when they are planted so thickly that none of them ought to do anything a few will crowd their way to edible maturity. The one chief and universal fault in planting radishes is that they will be planted too thickly and because they are such a common obliging vegetable, few gardeners will take the trouble to thin them properly in order to realize a full and high grade crop. There are a great number of radish varieties, varying little in quality. The chief difference is in color and shape and also in season of maturity.

In general the earliest kind are olive shaped, next earliest are globe shaped, and the late varieties are elongated. Also the earlier a variety matures the shorter is its season of crispness before turning pithy. Plant early, medium and late sorts at the same time, to have a succession.

SCIENCE DEFENDS SPINACH MONTREAL. (UP)—Spinach, maligned and berated, praised and promoted by the modern mother now has been vindicated by science. It is rich in Vitamin A, an indispensable aid to growth and development in the growing child, according to McGill University scientists.

When globe radishes grow into an oval shape, the fault is probably not in the seed, but in dry weather, which causes the roots to elongate in search of water.

Nasturtium. It produces bright yellow flowers, which, when half opened, have a fanciful likeness to canary birds. This plant is considered one of the most interesting yellow-flowered vines we have. The flowers are clear in color and fringed. The leaves are delicately cut, five-lobed, and light green in color. It is one of the quickest growing vines and reaches a height of fifteen or twenty feet in a season.

The Cardinal Climber (Ipomea Quamoclit Slouteri) is a very graceful and beautiful vine with fernlike feathery foliage. The flowers are like miniature morning glories usually one to one-and-a-half inches across, cardinal scarlet in color, and produced in great abundance in from five to seven blooms in a single cluster. It is a sun-loving, rapid-growing vine reaching twenty-five feet in a single season.

A FINISH FIGHT

Daily it is becoming more apparent that the battle to halt gigantic public spending and ceaseless deficit financing has begun in earnest. Senator Harrison, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, joined the cause of economy with the remark that "the government's fiscal picture must be carefully scanned, and that doesn't mean next year, but now and . . . not through a colored lens. . . . I am opposed, unless exceptional circumstances arise, to increasing by law the present limit of the national debt. The only way is to begin immediately a radical and substantial cut in government expenditures."

Official estimate of total expenditures for the current fiscal year, is nearly $9,500,000,000—three times the average annual expenditure for the "pre-deficit" years of 1922-1930 inclusive. Forty per cent of this total in the current fiscal year will go for relief and public works.

In answer to the fatuous challenge of "where to start cutting" the National Economy League has outlined in detail a program of budget balancing that the New York Times has termed "an important public service."

Far-sighted individuals in public and private life have dug in for a finish fight on uncontrolled public spending. Whether they win or lose depends entirely upon the degree of public support they receive. If they are permitted to go down in defeat, the most valued possession of every American citizen—liberty—may go down with them.

DESERVING OF GRATITUDE

Those congressmen who are now working—quietly but effectively for the most part—in an effort to find ways and means of cutting costs, deserve the nation's gratitude. For the worst phase of the whole gigantic fiscal problem is the attitude of defeatism that a majority of officials seem to have adopted toward government finance. In effect, they say—"spending will lead to bankruptcy if continued long enough, but we can't stop now. So we'll just have to shove up the deficit a few more billions and take a chance on what happens."

Spending, like a disease, breeds greater spending. When the budget is out of balance $45,000,000,000, another five or ten billion doesn't seem important.

It is argued that a cessation now, even moderate, would be disastrous to business. That's easy to say, and impossible to prove. Certainly investors would be more willing to take a chance if they knew that the bulk of their profits wouldn't be taken by government taxes, if they succeeded. Certainly industry would be more eager to lay plans and go ahead if it knew that taxation wouldn't absorb the greater part of its earnings. It is an historical fact that one of the greatest booms in business in this country followed the greatest slash in federal spending in our history—in 1921, after the war. Who can say that cuts in spending now—and there is no lack of places where cuts can be made—wouldn't have a similar result? In any event, we are approaching the time when either we must reduce our excessive spending or calmly accept inevitable bankruptcy, as have other nations.

THE JOKER IN THE DECK

The people of the Pacific Northwest are beginning to learn, at first hand, some of the "jokers" that are an inescapable part of the public ownership "deck."

A great many of these people have awaited rapturously the completion of the government's two great hydroelectric dams at Bonneville and Grand Coulee. The most rosy promises have been held out for cutting the cost of power to practically nothing. And the fact that these dams and their transmission lines would simply duplicate the facilities of heavy taxed, state regulated private plants which long and well have served the area, was hardly considered.

But—if the government can go into one line of business, to the destruction of private property, it can go into another. And that is exactly what seems to be happening now. A Pennsylvania manufacturer announced plans for building a two-million dollar chemical fertilizer plant at a small town near Bonneville. This would have been by far the largest industry this town or nearby territory had ever seen and residents were jubilant at the prospect.

And then came the joker. It is now proposed that the government build an electro-chemical plant in the same town and a bill to that end has been offered in Congress. The private manufacturer promptly withdrew from the picture, pointing out that he couldn't compete with the United States Treasury.

Industry has shown an almost unanimous shyness at settling in the Northwest. Can it be that private capital realizes that if the government is going to put the utilities out of business, using the weapons of tax subsidy and tax freedom, it won't be long before it goes into other business, to the destruction of private enterprise? The chemical plant is evidence of this danger.

CHARACTER AND HONESTY
(Boston Post)

A question which constantly nettles the average citizen in this day of sweeping international policy is the issue of the war debts.

Some surprising data was revealed in the heat of a furious debate in the Senate, on the appropriation of $100,000,000 for strategic and necessary war materials.

The army wants these materials, which cannot be obtained in this country, for storage against the day that this country may be involved in a war.

Senator Lodge came to the fore with an amendment to give the President power to obtain these materials from our debtors and have the amounts charged up to what they owe us.

It certainly is reasonable to suppose that a nation which is honest about the debts would want

WHAT IS THE NEW DEAL?

We have heard a great deal the last six years about the New Deal. In order to discuss the New Deal intelligently, we must do as Voltaire said, define our terms if we would discourse with each other. And we must define these terms, as Lord Kelvin said, "When you can measure what you are speaking about and express it in numbers, you know something about it. But when you cannot express it in numbers, your knowledge is of meager and unsatisfactory kind."

The trouble with the New Deal and the New Dealers is that they never express their ideas in a manner that can be reduced to numbers, it is always abstract words that can have as many interpretations as there are individuals. The result is that minds cannot meet.

Reducing the meaning of the New Deal to numbers so that people can understand what it means, I would say it was somewhat as follows:

The New Deal means that the government must have more authority and the creative individual less authority.

The New Deal means that no matter what the majority may decide to do, the individual has no rights. If the majority decides to censor the Press or make a law that employers cannot talk frankly to their employees, or any other arbitrary rule that the majority might wish, then these majority opinions must become the law.

The New Deal, in reality, reduced to numbers, means that the individual's ability to create and produce is as of naught, compared with the will of the majority.

The New Deal, in reality, means that we think only of the immediate future and not at all of the morrow.

The New Deal means that we can spend ourselves rich; that we can eat a cake and have it tomorrow.

The New Deal means that if a man adds to the wealth of the world, his tools must be taken from him.

The New Deal means that if a man benefits the slow man more than anybody else in the world, if he does not benefit him as much as the majority thinks he should, he must desist and stop benefiting him.

These are some of the things that the New Deal means, when reduced to numbers so that the minds of people can meet.

Of course, it is not a new deal at all, because these plans and schemes have all been tried many, many times and always have had exactly the same results; namely, destitution, poverty, destruction of character and morale of the people. The New Deal is exactly opposite from what real democracy means; that is, government with the consent of the governed on important things that develop character; and that does not mean the consent of the majority, but it means the consent of all self-supporting people.

We are paying a stupendous price to learn the real meaning of the New Deal.

DARE NOT CUT RELIEF

As long as the government tells a man that he cannot work for less than a given amount, and as long as the government tells a man it will not protect him in the right to work, if some other individual or group thinks he is working for less than he should, just so long will the government have to continue to furnish relief for those people they are depriving of jobs by these methods.

It would seem to be absurd and cruelty of the worst kind, for a government to say to a man, you cannot work unless you get what we think you should get; and, at the same time, tell him we will not support him if he did not get work.

There is no possible chance of government cutting its relief costs as long as they insist that certain individuals have a right to get any amount of wages they collectively believe they are entitled to and prevent others from taking these jobs on a competitive basis. And, of course, as stated above, the government cannot cut relief costs when it prevents a man, by the minimum wage law, from working for what someone is willing and able to pay for what he produces.

These two things go together. If the government, or anybody else, tells a man that he dare not work for less than a certain figure, then by all the laws of logic and justice, he will have to take care of him when he does not have this job.

Until the public realizes that minimum wages and artificial wages mean constantly increasing relief, the government expenditures will continue greater than their income.

But administration forces moved strongly to crush the amendment, so no frantic was the effort that a strong suspicion that some arrangement has been made about debts by the State Department was revealed.

For example, Senator Borah, who is generally on the inside of international questions, made the statement that foreign powers already have agreements with the United States for paying off the debts and that nothing should be done to make further negotiations difficult at the present time.

Senator Norris, a stock opponent of any measure to involve us in war, stood for the amendment. He pointed out that it would direct the attention of the country again to the outrageous swindling that we received in the last war and would probably stand as a reminder of the danger we now face.

Senator Lodge's own words on the subject were able and eloquent, and they find a familiar echo in the feelings of the rank and file American.

His speech included the statement: "There are countries today that eagerly desire the friendship and support of the United States, and that situation might possibly color their views toward a proposition of this kind. We have the example of Finland which did pay its debt, and we have the example of Ireland, which went even further and assumed a debt which, according to a strict legal construction, she did not have to assume, and paid that debt. I mention these instances of character and honesty among nations as something that is refreshing to think about at this time."

Those words, "character and honesty," are big ones in the view of the average citizen in present day affairs.

They did not mean enough to have the United States Senate act favorably on the amendment, but they brought out that we can only judge the future by the past.

If there was no character and honesty in past relations, shall there be such in future relations? America must go slowly today. Slower to follow chimerical ideals and foreign lures.

We're On The Way!

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana pulled his punch in the debate on subsidizing cotton exports. If he had wanted to tell all, he could have accused two leading American firms of opposing the subsidy because of their interest in Brazilian cotton.

The two firms are Anderson, Clayton & Co., of Houston, and McFadden & Co., of Philadelphia. They have played a leading role in the expansion of cotton in Brazil, where production has been stimulated by the importation of $2,750,000 of U.S. cotton ginning machinery in the past five years.

In cotton selling these two firms not only stand high in the U.S. market, but Anderson, Clayton is the second largest and McFadden the third largest exporter of Brazilian cotton.

Application of export subsidies by the United States would appreciably reduce the price of U.S. cotton in the world market, and thus create fresh competition for other exporting countries—and for U.S. traders in those countries.

So operating quietly behind the scenes, Anderson-Clayton and McFadden are exerting powerful pressure to kill the export subsidy.

Ribber
You have to be tough-minded if you are a presidential candidate in Congress.

Though Representative Bruce Barton, dapper New York Republican and Representative Jack Cochran, veteran Missouri Democrat, are good friends, Cochran never passes up a chance to rib his younger colleague about his White House ambitions. Usually Barton takes the joshing good-naturedly, but the other day he blew up.

He was striding through the speaker's lobby outside the house chamber when Cochran, at the other end, spotted him and yelled in a loud, "Oh, Mr. President, just a moment!"

Barton automatically turned around just as everyone in the place looked up and saw him stop.

"How are you, President Barton?" bellowed Cochran again as the crowd tittered. Barton flushed angrily, turned on his heel and snapped, "Oh, shut up!"

Under the Dome
Jack Cable, secretary to Representative Dirksen of Illinois, licks Washington's high rents by living in a trailer in a tourist camp. Total rent: 65 cents a day. . . . Senator Arthur Vandenberg privately is convinced that his Democratic opponent next year will be Attorney General Frank Murphy. Vandenberg was one of the few GOP senators who voted against Murphy's cabinet confirmation. . . . Representative Gene Cox of Georgia is known in house cloakrooms as "the ham actor" because of his habit of posing like Hamlet about to go into a soliloquy. . . . Although a Californian and a member of the appropriations committee, Representative Albert E. Carter neglected to support the army air corps' proposal to establish an aeronautical research laboratory at Sunnyvale, Calif. Carter was asleep at the switch and members from other states put an eye on the project put one over on him.

Ghost Reports
Members of the TVA investigating committee are secretly probing an inside tip that the two minority reports panning the management of the great power project are the work of a pair of utility ghost writers.

They are Paul G. Peters, reported to have written the critical blast signed by Senator James Davis of Pennsylvania and Representative Charles A. Wolverton of New Jersey, and Colonel James E. Cassidy, credited with authoring of the hostile report turned in by Representative Tom Jenkins of Ohio.

Throughout the extended inquiry, Wolverton and Jenkins displayed open bias against TVA, frequently clashing with other committee members. Both Peters and Cassidy are known to have spent considerable time in the offices of Wolverton and Jenkins when the minority reports were being written.

Peters, who worked for the Republican congressional committee during the 1938 campaign, has a long period of anti-TVA activity. He wrote a book and numerous articles assailing TVA, has previously supplied congressional critics with material for hostile speeches. Capitol Hill friends credit him with the boast that he had the keys to six senatorial and congressional offices.

Cassidy is a World war army engineer who once tried to get a job with TVA but was turned down by Dr. Arthur Morgan, ousted chairman, because " . . . we did not know who his real employer was." Morgan gave this explanation to a house committee during an investigation of a leak on a secret general accounting office report on the TVA.

Acting as the representative of Congressman Andrew May, Kentucky member of the committee, Cassidy had obtained a copy of the report and used a mimeograph machine in the office of the Commonwealth & Southern Power Co., bitter TVA foe, to print a press release of denunciatory extracts.

Cassidy hotly denied that he had received utility pay for the job, but as a result an amendment was passed by congress requiring the accounting office to submit all TVA audits to the TVA before making them public.

Gallant Gentleman
Everybody in Washington feels sorry for Spanish Loyalists Ambassador de los Rios, while he, in turn, feels sorry for the squirrel. On the day following the surrender of Madrid, de los Rios came to the state department for a conference. As he left the building he gave no evidence that he was a man without a country.

Walking up West Executive avenue, he stopped to admire a squirrel which had just successfully negotiated the hazardous street crossing between the White House and the state department. He extended his hand to the squirrel and smiled gently as it scurried up a tree to safety.

"Army Nags"
It may be true that "the old gray mare ain't what she used to be"—but not in the U.S. cavalry.

Despite mechanization and motorization, the army now has more and better horses than it had a few years ago. In 1936 there were 21,554 animals in the service; by June, 1939, the number increased to 22,662.

The improvement in quality is result of careful breeding at the army's three remount stations at Fort Royal, Va., Fort Robinson, Nebr., and Fort Reno, Okla. Lieut. Col. T. J. Johnson of the quartermaster corps told a house committee that army veterinarians are developing horses which are establishing endurance records considered "unbelievable" ten years ago.

"The army wants big-bodied horses," Johnson explained, "and that is what we are now getting. A big body makes for stamina and endurance. The time now made by cavalry on maneuvers would not have been possible ten years ago."

Note—An important factor in breeding powerful horses is feeding. Army veterinarians are sent to the University of Kentucky for scientific study in this field.

Knowledge of Circumstances Aids Doctor in Fighting 'Break-downs'

Recently a physician who specializes in mental disturbances described a number of cases typical of the manner in which social stresses in the home may tend to bring about what people commonly call "nervous breakdowns."

For instance, a young woman, married to a laborer, with a baby a few weeks old, suddenly claimed to be married to Satan and to have passed through the Judgment Day. The mental disturbance occurred at a time when she was recovering from severe influenza.

A careful study of her social relationships indicated that she was dissatisfied with her married life, that her husband gave her little opportunity for romance or variety in her living and that she had been simply unable to arouse him to more interest. After the baby came, the family was considerably troubled by interference from the husband's parents.

The combination of circumstances was too much for her at the time when she developed the severe influenza so that her mind "broke down" under the strain.

In this manner a combination of circumstances may work to bring about a serious result. It is conceivable that the young woman might have survived either the neglect, the baby, the interference, or the influenza individually, but the combination was too much for her.

In another instance the father in a home drank to excess. The mother was an excellent housekeeper but not interested in much else because, frankly, she had married principally to get a home.

She endeavored to find a real interest in the growth of her children but simply because she had no other interest, she was over-sensitive to their faults and constantly accused and nagged them. The result was a revolt on the part of her son which manifested itself in extreme slowness and unwillingness to participate in the affairs at school.

Cases of this type show how difficult may be the problem of the physician who is called to see a patient when it is almost impossible for the physician to find out all the details and the intimate factors of the patient's life.

Cases of this type in which the physical and mental may be combined are an example of the necessity for an intimate relationship between doctor and patient as the very basis for the best medical practice.

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to contribute their articles to 300 words.

The Editor:
Mr. Paul C. Phillips' answer to my contribution of March 24 amused me very much, especially where he seems to be concerned about my health. Allow me to assure Mr. Phillips that I feel fine, particularly when I am given an opportunity for a good laugh; and it surely amused me to see Mr. Phillips twist and wiggle words trying to make a point against the present administration, and then fail to do so.

Mr. Phillips' articles were a part of what I had in mind in my previous letter, but surely he doesn't intend to convey the idea that his articles were inspired by such mean motives as were the spitballs of schoolboys? or even so crooked a practice as the spitballs of the baseball world, that were debarrd from decent, clean baseball circles?

I should like to draw Mr. Phillips' attention to the fact that I did not charge the "Professor Know-Alls" with being anti-social, but it seems that he does, because he so named them.

Mr. Phillips likes to assume what objectives I had when writing into the Clearing House? But I can assure Mr. Phillips that, not for one moment would I consider such questions as I ask, to be a "surtax" upon such mental giants to whom they were addressed, and of whom Mr. Phillips assumes himself to be one.

Mr. Phillips can rest assured that I was not troubled with a headache thinking up the questions presented, but right here I am going to make a guess: That it will cause some headaches to produce the proof I ask for.

The next point I wish to take up is the side-stepping of the sentence "Could be sold" in Paragraph VI. How can something be an "opinion" if it is based on the fact of past performances? Now let me help Mr. Phillips out by changing the phrasing to read as follows: "Please name one specific article that has been removed from the marts of trade because of any of the three reasons presented in my first letter." That will put us back into the past and not forward into the future.

In Paragraph VIII Mr. Phillips assumes certain deductions again; i. e.; "That I do not believe that the government has interfered with business." I never said so; I simply asked a question. The end of the paragraph amused me, because it is the first time that I have noticed any doubt creep in to the statement of Mr. Phillips.

The two following paragraphs are taken up with assumptions of what I think with respect to the instances presented as facts but with no proof.

Now I want to deal with the last paragraph of Mr. Phillips' article, anent the pecan processing industry. But before I proceed to his request, to endorse the viewpoint presented by him, I should like to know a few more facts about that specific industry, and some of the facts I wish to know are:

Has the entire pecan processing industry closed its doors?
Is a firm that employs 4,000 persons considered a small firm in that industry?

Has Mr. Phillips any information that there is a shortage of pecans since that firm closed its doors? If not, is there a possibility

YOU AND YOUR

A Colossal "Teapot Dome"

By WALTER E. SPAHR
Professor of Economics, New York University

A bitterly partisan New Dealer recently said that while he would admit that the New Deal was not perfect it at least did not have a Teapot Dome.

The answer to that is that the New Deal not only has in it several Teapot Domes which dwarf the original one, but, in their entirety, comprise a Teapot Dome of such appalling dimensions that the public finds it difficult to comprehend their scope and startling significance.

On March 6, Representative Robison of Kentucky, in a remarkably able and informing address in Congress, addressed himself to one aspect of this colossal Teapot Dome. Mr. Robison said:

"If the present session of Congress appropriates no more than President Roosevelt has called for in his Budget and other messages, an additional $10,000,000,000 will be appropriated, so that for the 7 years of the Roosevelt Administration there will have been appropriated and turned over to his administration more than $67,000,000,000. This is an enormous sum of money. We cannot appreciate how much it is. It is a sum greater than was appropriated by all the Congresses under 26 other Presidents from March 4, 1789, under George Washington, down to the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918—more than 129 years. With that vast sum of money the 26 Presidents paid off the debt of the Revolution, fought the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, the World War, and all of our Indian wars. We bought the Louisiana Territory, Florida, the Gadsden Purchase, Alaska, the Philippine Islands, and Puerto Rico. We dug the Panama Canal; spent billions of dollars improving our rivers, harbors, and highways; built a great marine fleet; and paid the veterans and their widows and orphans their pensions; and carried on all the activities of the government."

"These records reveal that many leading New Dealers and the speculators reaped enormous profits in silver transactions as a result of their dictation of the monetary policies and their intimate contacts in Washington."

"Correspondence shows that two ex-international bankers proposed the New Deal monetary acts adopted by the Senate in 1933. They were engaged in selling an advisory service to speculators and were involved in direct silver speculations. . . ."

"The vast implications of this scandal never will be known unless there is an exhaustive Senate inquiry, with the power of subpoena and access to records otherwise inaccessible. . . ."

Mr. Manly named names, and gave amounts—enough to guide adequately any competent investigating Committee. As time passes, the difficulties of a thorough investigation will increase. Some of the speculators are dead. Tracing involved in brokerage accounts will grow increasingly difficult each year. But it can be done if an independent Senate Committee will push the fearful Silver bill of the lid, and dig into this sorry piece of business.

SERIAL STORY

BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

THE cold, forbidding aspect of the gray stone police headquarters in El Paso, Texas, suddenly was intensified by contrast as trim Betty Mary Jordan walked in.

Technically, Betty Mary was an efficiency expert from Washington, sent out with an official reprimand for Inspectors Starr and Kildare of the U. S. Border Patrol. She didn't look it. She was a dainty person whose left dimple flashed at the slightest provocation. Her hair was the color of brass. Her eyes china-blue. They, and her height, suggested that Betty Mary ought to be somewhere skipping rope or, at most, preparing for a junior prom.

Nevertheless, her lips were set in what she fully believed was a firm, purposeful line. She was still stinging a little from the challenge thrown at her by big Sheridan Lanford Starr, and echoed—at least by a nod—from his close friend and fellow officer, Hope Kildare. She was also trembling a little, inwardly, at her own temerity in accepting their challenge.

"If you think Luis Barro is so easy to catch," Sherry Starr had rumbled, indignantly, "then—then—why don't you help catch him yourself? You're an efficiency expert. At least Washington said they were sending one out!"

He had blurted it much as a college boy would blurt something at a co-ed with whom he was quarreling. And Miss Jordan had answered in kind.

"All right, maybe I will!" she had snapped. "Efficiency is simply getting a hard job done promptly. You two men have been trying for a year. And Luis Barro is still called the Smuggler King of the Mexican Border. Only a few nights ago he sent over a dozen aliens and a shipment of narcotics, while you hid peacefully in the flags 10 miles down the river!"

"We had a false tip!" Hope put in, pleadingly, watching her blue eyes.

"It's your business to get accurate information before acting," she declared. "Isn't it, now?"

One word had led to another. Talk, talk, talk; details, details. When Officers Kildare and Starr had dutifully reported their failure again to capture Luis Barro, worst of all border smugglers, an extremely busy department chief in Washington had sent his efficient secretary out for a first-hand report. (She had carried out more than one assignment like this!) And the officers had dared her to demonstrate her efficiency!

They had dared her impulsively, as boys would, hence they were alarmed when she accepted. There had been a new prisoner in the city jail, named Salazar, in whose pockets had been some cocaine wrapped much like Luis Barro wrapped his. Was he Luis Barro's man?

SHE had left Messrs. Starr and Kildare looking as dejected as normally happy young officers could possibly look. She would go see the prisoner Salazar herself. Any lead—any kind of lead whatsoever—might be the one tip which would result in capture of Luis Barro! "You must use brains, gentlemen, as well as brawn, in combating criminals! We are not afraid of Luis Barro! I—I will go see this Salazar myself, since you dare me to do something!"

She had talked much more than good judgment dictated, she realized now, but she had to go on. She hesitated just a moment outside the gray police station, then went boldly in.

They had dared her impulsively, and Betty Mary, pointing across the border to Mexico and the defiance of its No. 1 smuggler, accepted the challenge.

"Sure, you can see him!" the police chief told her when she had presented her credentials. "Anything the federal boys want. You on the Border Patrol now, miss?"

"Just briefly, and unofficially," Betty Mary dimpled at him, and that was true enough. "I don't want him to see me."

Salazar sat for 10 minutes with two detectives in an inner office. They questioned him in Spanish but learned nothing, while Betty Mary peeked at him unobserved. She noted every minute detail, mentally photographing him.

Next she asked the jailer to show her the man's personal effects—knife, gun, coins, handkerchief, packaged narcotics, all the things found in his clothing.

"What would he be doing with a cartridge like this?" she asked, casually thumbing it. "This doesn't fit his gun. This cartridge is a .22 long rifle."

"Dunno," said the jailer. "Found one like it on another Mexican arrested last month. And some peon boys had one in their pockets. Rabbit hunters, I guess."

"Interesting," murmured Betty Mary, and stared at the thing a long time. It was dirty, and greasy, but seemingly unimpressive.

She conferred then with the police chief again, in private. He told her a great many things. The chief was a man of 60 with daughters of his own. He even showed her photos of his grandchildren, discussing them proudly. When she left he had agreed to a detailed plan. In the alley back of her hotel at 3 a. m. "Exactly, ma'am; call on me for anything, miss." She thanked him and went away.

MEANWHILE, Inspectors Starr and Kildare of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service—young teammates in the service who had chosen this most fascinating (but dangerous) work for their careers—were anything but comfortable. After Betty Mary left them they talked earnestly in a welter of mutual sympathy, then left the conference room to stride down the street, friends side by side as they had been since high school days. Gloom enveloped them because Luis Barro had indeed brought a peculiar genius sense expected from a young man in his privileged position.

I know that there are young men and women who take the attitude that is expressed by the absurd statement, "I didn't ask to be born so I have the right to be supported. I don't owe my parents anything." If by owing parents anything this mistaken young person means money, I agree. Parents don't feel that their children owe them the money they spent in rearing them. What parents want of their children is a far different thing. It is the expression of affection that they hoped would spring from their affectionate care and devotion to their children in the years of their growing. That is something every child owes his parents, and his expression of that feeling is his great privilege. He cannot forget the rights as his parents forgot their rights during the long years of their service to him.

Young people, who exercise their privilege of showing their affection to their parents, get more fun out of it than even their parents do. I have seen the great content that shone in a young man's face when he wrote a check for his father and mother at the beginning of each month. As his salary rose their check increased. That gave him more pleasure even than his success. It made his success.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to think of mother and father getting that little bit of extra money every month. I remember that dad wore his old overcoat year in year out while I got a new one for school and college. And how mother made the 'old one do,' again and again so that I might have something extra. Now it just warms my heart to think of their pleasure at my little remembrance of them. Many a time when I was tired enough to give up struggling for the higher place the thought of their devotion to me kept me going." Rights don't matter, boy. Count the privileges.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, April 6.—A program meeting of the Costa Mesa Chamber of Commerce and Improvement Association will be held May 1 in accordance with a recent change in meeting dates made by the group.

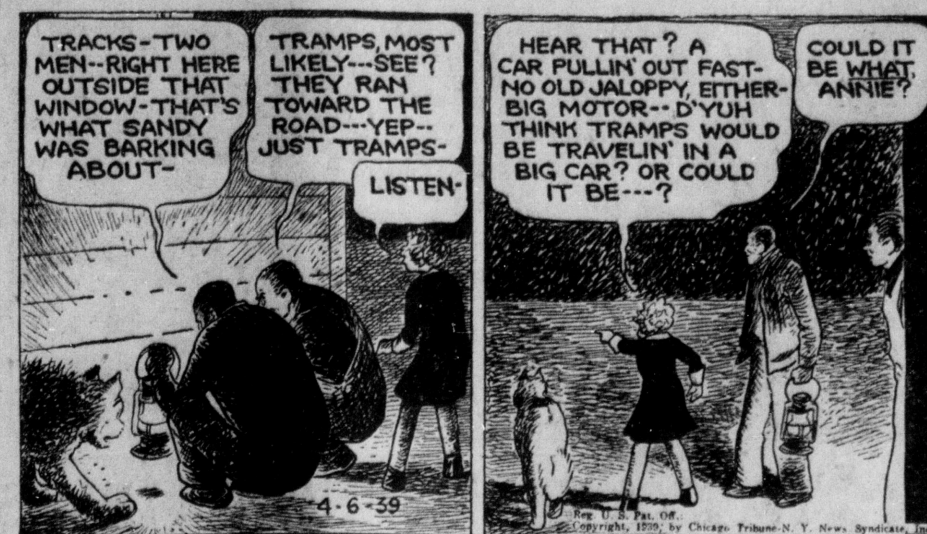

Mrs. Minnie Reid, president of the Costa Mesa W. C. T. U., reports a contemplated visit within the month of Miss Vivia Meiser of Pacific Palisades for the purpose of organizing two youth's Temperance Councils in Costa Mesa.

An interesting wood display, the craft work of F. E. Davidson of 1930 Westminster avenue is on display in the office of a Costa Mesa paper.

Mrs. Ed Bennett has received word of the recent death of her aunt, Mrs. L. O. Bostwick of Glendale. Mrs. Bostwick was a resident of this community when the Rev. Bostwick served as pastor of the Costa Mesa Community church from 1916 to 1921.

W. H. Crocker is to open the "Laurel Inn" at 17th street and Orange avenue at an early date. Mrs. James A. Pearce has received word of the serious illness of her brother, Lieutenant Commander J. T. Warren of San Diego.

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES

Whenever a young person writes in to ask if he has not the right to do this and that, I feel like reminding him that he has no rights in the family circle, but many privileges. Rights are something that savor of the law and I dislike the thought of law as a deciding factor in any family situation. All children, and all parents, too, have a right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, but anything beyond that comes, to my way of thinking, under the head of privileges.

For example, a young man, in his senior year in college, asks if he hasn't the right to a fixed allowance, and the right to spend it as he pleases. His father supplies him with an allowance, but he insists that none of it be used for certain pleasures the young man thinks his right, and threatens to reduce the allowance if any of it is used for those ends. Son asks if he has no rights here.

I vote that he has none. His father has dealt with him in the spirit of fatherly kindness. He reared him from infancy, gave him a good home, sheltered, clothed, fed and protected him, with the aid and comfort of his wife, the boy's mother. He sent him to college, paid his bills there, and supplied him with funds for ordinary expenses. Now the boy thinks that he ought to be free to use the money his father supplies him for ordinary expenses for extraordinary pleasures that his father believes hurtful to him. The boy does not seem to me to be exercising the good

If Car Hits Dog, Property Damage Charge Likely

A dog is "property" under the law and it is the duty of every motorist to stop in case of an accident where any property damage results, according to Capt. H. C. Meehan of the California highway patrol today. "If a motorist should run over a dog's tail, that is property damage, according to the law, and the motorist must stop at the scene," he said.

The explanation was made at request of a citizen. "A friend of mine whose car struck a small dog, and who kept going because the dog got up and ran away, has been threatened with arrest for hit-run driving," the citizen stated. "Can such an arrest be made?" "Such an arrest could be possible," the captain said.

Pay Penalties

Another question with the officer's answer follows: "My uncle brought his car from Iowa last November and now wants to license it in California. Now he is told he must pay penalties for failure to apply for a license before February 4. He was not sure of remaining here until a few weeks ago. Is that fair treatment?"

"You uncle could have avoided penalties if he had secured a 1939 non-resident visitor's permit. In the absence of that, and as it is assumed he used the car since January 1 and his Iowa license had expired before he applied for a California license, penalties are due."

Spinach Run In Full Swing

FULLERTON, April 6. — Val Vita food products cannery on North Brookhurst road in Fullerton, which opened the first spinach run March 27, has settled down to a steady run, it was indicated today after a week in which rains in the north had made supplies irregular.

There are now approximately 180 women employed on the spinach run who are expected to have steady employment throughout the summer and fall months.

From present indications, it was said the spinach run will last until the first of the fruit season when apricot canning will begin. Tomatoes and peaches will follow the apricots and the peak of production at the plant will come during the combined tomato and peach pack which will be in progress at the same time.

PLAN FIGHT ON TREE DISEASES

Four experimental plots to test the effect of iron citrate injections in the treatment of chlorosis, a nutritional deficiency disease of citrus and other trees, have been established in Orange county, it was announced today by Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor.

Location of Plots

The plots are situated on the W. B. Lockett orchard, Villa Park, on eucalyptus and avocados; H. B. Chandler orchard, Anaheim, on Valencia; Joe Zimmer orchard, Brookhurst avenue, on Valencia; and at the Robert Goetz orchard, Garden Grove, Valencia.

Symptoms of the disease, says

Farm Advisor Wahlberg, are recognized by a distinct yellowing of the foliage even following an ample fertilizer program of the common plant food constituents. Analysis of affected leaves indicate a distinct deficiency of the iron element in the plant tissue. Injection of iron citrate into the trunk or large limbs is being tried to determine local results.

POSTPONE MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, April 6. — The meeting of the Alamitos Brotherhood has been postponed from this week until Tuesday on account of the regular meeting date coming on Good Friday. Following the 6:30 o'clock supper in the Alamitos Friends church the group will visit the Bowers Memorial museum in Santa Ana. They will be conducted on a tour of the museum and hear the special lecture.

Plans Special Easter Musical

Special Easter music has been arranged for both the morning service and an Easter vesper service in the afternoon at the First Baptist church.

The adult choir appears in the vesper service at 5 p. m. with outstanding anthems, trios and solos, and cutting from the Passion Play, by Mrs. Edwin Miller. The latter part of the program will be composed of selections from the Easter section of Handel's Messiah.

Adult and junior choirs will sing at the morning service under direction of Mary Batten Steffen, with Edith Gilbert Warren at the organ.

Scouts Meet With Leader

GARDEN GROVE, April 6. — First class scout members of Garden Grove Boy Scout troop No. 35 with their leader, Harry Gilbreath, left Tuesday on a 30-mile hike over Saddleback mountain coming out at Glen Ivy, Thursday evening. In the party were Bob Broady, Vernon Rez, Charles Everett, Jimmy Guptill, and Lloyd Joines.

The Rev. Albert Stuart, assistant leader, and Ralph Broady accompanied a number of tenderfoot and second class scouts of the same troop on a hike above Irvine Park Tuesday. Boys making the trip were Kenneth Holt, Bob Long, Douglas Bell, Rollo West Jr., Dewey Stimpson, Sterling Columbia, Walter Leachman and Masaharu Ushida.
